The material contained in the Anderson University Undergraduate College Catalog is for information only and does not constitute a contract between the student and the university. The catalog provides an overview of course offerings and content. It is not the official list of offerings for any given term. Students should consult the course schedule for the specific term(s) for which they wish to register. The university and its various units reserve the right to revise, amend, alter, and change from time to time its policies, rules, regulations, and financial charges, including those related to admission, instruction, and graduation, without notice to students. The university reserves the right to withdraw curricula and specific courses, alter course content, change the calendar, and withdraw or change programs and majors offered by the university without notice to students.

Anderson University maintains compliance with applicable Federal and State statutes related to private institutions of higher education including the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), as amended; the Student Right to Know Act, as amended; and the Solomon Amendment. In compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and 1991, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 as amended, the university does not discriminate in its educational programs or admissions procedures. Anderson University is a not-for-profit exempt organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The following individuals have been designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies: Director of Human Resources, 1100 E. Fifth St., Anderson, IN 46012, telephone (765) 641-4133, and Director of Disability Services for Students, 1100 E. Fifth St., Anderson, IN 46012, telephone (765) 641-4223.

Letter from the President

This is where your college experience begins. Before you move onto the Anderson University campus, you plan a course for your first academic year. You sit down with one of our faculty advisors, and you start your story.

My own Anderson University story started in the 1970s. I came with a single focus — myself. What happened during the next four years transformed my life. My vision broadened as I aligned the focus of my life with God’s expectations for me: To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with God (Micah 6:8).

Each academic program offered in this catalog was designed by a remarkable group of faculty who bring exceptional skills and knowledge to the classroom. Each course is a building block that fulfills our mission to educate students for lives of faith and service to the church and society. By choosing a liberal arts institution, you see value in developing not only as a professional but also as a person. Our faculty and staff are committed to mentoring you and sharing in those experiences with you as well, beginning friendships that will last long past graduation.

The Anderson University community is based on the core values of integrity, excellence, servant leadership, responsibility, and generosity, and we hope you will be able to sense that in every aspect of your life at AU. I encourage you as you begin your Anderson University journey to be open to the possibilities God has for expressing those values in your life. And know that we are blessed to be part of your story.

John S. Pistole, BA ’78
President

General Information

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

Anderson University was founded and is supported by the Church of God, with headquarters in Anderson, Ind. Founded in 1917, the school was a major step in the life of a young and vigorous fellowship of Christians originating about 1880. This fellowship, which took on a common New Testament name, often describes itself as a reformation movement. Its vision was to preach and live out a message of holiness and to invite believers into a body united by a common experience in the saving grace of Jesus Christ.

The message of the church was firmly planted in the mainstream of Christian theology. The quest of this young movement was freedom from what it saw as artificial limitations of church structures and authoritative systems so that the essence of Christian truth might be realized again in freshness and wholeness. The spirit of the movement was one of freedom and joy proclaimed in one early song of the church, “The Bible is our rule of faith and Christ alone is Lord.” Out of this history, a free and open tradition has provided a supportive context for the contemporary mission of Christian higher education.

The early witness of the church was through the publishing of inspirational material, songs, books, and a paper known as the Gospel Trumpet. Those who were committed to the publishing work and to the evangelistic work of the church recognized the need to train leaders and workers to take their places in the life of the church. An educational department of the publishing house was started and soon became known as the Anderson Bible Training School. The young school moved rapidly to develop a wider general education program, changed its name to Anderson College and Theological Seminary, then Anderson College, and finally, Anderson University.

Anderson University has grown to comprise an undergraduate liberal arts program organized into six schools, a graduate School of Theology, and a Department of Adult Studies within an Office of Graduate Administration and Adult Studies. The university offers several graduate degree programs, including the Doctor of Business Administration (D.B.A.), Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.), Master of Music Education (M.M.E.), Master of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.), and a dual Master of Science in Nursing – Master of Business Administration (M.S.N. – M.B.A.) degree.

More than 2,800 students and nearly 300 instructional and professional staff make up the academic community. The university is governed by a board of trustees ratified by the General Assembly of the Church of God, administered by a president and other officers, and staffed by individuals dedicated to the mission of Christian higher education. The motivating vision is to be a premier teaching university that is Christian in purpose, in relationships, in service, and in the hopeful potential held for the students, teachers, and staff members who make up this university.

THE MISSION

The mission of Anderson University is to educate for a life of faith and service in the church and society.

LIVING THE MISSION

Established and sustained within the free and open traditions of the Church of God, this university is committed to being a teaching-learning community of the highest order, engaged in the pursuit of truth from a Christian faith perspective.

Through academic and Christian discovery, we intend to graduate people with a global perspective who are competent, caring, creative, generous individuals of character and potential.

We offer quality programs that enable each member of the university to become stronger in body, mind, and spirit; to experience what it means to love God and neighbor; and to adopt Christ-like servant ways in all of life. Approved by the Anderson University Board of Trustees in 2007.

THE ASPIRATIONS, PERSPECTIVES, AND CONVICTIONS THAT INFORM OUR MISSION

As a church-related comprehensive institution of higher learning, Anderson University exists to assist students in their quest not only for relevant knowledge, meaningful relationships, and useful skills, but also for maturity in self-understanding, personal values, and religious faith. Its curricular design and community life seek to unite the objectivity and rigor of academic inquiry with a sense of perspective and mission emerging from biblical revelation. Charles Wesley's concern is crucial: "Unite the pair so long disjointed — knowledge and vital piety."

Anderson University seeks to highlight the freedom of the mind through inquiry, to emphasize the importance of individual worth and personal faith, and to foster the achievement of true community through shared experience and commitment as modeled in Jesus Christ, the servant. Specifically, Anderson University seeks to provide a superior education. As an institution centered in the liberal arts, Anderson University is dedicated to cultivating in each individual an awareness of the physical world, a sense of history, an appreciation of culture, spiritual maturity, a global perspective, social conscience, and an interest in the worth of ideas regardless of their immediate utility.

In addition, the university seeks to prepare thoughtful Christian leaders who are able to enter and compete successfully in graduate schools or the professional fields of their choice. Professional preparation and the liberal arts are not held as antithetical. To the contrary, the aspiration is to bring together the liberal arts, professional preparation, and biblical faith and understanding.

The university community has a faith perspective and is prepared to raise the questions of truth, value, meaning, and morality. It is not hampered by anti-religious bias, nor does it wish to be guilty of unexamined religious conformity. It lives in an atmosphere of free inquiry, even while it affirms that all knowledge is understood most fully in the light of God's redemptive activity in Jesus Christ as that is interpreted through the historic witness of the Bible and the contemporary ministry of the Holy Spirit.

ACCREDITATIONS AND RELATIONSHIPS

Anderson University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission, North Central Association; website address www.ncahigherlearningcommission.org; phone (312) 263-0456. The School of Theology also is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, 10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburgh, PA, 15275-1103; phone (412) 788-6505.

In addition, professional and program accreditation has been granted by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, the Council on Collegiate Nursing Education, the National Association of Schools of Music, the Council on Social Work Education, Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education, and the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs.

Anderson University also holds membership in the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the Council of Independent Colleges, the American Association of University Women, the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, the Institute of International and Intercultural Studies, Independent Colleges of Indiana, Indiana Conference on Higher Education, Indiana Campus Compact, and Indiana Consortium for International Programs. It cooperates actively with Chicago Center and the Christian Center for Urban Studies of Chicago, Ill. It cooperates with Purdue University in offering specialized programs in applied technology fields.

Anderson University students come from a wide variety of backgrounds and geographic locations. The university is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students. International students enrich the community with their own points of view and culture. Consequently, students find themselves immersed in a cosmopolitan environment alive with opportunities for learning. It is expected that students will be accepted on their own merits, without respect to wealth, position, sex, or color.

The university urges students to maintain high academic standards. Careful attention has been given to bringing together a faculty of academic, experiential, and personal competence. Scholastic standards are maintained with the expectation that students will discipline themselves to achieve their best work.

In welcoming students of all nationalities, races, and faiths, Anderson University aspires to treat each student as an individual. All student services — orientation, counseling, housing, testing, activities, student financial assistance, employment, TRI-S, health, placement, and religious life — are closely coordinated in an attempt to deal with each individual as a “whole person.” A significant objective is to increase the student’s self-insight and self-discovery and to assist in the intellectual, social, aspirational, and spiritual development of the student.

Academic Programs

EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY

Through the centuries, “higher” education has attempted to lead the learner toward growth and fulfillment in ways consistent with the assumptions and demands of the times. Standard components of this process evolved and became known as the “liberal arts.” These categories of learning were thought to be freeing and empowering, thus enabling maturity and responsibility in a person’s thoughts, values, and actions.

In modern times, such liberal arts studies continue to have fundamental importance even though their content and design have continued to evolve as societal assumptions and demands have changed. Anderson University stands in this long tradition. It has designed for all its students a curricular pattern that includes standard components considered essential for meaningful and effective living in the 21st century.

As a Church of God academic institution, Anderson University is committed to the goals and ideals of liberal education as understood through a Christian faith perspective. The requirements for undergraduate degrees have been established with these commitments in view. The university’s conception of liberally educated people involves the freeing and empowering of the total person — his or her spiritual, intellectual, aesthetic, emotional, and physical resources.

Liberal Arts Program

Anderson University has structured its Liberal Arts Core Curriculum to develop students' skills, insight, and appreciation in six Foundational Skills and six Ways of Knowing. (40-43 Hours).

FOUNDATIONAL SKILLS

THE FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE

REQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

Courses designed to help students adjust to AU's academic community oriented around the institutions core values and to develop students' intellectual virtues which are necessary for their academic and spiritual growth.

LART 1050 + LART 1100

WRITTEN COMMUNICATION

REQUIREMENT: 6 HOURS

Courses designed for students to develop their writing and research skills.

Two required courses in this category + two writing intensive courses.

SPEAKING AND LISTENING

REQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

Courses where students develop their oral communication skills.

COMM 1000 + one speaking intensive course.

QUANTITATIVE REASONING

REQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

Courses that pertain to the art of problem solving, by means of critical thinking, logic, and quantitative methods.

One required course in this category.

BIBLICAL LITERACY

REQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

This course is designed to accomplish two goals: (1) to foster the student's development of a critically-based knowledge of the content of the Bible, and (2) to assist students in becoming fluent in the interpretation of Scripture.

BIBL 2000

PERSONAL WELLNESS

REQUIREMENT: 2 HOURS

These courses and experiences examine the relationships of physical activity, leisure, diet, and health and fitness to total personal development.

One required course in this category.

WAYS OF KNOWING

CHRISTIAN WAYS OF KNOWING

REQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

Included in the Anderson University community is a faith perspective that is prepared to raise questions of truth, value, meaning, and morality. Therefore, we foster an atmosphere of free inquiry, consistent with the sponsoring church's tradition that prizes hospitality as a Christian virtue. These courses explore the role of religion in human experience.

One required course in this category

SCIENTIFIC WAYS OF KNOWING

REQUIREMENT: 4 HOURS

These courses present students with a way of understanding the natural laws that govern the behavior of the material world, focusing on knowledge that is quantifiable and accessible using human senses and human reason.

One required course in this category.

CIVIC WAYS OF KNOWINGREQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

Courses in this area present students with a way of understanding the world drawn from the study of the philosophical and political developments that have led to modern notions of responsible citizenship.

One required course in this category.

AESTHETIC WAYS OF KNOWINGREQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

These courses present students with a way of understanding the deepest levels of human experience as expressed in communication arts, dance, literature, music, and theater from diverse cultures and time periods.

One 3 credit course or a 2 credit appreciation course + 1 credit experiential course

SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL WAYS OF KNOWINGREQUIREMENT: 3 HOURS

These courses present students with ways of understanding human behavior in either individual or social contexts. Emphasis is placed on the application of a scientific perspective to explaining human conduct, including related theoretical views and the development of empirical knowledge through research.

One required course in this category.

GLOBAL AND INTERCULTURAL WAYS OF KNOWINGREQUIREMENT: 7 HOURS

The combination of these courses presents students with ways of understanding human diversity through the development of intercultural perspectives.

One foreign language course (4) based on departmental placement plus one global/intercultural or additional foreign language course (3).

EXPERIENTIAL WAYS OF KNOWINGREQUIREMENT: BUILT INTO THE MAJOR

The Anderson University values experiential learning and requires every major to provide significant experiential learning opportunities for their students. These experiences must intentionally connect academic theory, hands on practice, and student reflection with a significant academic component.

One experiential competency that can be fulfilled by a course, internship, practicum, capstone, clinical, or approved activity.

Because of the immediate usefulness of writing, oral communication, and mathematics, students should endeavor to complete the Use of the English Language and Mathematics components during the first college year. Students must enroll in the appropriate writing skills courses every consecutive semester until they have met the writing-skills requirement. Students must complete the Use of the English Language Writing requirement no later than the term in which 87 semester hours are completed. Students who fail to meet this requirement on schedule will be barred from Anderson University for at least one semester. The first-year-experience seminar (LART 1050) and the liberal arts seminar (LART 1100) must be taken within the first 24 hours at Anderson University. Students must continue to take LART 1050 and LART 1100 as offered until the requirement is met. In addition, students should endeavor to complete the Foreign Language component during the first college year. If necessary, however, the Foreign Language component may be completed after the first year, preferably no later than the second year.

Courses applicable to the content areas are approved annually and published in a document called "Courses Applied to the Liberal Arts Curriculum for the Academic Year." Students may apply a course to a given content area if the course is taken in the year in which it is listed in the document for that academic year. The approved list for each year is available at <http://www.anderson.edu/registrar/liberal-arts.html> or may be obtained in person in the Registrar's Office.

The phrase “upper-division course” means a course numbered 3000 or above. These courses are designed primarily for upper-division students and may assume some prior introductory understandings.

For details on how Honors Program (HNRS) courses apply to the liberal arts curriculum, see the Honors “Courses of Instruction” section of this catalog.

Liberal arts program requirements are defined in terms of courses to be taken at Anderson University. If post-secondary courses taken before enrolling in Anderson University do not qualify under normal procedures, students who feel they have fulfilled liberal arts requirements may request that these courses be accepted. Students who, because of prior experience or background, find a particular requirement redundant or inappropriate may request an alternate way of satisfying that requirement. All such requests should be submitted to the Registrar’s Office.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Faculty at Anderson University have approved learning outcomes that must be addressed in courses that are approved for inclusion in the liberal arts requirements. These learning outcomes are as follows:

- Critical reasoning/thinking — Opportunities will be provided to develop intellectual curiosity, independence of thought, and an ability to formulate and test positions on major questions.
- Communication — Opportunities will be provided for students to speak and write both within their major fields of study and more general areas with clarity and precision. The experiences will develop an ability to listen and respond effectively to the expression of ideas by others, and they will have the technological and bibliographic skills needed for the development of defensible positions.
- Cross-disciplinary view — Opportunities will be provided for students to develop a variety of perspectives on major issues, events, and questions.
- Christian commitments and practices — Opportunities will be provided for students to explore the relationship between Christian commitments and practices and personal and global questions and issues. They will be encouraged to explore their obligation for service in personal and professional areas of life and have a sensitivity to their relationship to God, the church, and society.
- Preparation for service — Opportunities will be provided for students to develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions required in graduate or professional education or when seeking a job. We consciously bring together the liberal arts, professional preparation, and biblical faith and understanding to assist students to serve in diverse local, national, and global societies.

As an institution committed to Christian service, Anderson University strives through its curricula and informal activities to achieve student development in these areas, providing the breadth and depth necessary for the fullest preparation for life.

The liberal arts program requirements are defined in terms of courses to be taken at Anderson University. The most current list of approved courses is available online at <http://www.anderson.edu/registrar/liberal-arts.html>, and may also be obtained in person in the registrar’s office.

If post-secondary courses taken before enrolling in Anderson University do not qualify under normal procedures, students who feel they have fulfilled liberal arts requirements may request that these courses be accepted. For more information, contact the office of the university registrar.

INSTITUTIONAL ASSESSMENT

In its efforts to improve the quality of instruction at Anderson University and meet the requirements of the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association, the university has elected to engage in outcome-based assessment activities. These endeavors occur at the institutional level addressing the liberal arts curriculum and the departmental level evaluating the outcomes of the major. Data generated from these assessment activities are analyzed and recommendations developed to improve the educational activities of the university. In order to accomplish these aims, students are invited and expected to participate in assessment activities at both the institutional and departmental levels.

Admissions Information

ADMISSIONS PROCESS

- All application materials are available on the web at www.anderson.edu/admissions. Forms may be completed on our website or downloaded and printed for completion offline.
- The application fee is waived when completed online. Paper applications must be returned to the Office of Admissions with the required fee.
- An information form must be completed by the applicant's high school guidance counselor and returned to Anderson University, along with an official high school transcript and test scores.
- Because the university is concerned with students' spiritual development, we ask that one reference come from a pastor, youth leader, Sunday school teacher, or someone else who can speak of the applicant's spiritual development.
- Instructions to complete the online room reservation form are included in the acceptance packet mailed once an applicant is offered admission. To retain a reservation on the residence hall list, the non-refundable $100 enrollment deposit must be paid by May 1 for Semester I, and by Dec. 1 for Semester II. For more information, see the Student Life Policies section in this catalog.
- Take a college entrance examination and request that the scores be sent to Anderson University. The SAT of the College Entrance Examinations Board or the ACT of the American College Testing Program are acceptable. Code numbers used on scores to be sent to Anderson University are #1016 for the SAT and #1174 for the ACT. It is recommended that the tests be taken during Semester II of the junior year or early in the senior year. These tests are given at specified locations throughout the world. Detailed information and registration forms for the test may be secured from high school principals, guidance counselors, or the College Entrance Examination Board.
- The Report of Health History form must be returned to the Office of Student Health Services no later than Aug. 1 for Semester I, and Jan. 1 for Semester II. Instructions to download and print the form will be mailed to the applicant after acceptance, or earlier if requested.
- Applicants will receive periodic updates detailing any information still needed to complete the application.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Anderson University welcomes applications from transfer students. The same credentials are required as for freshmen applicants with the following exceptions:

- The admissions committee decides whether transfer students must submit SAT or ACT scores.
- The admissions committee reserves the right to place students transferring with GPAs below 2.00 on academic probation with a limit of 12 hours per semester for one semester or until a 2.00 GPA is achieved.
- Students must submit transcripts from all colleges attended.

For information regarding transfer of credit earned from another institution, see the Academic Policies section in this catalog.

READMISSION

Students planning to return to Anderson University after an absence must complete a readmission form, which can be obtained online at www.anderson.edu/admissions.

Transcripts of all college work taken since the last date of registration at Anderson University must be submitted. All students applying for readmission must be approved by the provost, the dean of students, and the Business Office before final readmission can be granted.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Anderson University is registered with and authorized by the Department of Homeland Security, through the Code of Federal Regulations, to issue Form I-20 A-B/I-20ID authorizing the full-time enrollment of F-1 (visa) students who are citizens of other countries.

The cultural richness and variety of experiences brought to Anderson University by international students is well regarded and welcome.

Following written application and submission of required materials, applicants are individually considered for academic eligibility. Application and verification of English proficiency, financial resources, and scholarly qualification must be on file before May 30 for Semester I admission.

Anderson University has no intensive English language program and cannot admit students who do not meet minimum English standards.

Applicants seeking financial aid will receive committee review only when academic eligibility based on submitted application materials has been granted.

Competitive scholarships for academic excellence require university acceptance by December of the year preceding enrollment. Financial assistance based on economic need is limited, awarded annually, and should have an early spring acceptance.

International students should expect to experience academic, spiritual, and social growth in a campus community of faith where mutual respect and Christian service are emphasized.

DISABILITY SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

Anderson University offers learning-support services for all students who qualify under the ADA/Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. To secure support services, students must notify the appropriate institutional representative of the disability, provide current documentation of the disability and request the specific accommodations needed. Certain accommodations may require advance notice to the director of disability services for students.

Documentation/evaluations must be completed by an appropriately trained professional and provide information about the current impact of the disability. Documentation/evaluations should also include recommendations for appropriate accommodations. The institution must be given reasonable opportunity to evaluate requests. Accommodations/modifications are considered based on individual need.

Accommodations/modifications may be denied in cases that cause an undue burden to the institution or that fundamentally alter the nature of the program. Students requesting academic adjustments or learning support services should contact Teresa Coplin, director of disability services for students, Kissinger Learning Center, Anderson University, Anderson, IN 46012, (765) 641-4223.

FEES

All students have the benefit of a “scholarship” since they do not pay the full cost of their education. The Church of God, alumni, businesses, industries, foundations, and private donors contribute substantially to underwrite the education cost of each student attending Anderson University.

The following charges are for the 2015-16 academic year. Costs for the 2016-17 academic year will be announced when finalized.

The 2015-16 basic budget per semester is:

Tuition	$ 13,760
Room	2,995
Food Service Plan	1,695
Fees	45
Total	$18,495

This budget provides admission as a full-time student enrolled for 12-18 hours. Students are also responsible for field trip costs. Room rent is based on two people per room in most regular university residence halls. Residential freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are required to purchase a food service plan.

The university food service plan offers students various dining options around campus, including the Marketplace (main cafeteria), Raven’s Haven (Chick-fil-A and 2.mato, an Italian bistro), Raven Xpress (grab and go), and Create (snack bar). Menu selection and hours of service vary to accommodate students’ needs and schedules.

Besides these basic costs, students should budget $2,500-$3,000 each semester for books, additional meals, and incidental expenses. Rates stated above are subject to change.

Although all tuition, room, and board charges are due and can be paid at the beginning of each semester, a monthly payment plan is available. Information regarding the payment plan is sent to all new and returning students. Payment plan information is available in the Office of Student Financial Services.

REFUND POLICIES

Registration constitutes a contractual agreement between the university and the student. Students withdrawing from all classes after classes have begun or reducing the number of hours carried may be entitled to a reduction in charges for tuition, room rent, and meal ticket. Reductions for withdrawals or schedule revisions occurring on or before the end of:

- first week of classes — 90 percent reduction
- second week of classes — 80 percent reduction
- third week of classes — 60 percent reduction
- fourth week of classes — 40 percent reduction
- fifth week of classes — 20 percent reduction
- sixth week of classes — no reduction

Adjustments are based upon the date of official withdrawal. Official withdrawal from all classes must be completed by an interview with the dean of students. The official date of withdrawal will be the date that contact is made. In extenuating circumstances, students may initiate complete withdrawal from all classes by telephone or letter to the dean of students. The official withdrawal date should be the date such contact is received by the dean of students.

Reductions are based on charges made to students and not the amount paid on the students' accounts. There is no reduction of any charges for students who have been dismissed or suspended for disciplinary reasons. Proportional adjustments may be made for summer sessions and those classes where the start dates are not part of the standard term dates.

Questions concerning the policy for complete withdrawal should be directed to the dean of students. Questions of adjustment for reducing the number of hours should be directed to the Registrar's Office.

FINANCIAL AID

Anderson University seeks to provide financial counseling and assistance to all students desiring such services. A number of aids and resources are available to the university to assist the varied financial needs of Anderson University students.

Most aid at Anderson University is based on financial need. Financial need can be defined as the difference between the cost of education and the anticipated financial contribution from the family toward college costs. Anderson University believes the basic responsibility of educational financing rests with students and their families.

Financial aid is offered to Anderson University students through a combination of aid programs available from federal, state, and local sources. This combination of sources is referred to as a financial aid package. The financial aid package is generally offered with two components of aid: non-repayable assistance (grants or scholarships) and self-help assistance (student loans and employment).

To be considered for need-based financial assistance, students must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Financial aid is awarded annually; March 1 is the preferred date for receiving the FAFSA. Aid requests are considered after March 1 and throughout the school year from the available funds remaining after the preference date.

Occasionally, students may find it necessary to vary their enrollment status (i.e., changing from full-time student to part-time). Because eligibility to the financial aid programs is related directly to enrollment status, students should consult with the Office of Student Financial Services to learn what effect, if any, their contemplated change of enrollment will have on their financial aid.

Additional policies and procedures are published annually in the Financial Aid Handbook, available from the Office of Student Financial Services or on the web at www.anderson.edu/ufnaid.

VETERANS BENEFITS

Anderson University attempts to make a good-faith effort to comply with Executive Order 13607: establishing Principles of Excellence for educational institutions serving service members, veterans, spouses and other family members. These principles were established to strengthen oversight, enforcement, and accountability of education programs, and to ensure all service members, veterans, and their families have the necessary information they need to make informed decisions concerning their educational goals.

Anderson University complies with regulations of the State of Indiana Department of Veterans Affairs, Veterans Educational Unit, including approval of the university calendar, tuition and fees schedule, and the academic policies of the university. The university is authorized to enroll recipients of Veterans Administration benefits in regularly scheduled credit courses leading to standard college degrees.

Inquiries concerning eligibility should be directed to the Veterans Administration office in the veteran's home area. Individuals planning to study under one of the education chapters should receive approval before enrolling. More information is available online at www.anderson.edu/registrar/Veterans-Benefits.html.

Academic Degrees

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The undergraduate division of Anderson University offers the Bachelor of Arts degree, the Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, the Bachelor of Music degree, and the Bachelor of Science, to students completing a prescribed four-year course of study, and the Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degree to students completing a prescribed two-year course of study.

While the university makes every effort to assist students through the academic advising system, the final responsibility for meeting all academic and graduation requirements rests with each student. The catalog under which the student enters and/or graduates serves as the official record of admission, academic, and graduation requirements.

To earn Anderson University degrees, students must be in residence at the university for the last 24 hours applicable to the degree. Under some circumstances, and with special permission, a maximum of 6 hours of the final 24 hours may be taken elsewhere. If the coursework taken at another institution falls within the last 24 hours, a petition to take hours out-of-residence must accompany the request to take courses elsewhere. Contact the office of the university registrar for information.

ASSOCIATE'S DEGREE

- Complete 60-70 hours, as specified in the departmental concentration listing. Distribution of a portion of these hours must be in the liberal arts program as specified by the program department.

- Departmental concentration of specific courses in an area of study.
- Achieve a minimum GPA of 2.00.
- Achieve a minimum GPA of 2.00 for all courses specified in the area of concentration.
- All full-time students must attend chapel-convocation each semester in residence.
- Meet residence requirements, listed elsewhere.

It is the responsibility of the student to plan for and complete graduation requirements. Students with questions should consult with the appropriate academic advisor, the office of the university registrar, or the dean of the appropriate college.

ASSOCIATE'S DEGREE AS A SECOND DEGREE

A student already holding a degree from another institution may earn an associate's degree from Anderson University under the following guidelines:

- Adequate work must be done at Anderson University to provide a satisfactory basis for evaluating student performance.
- Adherence to the general associate's degree requirements as stated in the catalog.
- All requirements for the specific associate's degree must be met.
- Completion of a minimum of 18 hours, all of which must be earned at Anderson University.
- No more than 6 hours of a previous degree may be used in building the associate's degree concentration.
- If elective hours are needed to complete the minimum, they should be supportive of the area of concentration.

Individuals holding an Associate of Arts degree from Anderson University may not earn a second Associate of Arts degree. Students desiring to pursue an additional concentration should consult with the office of the university registrar.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE

- Complete 120 hours.
- Achieve a minimum GPA of 2.00 (out of 4.00).
- Complete requirements of all components in the liberal arts program (see the Liberal Arts Program section in this catalog).
- Declare a major, as specified in the departmental listing, with a minimum GPA of 2.00 for all courses applied to the major.
- All full-time students must attend chapel-convocation each semester in residence.
- Meet residence requirements (see the Academic Policies section in this catalog).

It is the responsibility of the student to plan for and complete graduation requirements. Students with questions should confer with the appropriate academic advisor, the office of the university registrar, or the dean of the appropriate college.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE AS A SECOND DEGREE

Students already holding bachelor's degrees from other institutions may earn the Bachelor of Arts degree, the Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, the Bachelor of Music degree, or the Bachelor of Science degree from Anderson University by completing a minimum of 30 additional hours. All graduation requirements must be met. A different major must be chosen from the major earned in the previous degree; not more than 12 hours from the previous degree may be used in building the new major. A projected program for the Anderson University degree should be planned by the student and advisor and approved by the university registrar no later than the third week of the semester in which the work is begun.

Students holding a baccalaureate degree from Anderson University may pursue a second baccalaureate degree by completing the requirements listed above. Students holding the Bachelor of Arts degree from Anderson University may not earn a second Bachelor of Arts degree, but they may earn additional majors after graduation. Students holding other Anderson University baccalaureate degrees may earn additional majors after graduation, but must complete all liberal arts requirements that normally accompany the new major. Students desiring to pursue additional majors and/or minors should consult the office of the university registrar.

TWO DEGREES CONCURRENTLY

Students who wish to earn any two degrees (B.A., B.M., B.S.E., B.S.N., or B.S.) concurrently must accumulate 30 semester hours of credit beyond the 120 credit hours required for the first degree. In addition, they must fulfill the liberal arts requirements for both degrees and the requirements for the major in each degree program.

Attendance Policies

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

To earn a degree from Anderson University, students must be in residence at the university for the last 24 hours applicable to the degree. Under some circumstances, and with special permission, a maximum of six hours of the final 24 hours may be taken elsewhere. Contact the office of the university registrar for information.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Effective learning in a university requires the active involvement of both students and faculty. Students are expected to attend all classes unless prevented by extenuating circumstances. Inasmuch as students are responsible for the learning that may develop from both in-class and out-of-class experiences, they should anticipate absences for good cause (such as varsity athletic trips, field trips, music, drama, and debate trips) and advise their instructors of such absences as far in advance as possible.

Any absence from a class results in a loss of learning for the student. It is the student's obligation to personally notify the individual course instructor(s) about any absence, in advance if possible. Students may be directly penalized only after the number of absences exceeds the number of class meeting hours per week. Where a student misses more than the number of classes stated above, the course instructor has the discretion to allow for the completion of missed work and to determine how such work will be evaluated, including possible penalties.

ACADEMIC LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Anderson University offers undergraduate students who are in good standing, as defined by AU's academic policy, and who are not subject to disciplinary action the opportunity to request an academic leave of absence.

Leave of Absence Policy — The Leave of Absence Policy applies to students who are pursuing a degree from Anderson University but leave the university for a semester to participate in a study abroad program, internship, or practicum which is not done with an AU matriculation. The leave of absence also applies to students who, due to circumstances beyond their control such as the need to care for ill parents, the onset of a personal illness or military training, must suspend their enrollment in classes for a semester. A leave of absence is typically granted for one semester but can, depending upon the specific circumstance, be granted for a full academic year if the student intends to return to Anderson University for the completion of a degree. To qualify, students must be in good academic and financial standing and must complete the required application forms.

The academic records of students granted an academic leave of absence remain in an active status. While on academic leave of absence, the student retains the right to use some campus facilities such as the AU library, student counseling services, and career services.

Due to Visa restrictions, international students may not be eligible for academic leave. For more information, please see the university registrar.

CHAPEL-CONVOCATION

Chapel-convocation meets every Tuesday and Thursday. It is an important setting in which the student body gathers regularly for worship, enrichment, and community-building. Speakers include campus personalities and guests from across the nation. Students participate in music and worship leadership. Because of its unusual significance to campus life, attendance is required of all full-time students.

Catalog Policies

PROGRAM AND POLICY CHANGES

The schedule of classes for each academic year is published the preceding February. Both the master schedule of classes and this catalog are regarded as official statements of anticipated course offerings. The university reserves the right to change courses or cancel any course for which enrollment is less than six students or for which satisfactory arrangements cannot be made.

In addition to courses listed in the catalog, departments may offer special seminars or other courses, as the need arises, under the numbers 1600, 2600, 3600, and 4600.

COURSE NUMBERING SYSTEM

1000/2000-Level Courses

In general, courses in the 1000 or 2000 series count toward the liberal arts requirements and are to be taken during the freshman or sophomore years. Some courses in the 2000 series are first-level courses applicable to a given major or specialization.

Upper-Division (3000/4000-Level) Courses

Courses listed in the 3000 and 4000 series are considered upper-division courses and are primarily intended for juniors and seniors. However, freshmen or sophomores in good standing may be allowed to take upper-division courses if they have met the prerequisites and have the approval of their advisors.

COURSE CAPTIONS

Each course in the catalog is listed under a particular caption, a four-character code that identifies the discipline or field of study to which the course is related. Courses offered by the university are listed under caption headings in the sponsoring department's or program's section in this catalog (see Courses of Instruction).

Designation of hours — classroom and lab

The designation "3 hrs. (3, 2)" after a course title means that this three-credit-hour course meets in a standard classroom setting three hours weekly and two additional hours weekly in a laboratory setting.

Schedule and Registration Policies

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The primary purpose of academic advising is to aid students in their pursuit of meaningful educational programs which will aid them in identifying and fulfilling their goals, including career considerations. Ultimately, it is each student's responsibility to plan for and meet all graduation requirements. Advising assists students in:

- understanding the university's commitment to the effective development of body, mind, and spirit in the context of the liberal arts;
- understanding the university's support services available to them;
- understanding the university's policies and procedures;
- making decisions based on available information; and
- examining their progress toward the realization of their goals.

Furthermore, advising assists the institution in program and policy development or modification by providing information gained from the advisor/student relationship. Thus, the institutional goals for academic advising are to assist students in:

- effective development of body, mind, and spirit;
- incorporation of the liberal arts in life planning;
- clarification of life goals;
- development of suitable educational plans;
- selection of appropriate courses and/or educational experiences;
- evaluation of progress toward established goals;
- use of university support services;
- development of decision-making skills;
- reinforcement of student self-direction; and
- re-evaluation of life goals and educational plans.

Following admission to the university, students may register by coming to the campus to receive personal assistance in curriculum orientation and scheduling and registration of courses. This advising process assists students in immediate as well as long-range course planning and approves their class schedules for each semester or term.

Faculty mentors serve as advisors after students matriculate and until they declare a major, after which faculty in the declared department will be their advisor.

Advisors assist students in choosing required courses of study and planning their class schedules. Although students are directly responsible for meeting graduation and other requirements, they are urged to consult frequently with their advisors concerning the best procedures and sequences in registration.

Students should work with their advisors in monitoring their progress toward their degrees. If students' grades are low in any grading period, they are urged to consult with their advisors relative to proper remedial steps.

ACADEMIC LOAD

A full-time academic load is 12-18 hours. Upon approval from their school dean, students with records of above average academic performance may register at additional cost for additional hours. Summer school terms, international opportunity, or transfer work may not be used to establish a semester GPA.

The number of hours taken each semester is dependent upon a student's GPA.

- Students with 3.25 GPA may register for 19 hours.
- Students with 3.50 GPA may register for 20 hours.
- Students with 3.75 GPA may register for 21 hours.

These guidelines also apply to students who have earned 52 or more hours, and whose cumulative GPAs at the time of registration meet the stated standards. The factors of previous academic achievement, type of courses to be taken, and demands of employment must also be recognized.

COURSE REPETITION POLICY

Students may repeat courses for which they received a C- or lower by simply re-enrolling in the same institutional courses. If students wish to repeat courses for which the departmental captions or numbers have changed, they must petition the university registrar. Furthermore, students may repeat courses for which they received a C or above by petitioning the dean of the college in which each course is offered to grant an exception. The following rules apply in all cases:

- Students may repeat any given course a total of only two times during their academic careers.
- A withdrawal (W, WF or AW) grade counts as an attempt, but it does not change the previous grade.
- All previous grades received will remain on students' academic records.
- Only the most recent grade received will be used in calculating GPA.
- Credit hours earned toward graduation will be counted for only the most recent course taken.

This policy does not apply to Anderson University credit by examination or transfer credit. The course repetition policy does not apply to courses taken at other colleges or universities and transferred to Anderson University.

AUDITING A COURSE

As a means of enrichment to the student, Anderson University recognizes the following ways of auditing a course:

- I. Occasional class visitation: A student may wish to visit a class to hear a lecture and/or a discussion on a given topic. The instructor's consent is the only necessary requirement.
- II. Auditing one course without fee: Any student registered for 12-18 hours who has a satisfactory academic record may wish to attend an additional class on an Informal Audit or Recorded Audit basis.
 - A. Informal Audit: Infrequent attendance of a class with no course obligation. Although formal registration is not required, the student must have the written consent of the instructor. Permission forms are available in the Registrar's Office. No record is made of the audit on the student's permanent record card.
 - B. Recorded Audit: Regular attendance with normal course obligations for the purpose of having the audit recorded on the student's permanent record card. In this situation, the student should follow these procedures:
 1. Register as an audit using the Schedule of Classes form or Change of Schedule form, signed by the advisor.
 2. Adhere to attendance regulations.
 3. Complete sufficient work of "C-" quality or better in order to have the audit recorded.
 4. Changes of schedules to or from an audit must be done no later than the end of the 5th week of the semester.

The course will be recorded on the student's permanent record card as an audit if the above conditions are met and the student does satisfactory work in the course. If the above conditions are not met, the instructor will notify the Registrar's Office and no record of the audit will be made.

- III. Auditing with payment of fee: A student who does not meet the specific requirements as outlined above may, upon payment of the per semester hour audit fee, audit a course as outlined under "A" or "B" of item II above.

As a means of enrichment for students, opportunities for auditing courses related to their vocational pursuits or special interests are provided. Students may audit a course with payment of an audit fee. Students may change their registration to or from audit through the end of the fifth week of the semester.

READING COURSES

Reading courses allow students to do coursework without having to attend scheduled class sessions. A student wishing to complete a reading course should meet with the professor to discuss course expectations as articulated in a course syllabus. Work is then done independently, preferably with scheduled assignments due throughout the specified time frame. Reading courses are available only for classes that are appropriate for this type of study.

Normally, reading courses should be taken only in the summer. Reading courses will follow the institution's withdrawal and refund policies. Refunds will be based upon the official beginning and withdrawal dates, and then only when contact is made with the director of summer school.

To be eligible for reading courses, a student must have a cumulative GPA of 2.50 or higher. For courses not listed in the Schedule of Classes, the instructor, the chair of the department in which the course is lodged, and the director of summer school must sign reading course petitions.

For any further questions regarding summer reading courses, contact the director of summer school.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

The office of the university registrar will evaluate and determine the applicability of all college credits to be transferred from other institutions. Students who transfer a substantial number of hours from other institutions are required to complete at least 50 percent of their majors, minors, or professional fields at Anderson University. This will afford the university the necessary student contact for graduation approval and for institutional recommendation.

Generally, credit is accepted without condition for courses with a grade of C- or above from traditional institutions holding regional accreditation. Students should consult with the office of the university registrar concerning policy on acceptance of credit from non-traditional institutions and institutions not holding regional accreditation.

GPA is figured only on work completed at Anderson University. Grades for courses from other institutions do not transfer in.

All students with citizenship in a country other than the United States who wish to transfer credit to Anderson University are required to pay a $190 transfer evaluation fee (subject to change).

Transfer courses may be considered applicable to the liberal arts requirement for advanced writing competency (writing intensive) if either the transcript indicates that the course was counted toward the other institution's advanced writing requirements which meet or exceed Anderson University requirements (see advanced writing competency/writing intensive requirements in the Liberal Arts Program section in this catalog), or the student can produce a syllabus that clearly shows how the course satisfies Anderson University requirements. Sixty-four maximum transfer credits is granted for all coursework with a grade of "C-" or better completed at a regionally accredited college or university.

ASSOCIATES OF ARTS AND SCIENCE DEGREE TRANSFER POLICY

Students who have earned an Associate in Arts (A.A.) or Associate of Science (A.S.) degree from a regionally accredited college or university will be deemed to have automatically fulfilled the Core Curriculum (except Bible/Religion courses, Speaking & Writing Intensives, and Experiential) requirements for a baccalaureate degree. This policy only applies to students who enter AU in fall 2015 or later. For more information contact the office of the university registrar.

Transferring in an AA/AS does not absolve a student from meeting the stated prerequisite requirements of AU majors or minors.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT — CURRENT STUDENTS

Students currently enrolled at Anderson University must obtain permission from the university registrar to take courses elsewhere if they intend to transfer that coursework to Anderson University. Courses need to be taken at a regionally accredited college or university on the semester system.

Before completing the request form, a schedule of classes from the other institution should be consulted to verify the availability of desired courses. A catalog description from the other institution is required to determine the applicability of the intended coursework toward the liberal arts or specialization requirements. Students who have a declared major need departmental approval as well as approval from the university registrar.

A final grade of C- or above must be earned. No credit points will be recorded for transfer credit since semester and cumulative GPAs are figured on Anderson University work only. Grades for courses from other institutions do not transfer in. The Anderson University Course Repetition Policy requires that the same institutional course be repeated to adjust the GPA; therefore, the repetition policy does not apply to transfer credit.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent study allows students to do individual work on projects or topics of special interest to them under the supervision of faculty members but is not included in the regular catalog offerings. Topics are chosen in consultation with faculty members and are usually topics in students' major fields of study. To be eligible, students must qualify under one of the following:

- Upper-Division: Juniors or seniors with cumulative GPAs of 3.00 or higher who have completed 12 hours in the subject area (if the independent study is in the major). Department chair's and instructor's permission required.
- Lower-Division: Students with cumulative GPAs of 3.00 or higher or whose background is determined to be adequate by the department chair and instructor in the field of study. Department chair's and instructor's permission required.

Transfer students may pursue independent study if they qualify under either of the above.

Transfer students may pursue independent study if they qualify under either of the above.

Students may schedule a maximum of 8 hours of independent study applicable to a major, 4 hours to a minor, and no more than 4 hours in a given semester.

INSTITUTIONAL EXAM

Anderson University recognizes the need for student advancement according to ability and achievement. Therefore, students who are competent in a given subject by reason of their particular background or experience outside the university classroom may choose to receive credit by institutional examination. Examinations are to be taken prior to enrollment in the next level course. Not all courses, however, are appropriate for credit by institutional examination.

Results from Anderson University institutional examinations, the Advanced Placement Program of the College Board, and a limited number of hours or courses from the College-Level Examination Program of the College Entrance Examination Board are considered for purposes of advanced standing or advanced placement.

Students must earn a grade of C- or above in the Anderson University institutional examinations to receive credit for the courses. Satisfactory-unsatisfactory (S-U) grading option is available as well as regular letter grades. Graduating seniors must have examination results on file in the office of the university registrar by April 1 of their graduation year.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT

Advanced placement and/or credit may be earned through placement examination for a maximum of 30 credits. The four examinations Anderson University recognizes are the Advanced Placement Program (AP) of the College Board, the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), the Cambridge International Examinations (GCE A level), and the International Baccalaureate Program, subject to approval by the department.

Credit received by examination is tuition-free and applies toward the requirements for graduation. For more information, consult the university website at www.anderson.edu/registrar/TransferCreditPolicy.html for the most current and updated information.

HONORS STUDY

Honors study at Anderson University varies by department. In general, such study may take the form of advanced placement, institutional credit by examination, special sections in some courses, certain reading courses, tutorials, seminars, and individual study.

In some instances honors study begins at the freshman and sophomore levels, particularly advanced placement and special sections. Seminars and individual study are usually implemented at the junior and senior levels. Special reading courses and tutorials may be taken at either level.

At any level, the primary purpose of honors study is not acceleration but enrichment in both scope and depth. Students considering honors study should consult their advisors or the university registrar.

For more information on honors study at Anderson University, see the Honors Program section under Courses of Instruction in this catalog.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Official withdrawal from all courses must be completed by interview with the dean of students. The official date of withdrawal will be the date the contact is made. In extenuating circumstances, students may initiate complete withdrawal from all courses by phone or letter to the dean of students. The official withdrawal date should be the date such contact is received by the dean of students.

Students desiring to drop courses may do so through their assigned academic advisors. Students are required to present the office of the university registrar with change-of-schedule forms noting the changes and their advisors' signatures.

Questions concerning the policy for complete withdrawal should be directed to the dean of students. Questions regarding adjustment for reducing the number of hours should be directed to the Office of the University Registrar.

UNIVERSITY-INITIATED WITHDRAWAL

The university has the authority to withdraw a student from the university and to revoke that student's registration at any time during the academic year. There are two types of university-initiated withdrawals, Withdrawn Failing and Administrative.

The faculty assigns "WF" at any time before the tenth week of the semester or by the dean of students whenever it is deemed appropriate. It is assigned either when a student has stopped attending classes without officially withdrawing or when a student is withdrawn for disciplinary reasons. For purposes of grade point average calculation "WF" is equivalent to "F."

A grade of AW is recorded for Administrative Withdrawals. It is assigned by the administration or the dean of students when circumstances do not warrant a failing grade or whenever it is deemed appropriate. The grade of AW is not computed in the student's grade point average and therefore involves no academic penalty. The Registrar must authorize the recording of this grade.

TRANSCRIPTS

Students wanting transcripts of their university work must present a written request to the university registrar, giving at least one week's notice. A fee of $3 is to be included with the request. All financial obligations to the university must be arranged to the satisfaction of the business office before transcripts will be released. Transcripts may be ordered online at www.anderson.edu/registrar/transcript.html.

Academic Policies

ACADEMIC STANDING

To be in good academic standing, students must maintain the following standards:

Hours Earned	GPA
1-29	1.6
30-59	1.8
60 or more	2.0

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students may be dropped from the university at any time when excessive class absences or academic performance indicates inability or unwillingness to achieve normal progress toward a degree. Typically, however, students not in good academic standing are placed on academic probation for a maximum of two consecutive semesters.

In general students on academic probation may not participate in any extracurricular activities. The provost or the vice president for student life has the final authority over the conditions placed upon students on academic probation.

All students on academic probation are expected to develop and sign an academic support contract with the director of educational support services before attending classes. The academic support contract may include, but is not limited to, such items as study assistance, limits on work commitments, housing, course load, and class attendance.

Students not achieving acceptable standards are barred from returning to Anderson University for a period of at least one semester. Students, who are readmitted, after having been barred once, are expected to attain a 2.00 current GPA in their next 12 hours and must continue to achieve or make substantial progress toward the stated minimal standards in order to continue. If they are barred again, it will be for at least two years. Any subsequent readmission will be regarded as a final opportunity to continue studies at Anderson University.

The provost may request the barring appeals committee to review and make recommendations regarding cases when necessary. Extenuating circumstances may justify the continuation of students whose cumulative grade point average falls below the stated standards.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Class identification at Anderson University is determined as follows:

- Freshmen: Students who have completed fewer than 24 hours of college credit.
- Sophomores: Students who have completed 24-51 hours of college credit.
- Juniors: Students who have completed 52-87 hours of college credit.
- Seniors: Students who have completed 88 or more hours of college credit.
- Lower-Division Students: Freshmen and sophomores.
- Upper-Division Students: Juniors and seniors.
- Part time: Students carrying 1-11 hours.
- Special: Audit, guest students, and high school students.
- Children or adults who are taking music lessons but are not doing academic work at the university level.

DEAN'S LIST

Full-time students (enrolled in 12 or more hours) who earn semester GPAs of 3.50 to 3.99 qualify for the Dean's List. Full-time students who earn perfect 4.00 semester GPAs qualify for the Dean's List with the additional honor of "Special Distinction."

GRADES, HOURS, AND CREDIT POINTS

An “hour” is coursework equivalent to one class hour per week for a semester. A “credit point” is a measure of the quality of work performed. Credit points are figured only on work completed at Anderson University.

Grade reports are issued by the Office of the University Registrar in the following terms:

A, A-	Achievement of superior quality in course objectives.
B+, B, B-	Achievement of excellent quality in course objectives.
C+, C, C-	Achievement of average or somewhat above average quality in course objectives.
D+, D	Basically unsatisfactory achievement but of sufficient quality to meet minimal requirements.
F	Clearly unsatisfactory or below minimal achievement of course objectives.
I	Incomplete. Allows completion of delayed work by written agreement between instructor and student. Must be filed with the university registrar before grades are processed; becomes F at the end of the fifth week of the following semester if not completed.
IP	In progress.
NR	Faculty did not record a grade.
W	Withdrew.
WF	Withdrawn failing.
AW	Administrative Withdrawal.
S	Work completed at C- level or above.
U	Work completed at D+ level or below.
CR	Work completed at a satisfactory level.
NC	Work completed at an unsatisfactory level.

Students may withdraw from courses during the first five weeks without having notation on their transcripts; they may withdraw with a recorded W after the fifth week but no later than the end of the tenth week. Students may change their registration to or from S/U during the first five weeks of the semester. No withdrawals or changes in registration are permitted after the tenth week.

Credit points per hour:

A = 4.00
A- = 3.67
B+ = 3.33
B = 3.00
B- = 2.67
C+ = 2.33
C = 2.00
C- = 1.67
D+ = 1.33
D = 1.00

No credit points are given for courses bearing grades of CR, NC, S, U, F, I, W, WF or AW. The credit point index is the ratio of the number of credit points earned to the number of hours attempted (excluding CR, NC, S, U, and W). No credit points are issued for transfer courses.

Mid-semester grades are available to all students online. Final semester grades are based on the work of the entire semester, which includes examinations and evaluations throughout the course.

GRADE APPEAL

Students believing there is adequate reason for grade reconsideration should consult the instructor who taught the course. If the question about the grade is not satisfactorily resolved, students should consult the appropriate college dean regarding procedures for further consideration. This procedure must be initiated by students no later than 30 days after grades have been issued.

CREDIT/NON-CREDIT GRADING

Some courses are offered only as credit, non-credit. As such, they appear in the master schedule of classes with a CR/NC registration. The hours taken are credited toward graduation but will not be considered in determining the grade point average.

SATISFACTORY/UNSATISFACTORY GRADING

In addition to registering for courses on a regular-grade basis, students also have the option of registering on a satisfactory-unsatisfactory (S/U) basis.

The S/U option seeks to facilitate intellectual exploration in search of a major, in support of a major, or in pursuit of a personal interest; to offer the flexibility of a grading process which most appropriately relates to the objectives of a particular course; and to provide an opportunity, without grade point consideration, for students to assess their own interests and abilities. This encourages greater communication between students and faculty concerning the meaning of evaluation. Conditions for taking classes satisfactory-unsatisfactory are:

- Choosing the S/U option is always at the student's discretion.
- S/U options are limited to 12 hours for the student's entire college career and a maximum of 4 hours taken S/U in any one semester.
- No liberal arts courses taken to meet liberal arts requirements may be taken S/U.
- No courses in the academic major or minor or teacher certification programs may be taken S/U once the major or minor or program has been declared.
- If a student subsequently elects to major in a discipline in which a course had been graded satisfactory, that course, but no other such courses, may be counted in the major or minor.
- S signifies a grade of C- or better, and U a grade lower than C-.
- Courses taken on the S/U basis will not be considered in determining GPA.

Students should consult their advisors or the chair of the department in which they major regarding the desirability of taking courses S/U. The end of the fifth week is the last day for making a change in registration to or from S/U.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

Grade point average (GPA) is computed by dividing the total number of credit points accumulated in courses for which a grade of A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, F, or WF has been assigned by the total number of hours attempted in those courses. Courses for which a grade of IP, S, U, CR, NC, W, AW or NR has been assigned are not included in computing the GPA.

When the course is repeated, only the hours and credit points for the latest grade assigned for that course is counted in the total hours attempted and total credit points.

The following example shows how semester GPA and cumulative GPA are calculated:

Course	Hours Attempted	Grade	Credit Points
ENGL 1110	3	C	6.00
SOCI 2010	3	B	9.00
BIOL 2210	4	A-	14.68
PSYC 2000	3	D	3.00
HIST 2030	3	F	0.00
Semester Total	16		32.68
Previous Semesters	27		74.00
Cumulative Total	43		106.68
Semester Credit Points	32.68	Cumulative Credit Points	106.68
Hours Attempted	÷ 16	Hours Attempted	÷ 43
Semester GPA	= 2.04	Cumulative GPA	= 2.48

Truncate (Don't Round) the GPA: a 2.999 GPA is still a 2.99, NOT a 3.00.

Graduation Policies

GRADUATION PROCEDURES

Application for graduation should be made in the spring preceding the senior year. Applications must be on file in the office of the university registrar by the following designated deadlines to allow sufficient time for processing:

- Last Friday in April for December and May graduates
- First Monday in October for August graduates

A student's catalog expires 10 years after matriculation. If a catalog has expired, the requirements of the graduation catalog must be met. In matters of course standards, prerequisites, eligibility to continue, and other academic policies, students are subject to the regulations and procedures of the current academic year.

To graduate, students must be in good standing with the university and must have financial arrangements satisfactorily made with the business office. All incomplete grades must be removed, all institutional examination results recorded, and transfer credits from other institutions must be in the office of the university registrar by April 1 of the graduation year. The university reserves the right to remove students from participation in commencement based on academic deficiencies and/or disciplinary actions as defined by the dean of students at any time. Petitions to graduate in absentia must be filed with the university registrar at least three weeks prior to commencement.

GRADUATION HONORS

Students earning cumulative GPAs of 3.70 or above will graduate cum laude; 3.80 and above, magna cum laude; and 3.90 and above, summa cum laude. Such honors are open only to students who have earned the qualifying GPA with a minimum of 60 hours at Anderson University.

Students also may earn honors in the departments in which they do their major work. A student must attain a 3.00 GPA in all courses, a 3.50 GPA in all courses taken in a department, and must fulfill the specific departmental requirements. Annually, each department may have at least one student receiving departmental honors; the maximum number receiving honors is approximately 10 percent of the graduates in the department. Departmental and institutional honors are open only to students pursuing bachelor's degrees and are awarded after all work for the degree is completed.

Student Life Policies

The Department of Student Life at Anderson University annually publishes a Student Handbook. The handbook is designed as a student's guide to campus policies and procedures. It also serves as a resource to connect students to faculty and staff working to help them succeed. A few of the policies included in the Student Handbook are:

- Chapel Attendance
- Residence Life
- Housing
- Judicial Code

There is also information available in the handbook related to:

- Financial Aid
- Student Services
- Police and Security Services

For a full list of Student Life policies, procedures and resources please review the student handbook published online at www.anderson.edu/sites/default/files/migrate/studentlife/handbook.pdf.

Academic Organization

The academic programs of Anderson University are grouped into seven schools and an Office of Graduate Administration and Adult Studies:

- Falls School of Business
- School of Education
- School of Humanities — Communication, Design, & Studio Arts, English, History/Political Science, Modern Foreign Language, Religious Studies, Liberal Arts
- School of Music, Theatre, and Dance
- School of Nursing, Kinesiology, and Behavioral Science — Kinesiology, Nursing, Psychology, Sociology/Social Work, Criminal Justice, Family Science
- School of Science and Engineering — Biology, Computer Science, Mathematics, Physical Sciences & Engineering
- School of Theology
- Office of Graduate Administration and Adult Studies — Adult Studies

Each college or school has its own dean who is its chief operational officer in regard to all programs and personnel of that college or school.

MAJORS AND MINORS

Majors provide the opportunity to take a grouping of courses, usually concentrated in one department, for purposes of specialization or professional certification. In addition to the major, a minor or cognate of 15-18 hours may be selected but is not required.

Students are responsible for planning and completing the requirements of their majors, minors, and cognates. A GPA of at least 2.00 is required for all courses applied to the major or area of concentration.

Students completing two or more majors may present no more than 15 hours common to those majors. To be awarded a major, students must complete at least 50 percent of all coursework in residence at Anderson University.

DECLARATION OF MAJOR AND MINOR

Students need to file a declaration of major and minor or cognate with the office of the university registrar. For planning the proper sequence of courses, students should declare the major as soon as possible.

This application and the procedures involved in its approval afford students an opportunity for evaluation of their objectives in college and life. Students formally state their proposed majors, minors, and/or professional or pre-professional programs and confer with the major advisor of the department or program concerning requirements. This procedure constitutes students' official declarations of majors or minors.

To change majors or minors, students must file the appropriate form in the office of the university registrar at the earliest possible date.

ADMISSION TO PARTICULAR MAJORS

Admission to Anderson University does not automatically include admission to specialized programs within the university, such as athletic training, business, education, music, nursing, and social work. The criteria for admission and acceptance to specialized programs are determined by the faculty of those programs. Information regarding application deadlines and admissions criteria may be obtained from the departments offering the programs to which students wish to apply.

MAJORS

A major is a concentration of related courses designed to provide individual depth within a discipline or a recognized field of study. It is a grouping of 26-54 hours with a minimum of 26 hours from the host department and a maximum of 36 hours from a single discipline or recognized field of study.

If the major does not exceed 36 hours, up to 4 hours of liberal arts credit may count toward the major. If the major has 37-44 hours, up to 8 hours of liberal arts credit may count toward the major with no more than 4 hours from the host department. If the major exceeds 44 hours, liberal arts credit not to exceed 20 percent of the required hours for the major may count toward the major.

Unless otherwise noted, all majors lead to the Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree. Majors include:

- Accounting
- Athletic Training
- Bible and Religion
- Biblical Studies
- Biochemistry
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Christian Ministries
- Church Music
- Cinema and Media Arts
- Computational Physics
- Computer Science
- Computer Science — Math

COMPLEMENTARY MAJORS

A complementary major is a group of related courses (26-54 hours) that must be taken with one of the majors listed in the preceding section. A complementary major is intended to enhance a primary major and may not stand alone to fulfill graduation requirements. Complementary majors may not be coupled with other complementary majors to fulfill graduation requirements.

Complementary majors include:

- Business Administration
- Business-Information Systems
- Christian Ministries

- Computer Science
- Dance
- Global Studies
- Intercultural Studies
- Journalism
- Psychology
- Spanish
- Speech Communication
- Writing
- Youth Leadership-Development

TEACHING MAJORS

A teaching major is a grouping of 36-62 hours, sometimes in more than one department, for purposes of specialization and teacher certification.

Unless otherwise noted, all teaching majors lead to the Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree. Teaching majors include:

- Elementary Education
- Language Arts
- Mathematics
- Music: Education (BMus)
- Physical Education: K-12
- Social Studies
- Spanish

COMPLEMENTARY TEACHING MAJOR

The departments of Biology and Physical Sciences and Engineering, in conjunction with the School of Education, have shared in the creation of a new complementary major titled TeachScience. This major may only be combined with a biology, chemistry, or physics catalog major and may not stand alone to meet graduation requirements. It offers science students all of the learning and practical experiences needed to meet state requirements for teacher certification.

NON-CATALOG MAJORS

A student may construct and pursue a major course of study not listed in the catalog to achieve a goal of personal significance. Such a major must be strong enough to justify inclusion in the catalog if the student demand is sufficient and the institutional resources adequate. This may only be taken as a complement to a primary major. If such a major is interdepartmental or interdisciplinary, it must have the approval of all departments involved and the dean of the college.

MINORS

A minor is defined as a clustering of related courses intended to provide individual depth in an area other than a student's major. A minor is a grouping of 15-18 hours in a single discipline or recognized field of study and must include 12 hours which do not overlap with any other requirement (i.e. another major, minor, or liberal arts requirement). A GPA of at least 2.00 is required for all courses applied to the minor. To be awarded a minor, students must complete at least 50 percent of all coursework in residence at Anderson University.

In some cases a student may wish to complete a second major in lieu of a minor.

A student may present a major and a minor in a department offering more than one major. This minor must be in a different field and must include a minimum of 12 hours not applicable to one or more majors.

Minors include:

- Accounting
- Athletic Coaching
- Biblical Studies
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Christian Ministries
- Church Music
- Cinema and Media Arts
- Classics
- Computer Science
- Criminal Justice
- Dance Performance
- Early Childhood Education
- Economics
- Education

ASSOCIATE'S DEGREE

- Concentration: Criminal Justice (for more information, see Department of Sociology, Social Work, Criminal Justice, and Family Science in this catalog)
- Concentration: General Studies (for more information, see the dean of the School of Humanities)

COGNATES

A cognate is defined as a cluster of courses designed to enrich or provide breadth to an academic major. A cognate consists of 15-18 hours in two or more disciplines and may include no more than 4 hours in courses applied to other requirements. A GPA of at least 2.00 is required for all courses applied to the cognate.

Cognates are generally individually designed and are developed with the approval of the chair of the department offering the related major and the dean of the college.

Pre-Professional Programs

PRE-SEMINARY STUDIES

The university seeks to serve students preparing for seminary admission through a range of courses considered basic to such graduate professional study. There is no single normative pattern for pre-seminary education because of widely varying emphases and settings for ministry. The Anderson University School of Theology follows current admission recommendations of the Association of Theological Schools when it suggests the following categories of learning as foundational for graduate seminary study:

- The ability to read, write, and speak clear and correct English is vital for interpreting and communicating the faith of the church. It is highly desirable that a reading knowledge of Hebrew and/or Greek be developed as a basic tool. Additional language skills might be essential, depending on vocational intent.
- General understanding of human selfhood, modern social institutions, culture and religion, science and technology. Students are expected to have some academic understanding of the fields of philosophy, sociology, psychology, and history, and in some instances, may major in one of these areas.
- Theological understanding of major religious traditions and the contemporary understanding of values and faith. A knowledge of the nature and content of biblical materials is of particular significance.

Details of admission requirements for Anderson University School of Theology should be considered in the planning of undergraduate junior and senior years.

PRE-HEALTH PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Anderson University offers pre-health professional programs for students desiring careers in medicine, physical and occupational therapy, dentistry, physician assistant, pharmacy, chiropractic, optometry, podiatry, and veterinary medicine. Individualized programs are developed for students wishing to enter other health professions not listed above. Although most pre-health profession students major in biology, biochemistry, or chemistry, in most cases any major may be chosen as long as particular health profession program and course requirements are met. The length and specific coursework for each program is variable depending on the field and the individual professional school selected. Each pre-health professional program is designed to give the student a broad, Christian, liberal arts preparation for service in the health field of choice. The program usually consists of the following components:

- A standard pre-health profession core of courses (one year each of laboratory-based, college-level general biology, general chemistry/analytical chemistry, and physics).
- Additional courses in the sciences to increase study skills and knowledge base in the medically related subjects.
- A requirement to include courses in psychology, biblical studies, and communication as part of the liberal arts component.
- A recommendation to include a business course in the academic program.
- A preparation course for the particular health profession standardized exam.
- Being an active member in the Pre-Health Professional Society.
- A committee evaluation and recommendation process for the professional school application procedure.

Students interested in a particular pre-health professional program should contact the director of pre-health professional programs for more information and/or referral to the appropriate advisor in that profession.

The success of Anderson University's pre-health profession programs can be measured in a variety of ways. The university has an excellent placement record during the past 15 years, with approximately 85 to 90 percent of the students who applied to professional programs having been accepted. Of those students who have received strong committee recommendations, essentially 100 percent have been accepted. Many of our students during the past 15 years have been in the upper 10 percent of their professional school classes upon graduation from their respective schools.

PRE-LAW

The pre-law program combines study in the major disciplines with specially designed classes in law. Students are encouraged to develop majors in fields such as economics, history, political science, sociology, and related disciplines. This work is complemented by the law courses, the capstone of which includes the seminar and internship in law. Interns are assigned to area law offices, courts, or the prosecutor's office. Students interested in the pre-law program should consult the pre-law advisor as early as possible.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

The student interested in becoming a medical technologist completes three years at Anderson University and the final (clinical) year of training at one of two hospitals in Indiana: Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne or Clarian Health (Methodist Hospital) in Indianapolis. Tuition for the clinical year is paid to Anderson University. After successful completion of this program, students earn a Bachelor of Arts in biology and are eligible to pursue clinical laboratory scientist certification through the Board of Registry or the National Certification Agency for Medical Laboratory Personnel.

Admission to a school of medical technology requires the satisfactory completion of three years (92 hours) of academic study that includes completion of all liberal arts requirements; 22 hours of biology, including microbiology and immunology; at least 12 hours of chemistry (8 hours general and 4 hours organic); one course (4 hours) in mathematics; and one course (4 hours) in physics. Students must meet the graduation requirements and biology major requirements stated elsewhere in this catalog. Upon successful completion of these requirements, students are eligible to apply to one of the clinical programs. Interested students should contact the Department of Biology for more details and advising.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Anderson University offers a program that prepares students for entry into physical therapy programs. Most students seeking to enter the profession obtain a bachelor's degree, usually with a biology major. Because of the small number of schools offering graduate degrees in physical therapy and the large number of students who apply, admission to those programs is very competitive. Anderson University has developed an articulation agreement with Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Mo., to facilitate admission for AU graduates to a doctorate degree program in physical therapy. Interested students should contact the Department of Biology for more details and advising.

Courses of Instruction

The following details provide an explanation of the various types of information which may be included within a course description.

XXXX Courses*

Course Title # hrs. (#, #)**

The course description, listed directly beneath the course title, provides details about themes, topics, and issues covered by the course.

EXPECTATION: Indicates skills or experiences which students are expected to have achieved or demonstrated before taking this course. Also indicates restrictions regarding who may take this course (i.e. departmental exams, minimum grade in a prerequisite course, etc.).

CONSENT: Indicates whether students must obtain consent to take this course. If no designation is listed, no special consent is required.

PREREQUISITE: Indicates required class standing, required major, or course(s) which must be completed before this course may be taken.

COREQUISITE: Indicates required class standing, required major, or course(s) which must be taken in the same semester as this course.

REPEAT: Indicates when a course may be repeated for credit. May also include limitations on the number of times the course may be repeated or total credits that may be counted.

GRADE: Indicates when CR/NC grading is in effect. No listing indicates standard A-F grading.

OFFERED: Indicates the semester and/or year in which this course will be offered, or other terms by which the course will be offered (i.e. with sufficient demand). If no designation is listed, the course is usually offered every year.

SAME AS: Indicates when this course shares the same description and requirements as another course in the catalog.

* XXXX Courses: Designates the four-character caption (e.g., ENGL, MUSC, RLGN) applicable to the courses that follow.

 #### Course Title: Designates the course number and title for this course (e.g., 3070 Genetics, listed under the BIOL caption heading).

Courses numbered 1000-2999 are lower division. Courses numbered 3000-4999 are upper division. Upper-division courses are designed primarily for upper-division students and may assume some prior introductory understandings.

 # hrs. (#, #): Indicates the number of credit hours that may be earned by taking this course. Within parentheses, the number to the left indicates the number of classroom hours associated with this course, and the number to the right indicates the number of laboratory or studio hours. These numbers may include a range of hours (i.e. 1-4) or the word "arranged" where the number of hours may vary.

Department of Adult Studies

The Department of Adult Studies serves adult students (at least 25 years of age) by providing quality education, while designing programs and schedules that take into account the unique characteristics and time commitments of adult students. Adult students choose from daytime, evening, or online classes through the Department of Adult Studies at Anderson University.

The Department of Adult Studies, originally established in the fall of 1987, provides a wide variety of credit, professional development, and personal enrichment programs for adult students. With this unique educational thrust, the university is committed to provide convenient and affordable collegiate-based educational experiences to prepare for career opportunities.

Mission Statement

The mission of Anderson University and the Department of Adult Studies is to educate individuals for a life of faith and service in the church and society. We are committed to preparing adult leaders for future career opportunities. Recognizing its distinct role in the mission of Anderson University, the Department of Adult Studies enhances the relationship between the university and the surrounding community by offering quality face-to-face and online academic degree programs.

Degree Programs

All 60+ traditional degree programs offered by the university are available for adult students to pursue. Evening programs offered by the Department of Adult Studies include an Associate of Science degree in general studies, with varied concentration areas, and a Bachelor of Science degree in integrative leadership, with many available concentration areas.

ASSOCIATE OF SCIENCE IN GENERAL STUDIES

This degree is designed for adult students desiring a broader experience in liberal arts, which will include 24 credit hours of courses from a given discipline or field of study. This cluster of courses is the concentration. Pre-set concentration areas are management foundations and Christian foundations, but 24 credit hours from any given field of study can be a concentration. This degree provides a diverse selection of courses to enhance problem-solving skills, develop interpersonal and relational skills, increase aesthetic sensitivity, create environmental awareness, and enhance students' abilities to better understand and live effectively in the contemporary world. The associate degree requires a minimum of 62 hours.

MANAGEMENT FOUNDATION CONCENTRATION (62 hrs):

- LEAD 1000, 1050, 1100, 1200, 2200, 2300, 2400, 2410, 2590
- Liberal arts requirements

CHRISTIAN FOUNDATION CONCENTRATION (62 hrs):

- LEAD 1000
- CHRS 2000, 2100, 2150, 2200, 2300, 2310, 2320, 2590
- Liberal arts requirements

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN INTEGRATIVE LEADERSHIP

This degree is an accelerated, cohort-based degree program for working adults. The integrative leadership major within the Bachelor of Science degree program will prepare professional and dynamic leaders, managers, and supervisors within organizations or those who aspire to be in leadership positions. Students will develop communication skills, management styles, ethics, and planning techniques. This major will provide depth within the field of leadership studies and breadth as students integrate another subject area of their choice in the theory, principles, and application of leadership.

This major is 48 credit hours, which includes 12 hours in one concentration area.

INTEGRATIVE LEADERSHIP MAJOR (48 hrs):

- LEAD 3000, 3200, 4000, 4100, 4300, 4400, 4550, 4900, 4910, 4990
- RLGN 2220

LEAD COURSES

- | | | |
|-------------|--|---------------|
| 1000 | Personal and Professional Discovery | 1 hr. |
| | This course is designed to increase the student's success in the professional arena by assisting the student in obtaining the emotional intelligence skills necessary to reach his/her potential. Topics in this course include coping with stress, adapting to change, developing interpersonal relationships and intrapersonal skills, and recognizing how emotional intelligence affects personal and professional success and leadership skills. | |
| 1050 | Accounting Fundamentals | 2 hrs. |
| | This course is a pre-requisite class to Managerial Accounting — LEAD 3300 — and to Managerial Finance — LEAD 3350. This course offers basic information on financial statements resulting from the accounting process that are used by owners, investors and employees. Effective accounting demands an understanding of accounting terms. This class will help students become informed users of accounting information. | |
| 1100 | Introduction to Business Environments | 3 hrs. |
| | An introduction to functional areas of business, tracing the evolution of business forms, the role of government and society, relationships between administrators and employees, ethical issues, and globalization of world markets. | |

- 1200 Management Foundations 3 hrs.
This course is a study of management as it pertains to the dynamics of leadership, strategic planning, and controlling of resources.
- 2200 Issues in Human Resource Management 3 hrs.
This course will focus upon the primary functions of human resources management, increasing the effectiveness and contributions of employees in the attainment of organizational goals and objectives. Topics include strategic planning, organizational goals, job descriptions and evaluations, human resources selection techniques, and labor/employee relations.
- 2300 Social Problems and Their Impact on the Workplace 3 hrs.
This course presents an analysis of major contemporary social problems, especially in the United States. Particular attention is given to the problems of poverty, racism, sexism, drug and alcohol abuse, and illiteracy, and their impact on contemporary workplace. Consideration is given to diverse sociological perspectives with regard to these problems and their causes, consequences, and solutions.
- 2400 Organizational Ethics 3 hrs.
This study in business ethics will provide instruction in systematically applying standard moral and ethical approaches in analyzing issues, problems, and cases.
- 2410 Global Issues 3 hrs.
This course will help the adult learner acquire knowledge and become aware of the increasing interdependence of the world and the global nature of contemporary issues. This course essentially seeks to help adult learners to think beyond their immediate surroundings and see themselves as part of a larger community.
- 2590 Management Foundations Capstone 3 hrs.
This capstone course in management foundations offers a discussion of selected topics of current issues in management. There will be a written and oral presentation of a management project involving the application of management concepts and principles. PERMISSION: Departmental permission required.
- 3000 Adult Development and Life Assessment 3 hrs.
This course introduces students to adult development theory and links these concepts to life through a process of individual reflection. Both classical and contemporary adult development theories are examined. These theories then provide the paradigm for self-analysis and life assessment — the basis for understanding individuals in organizations.
- 3100 Intro to Research and Analysis Using Statistics 4 hrs.
This course presents problem analysis and evaluation techniques. Students are shown methods for defining, researching, analyzing, and evaluating a problem in their work or vocational environments that they have selected for independent research projects. Specific statistical information covered in the course includes identifying and measuring objectives, collecting data, working with significance levels, analyzing variance, and constructing questionnaires.
- 3200 Issues in Management 3 hrs.
Students examine management control functions, strategic planning, and organizational structure and design. Also examined are motivational theory and its application to individual and group functioning in work and home situations. Leadership styles related to particular circumstances are analyzed. Negotiation concepts and skills are covered through reading and class practice, with an analysis of the effect on productivity.
- 3220 Leadership in Non-Profits 3 hrs.
This course is designed to further the professional development of leaders in the non-profit sector. Students will gain a richer understanding of how to integrate organizational mission with economic strategy and the importance of developing a strong network with a diverse array non-profit leaders. Lastly, learners will form a personal plan of action for leading a non-profit that addresses key organizational and strategic challenges.

- 3240 Culture and Gender in Leadership 3 hrs.
This course is intended to help learners better understand the challenges women face as they obtain and sustain leadership roles within society today. Learners will examine how women have gained access to powerful leadership positions; why men have more access than women; and how, as current and future leaders, both males and females can eliminate barriers within their own areas of influence that discourage access for women in leadership.
- 3260 Conflict Resolution 3 hrs.
The purpose of this course is for learners to enhance and strengthen skills in conflict resolution as students examine the dynamics of everyday conflicts across a variety of settings, from personal relationships to the workplace. Learners' experiences as well as case studies will be utilized as the principles of conflict and the techniques for productive management are applied. Both theory and application will be stressed, as well as their interrelation.
- 3280 Project Management 3 hrs.
This course discusses the factors necessary for successful project management, including concepts, needs identification, project manager, teams, project communications, project planning and scheduling, control and cost performance. Project management software tools will also be utilized as part of the course.
- 3300 Managerial Accounting 3 hrs.
This course presents the financial tools available to the manager in decision-making. It includes a study of income statements, balance sheets, cash flow budgets, changes in financial position, and ratio analysis. Emphasis is on reading and understanding accounting and financial documents rather than on their preparation.
- 3350 Managerial Finance 3 hrs.
This course focuses on the areas of corporate finance needed by adult learners, even if they are not planning a finance career. The study of finance provides a number of tools and reports that aid in determining which long-term investments to make, where the financing will come from, and how to manage collecting from customers and paying suppliers. Capital budgeting, capital structure, and working capital management will be studied in detail.
- 3400 Managerial Economics 3 hrs.
This course is an analysis of the principles of economics necessary to equip managers and supervisors for effective decision-making and leadership. Specific economic concepts will be applied to problem solving in the manager's workplace.
- 3500 Managerial Marketing 3 hrs.
Principles of marketing that need to be understood by managers in all areas in order to develop and utilize effective marketing practices are examined. Concepts of our global economy, including major social, psychological, and political influences, will be explored and their marketing implications considered from a manager's perspective.
- 3510 Buyer Behavior 3 hrs.
Adult learners will be exposed to numerous theories from psychology, sociology, economics, education, and marketing to explain why and how consumers buy the products and services that they do. Buyer behavior will be integrated into the large discipline marketing to illustrate the marketing concept and marketing orientation of putting the customer first.
- 3550 Legal Environments of Business 3 hrs.
This course prepares students to evaluate the legal risks associated with business activity. Students will study topics including the legal system, alternative dispute resolution, the trial process, contracts, tort law, real property, enterprise liability, product liability, international law, business risks, intellectual property, and legal forms of business.
- 3570 Developing a Mentoring Culture 3 hrs.
This course attempts to help individuals within organizations of every type to build a framework that supports and sustains organizational mentoring. Peer mentoring, mentoring forums, and team mentoring are becoming commonplace in organizations and today's leader needs to be knowledgeable of the process and reasoning behind it.

- 4000 Group and Organizational Dynamics 3 hrs.
This course is a study of group behavior and how group functioning impacts organizational effectiveness, with emphasis on decision-making and conflict resolution. Students develop strategies for efficient and productive group management and determine which tasks are best handled within a group setting.
- 4100 Communicating Within Organizations 3 hrs.
This course investigates the role of communication in creating a productive organizational environment. It aids students in developing and strengthening their communication skills by focusing on interpersonal, group, and presentation skills.
- 4200 A Systems Approach to Organizational Change 3 hrs.
Students examine the formal and informal functions of organizations and analyze an agency or organization based on a systems model. Students will also analyze and solve organizational problems using a step-by-step method. This analysis will be applied to students' work-related research projects.
- 4300 Strategic Planning 3 hrs.
This course introduces students to various management planning models and techniques and applies these to business cases. It stresses the concepts of strategic planning and strategic management.
- 4400 Personal Values and Organizational Ethics 3 hrs.
Several major ethical theories are reviewed in this course. Students examine personal values through reading and workplace analysis to formulate management accountability, human rights, and a responsible lifestyle in the contemporary world.
- 4500 Service Leadership 3 hrs.
This course helps learners implement concepts of Robert Greenleaf's servant leadership as vital in the workplace. An understanding of service leadership empowers leaders as they implement concepts of being a leader who is servant first. Learners will become more competent, capable and compassionate leaders as they learn to help others while leading.
- 4550 Diversity and Intercultural Competence 3 hrs.
With the explosion of technology and the increase in global communication, the world is becoming evermore connected. Similarly, the United States has become, over the preceding decades, increasingly diverse. Individuals who want to be successful must acquire the competencies that will allow them to work with people of varied backgrounds. To this end, our academic task will include not only the definition of key terms and concepts integral to the diversity discussion but also the honing of sensitivities and skill sets necessary for mutually enriching intercultural interaction.
- 4900 Leadership Seminar 3 hrs.
This course focuses on the hard science of leadership as well as the human relationships that must be developed if organizations are to fulfill their missions. This experiential module is intentionally designed for students to consider the development of leadership sciences, to learn the skills needed for effective leadership, and to work practically toward their own leadership potential through self-reflection.
- 4910 Professional Seminar 4 hrs.
This course helps learners to be professionally ready, whether re-entering the job market or bettering a career. It includes the completion of professional portfolio which will include the learner's professional picture, résumé, letters of recommendation, leadership philosophy, strengths testing results, personal mission statement, and final review of a service project.
- 4990 Action Research Project 5 hrs.
The research project is a major research effort designed to enhance knowledge in an area related to one's work or community, to provide research skills, and to assist in effective decision-making. Statistical analysis concepts and methods assist the student in identifying a problem area, collecting data, proposing a solution and measuring results. Each student gives an oral report of project findings.

CHRS COURSES

- 2000 Individual Thinking and Christian Faith 3 hrs.
This course explores the role of the individual and how one assesses personal faith, community faith, and differing views within Christianity. Concepts in critical thinking will be introduced as a framework for studying subsequent courses. Topics introduced include the Wesley Quadrilateral, individualism vs. collectivism, emotional and social intelligence, and a Christian worldview.
- 2100 Kingdom of God 3 hrs.
This course discusses the spiritual and universal essence associated with being the people of God as described throughout Scripture. The central question addressed in this course is, “what does it mean to be the people of God?” A study of the Old and New Testaments as well as non-biblical writings will help students understand how the world viewed people of Judeo-Christian faith at different times in history, and how Christians are viewed today.
- 2150 The Influence and Evolution of the Church 3 hrs.
This course provides an overview of how organized church has evolved since the first century to present day and its influence on world leaders, governments, and cultures. The course highlights key people, events, and governments involved in world-changing decisions that were directly or indirectly influence by the Church.
- 2200 The Role of Scripture 3 hrs.
This course introduces students to various methods used in reading, interpreting, understanding, and applying Scripture and how those methods shaped history and cultures. The student will learn how to think critically when reading Scripture.
- 2300 Moses and the Law 3 hrs.
This course introduces the adult student to a key person and event in Jewish history: the Exodus. A major portion of the class will be focused on the foundational aspects of Mosaic Law and the Decalogue and their centrality in Jewish culture to the time of Christ.
- 2310 Jesus and the Law 3 hrs.
This course introduces the adult student to the Jesus of history and briefly discusses controversies surrounding him. A brief portion of the class will discuss Old Testament scriptures related to the messianic claims regarding Jesus. A major portion of the course discusses the New Testament’s view on Jesus’s interpretation of Mosaic Law.
- 2320 Paul and the Law 3 hrs.
This course introduces the adult student to Paul, the author of several writings in the New Testament. A major portion of this course surveys the various debates and issues created by the integration of Jewish and Gentile cultures along with Paul’s prescriptions for managing the conflict that integration created within faith communities. Paul’s understanding of Mosaic Law will be discussed.
- 2590 Christian Foundations Capstone 3 hrs.
This is a capstone course that integrates learned objectives from the Christian Foundation courses precisely taken into a written research project and oral presentation. Adult students will select a topic or issue that is currently debated within a local community of faith. Students will utilize critical thinking techniques in presenting a written and oral summation specifically addressing the issue from a Christian worldview.

- 4030 Reading Scripture: Luke-Acts (Early Church History) 3 hrs.
This course focuses on learning from the early church principles for the life and growth of the church in all generations. The experiences of Jesus and his disciples will serve as paradigms for learning how to understand God with us, an understanding of the Gospel. How to deal with real problems, and how to build community that can focus on bringing the Gospel into people's lives and all of the good that comes from that experience. The course will focus on reading the texts of Luke and Acts and interpreting for today through small group discussion, experiential learning, and creative application.
- 4100 Interpreting Scripture 3 hrs.
A study of various ways in which Christians have read and interpreted Scripture. Basic interpretive methods covered include typology, allegory, and historical and critical reading as well as lectio divina and other devotional approaches to Scripture. Special attention is given to the relationship between location and interpretive methods.
- 4200 Thinking Theologically 3 hrs.
An introduction to theological method, this course considers the roles of reason, tradition, Scripture, and experience in theological thinking. Students will also be introduced to representatives of various models of theological thinking and will be given an opportunity to think theologically about a topic of contemporary interest.
- 4300 Ministry in a New Century 3 hrs.
This course examines the possibilities and perils of ministry in a time when assumptions about certainty, authority, and universality face pervasive and persistent challenges.

Biology

Dr. Janutolo, chair; Prof. Bailey, Dr. Ippolito, Dr. Lyle-Ippolito (allied health advisor); Dr. An and Prof. Clem (Clarian Health); Prof. Goff and Dr. Smith (Parkview Hospital)

The Department of Biology provides a quality educational program combining a broad foundational core curriculum with four areas of specialization:

- Pre-Professional: a curriculum designed to enhance the student's appreciation of and success in a professional education program in various medical arts.
- Science Education: a curriculum chosen to prepare students to be at the forefront of science education for the 21st century.
- Molecular/Biochemistry/Microbiology: a curriculum designed to provide the skills, knowledge, and analytic ability to succeed in modern biology research and/or industrial arenas.
- Ecology/Environmental: a curriculum designed to prepare for bachelor entry programs in field biology and environmental science and graduate studies in the fields of ecology, the environment, and zoology.

For more information regarding these programs, contact the chair of the department or visit the departmental office located in Hartung Hall 206.

The ecology/environmental concentration is greatly enhanced through Anderson University's participation in programs offered by the Au Sable Institute of Environmental Studies. The institute has four field stations worldwide: northern Michigan, Puget Sound (Washington), Vara Blanca (Costa Rica), and Tamil Nadu (South India). Each station offers field courses (mostly offered during the summer) in ecology and environmental science appropriate to its location. Students taking courses from Au Sable remain Anderson University students. Since the university has been identified as an institution eligible for financial grants, qualified students may be awarded Au Sable fellowships and scholarships. Interested students should contact Dr. Blake Janutolo for further application information.

The Department of Biology supervises and advises students in medical technology programs. Biology majors pursuing the medical technology program must complete the 20-hour core — BIOL 2210, 2220, 3030, 2240, and 4050 — but are exempted from taking BIOL 4070, 4910, and 4920. The final (clinical) year is taken off campus; these courses will be counted as upper-division biology courses. Students entering this program should contact the allied health advisor as early as possible to facilitate completion of the program.

The department undertakes advising and supervision of undergraduate programs in a variety of health and science vocations other than those specifically mentioned above (e.g. pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy, physician's assistant, etc.). These pre-professional programs require completion of two to four years at Anderson University followed by graduate or clinical training at another institution in order to enter the profession or stand for licensure examinations. Biology faculty share the advising for these programs and should be contacted for further information if interested in these professions.

BIOLOGY

BIOLOGY MAJOR (48 hours)

- 24 hours from BIOL 2210, 2220, 2240, 3030, 4050, 4070, 4910, 4920
 - 12 hours from additional upper-division BIOL courses (completion of both BIOL 2410 and 2420 will substitute for 4 hours of upper-division biology)
 - CHEM 2110, 2210
 - At least one course from CHEM 2120, 2220, 3100
- BIOL 2230, 3800, and 4700 do not apply toward the major.
Additional CHEM courses, especially CHEM 2220 and 3100, are strongly recommended.

BIOLOGY MINOR (16 HOURS)

- BIOL 2210, 2220
- 8 hours from BIOL courses numbered 2230 and above
BIOL 3800 and 4700 do not apply toward the minor.

BIOCHEMISTRY

The biochemistry major is an interdisciplinary major that applies the principles and methods of both biology and chemistry to understanding the molecular basis of life. The major requires a number of basic classes from each discipline with advanced courses in chemical instrumentation, cell and molecular biology, genetics, and biochemistry, and allows the student to select additional courses necessary to pursue certain career objectives. Students considering a biochemistry major should begin their study with CHEM 2110 and BIOL 2210.

BIOCHEMISTRY MAJOR (52 HOURS)

- CHEM 2110, 2120, 2210, 2220, 3100, 4510, 4520
- BIOL/CHEM 4210
- BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 4910, 4920
- BIOL 2210, 2220, 2240, 4050, 4310
- Elective hours from:
 - CHEM 3140, 4090, 4110
 - BIOL 3030, 4120

Students pursuing pre-medicine should elect BIOL 3030, 4120. They should also take PHYS 2140, 2150 or MATH 2010, 2020, PHYS 2240, 2250.

It is suggested that students pursuing graduate school should elect CHEM 3140, 4090, 4110; BIOL 3030. They should also take MATH 2010, 2020; and PHYS 2240, 2250.

It is suggested students pursuing an industry career should elect CHEM 3140.

TEACHSCIENCE

This complementary major offers science students all of the learning and practical experiences needed to meet the state requirements for teacher certification. This major may only be combined with a catalog major in biology, chemistry, or physics, and cannot stand alone to meet graduation requirements. Program objectives include:

- emphasis on Christ-like servant ways in the development of a professional educator, strengthened by a liberal arts program;
- teaching as a mission to serve adolescents and young adults;
- the student's completion of a traditional major in an area of science while pursuing advanced study in science and/or education;
- unique combination of secondary school experience and content area instruction;
- early opportunities for students to explore science teaching as a potential career;
- entrance into the program at any stage in the student's educational journey, based on individual needs and circumstances; and
- program completion within four years for most students.

TEACHSCIENCE COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (30 HOURS)

- EDUC 2000, 3000, 3120, 4010, 4710, 4930
- SPED 2400
- BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 2700

Students pursuing pre-medicine should elect BIOL 3030, 4120. They should also take PHYS 2140, 2150 or MATH 2010, 2020, PHYS 2240, 2250.

BIOL COURSES

- 1000 Principles of Modern Biology 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Fundamental ideas in the science of biology, including molecules, cells, genetics, ecology, the diversity of life, and the human body.
- 2010 Medical Terminology 2 hrs.
The objective of this course is to make students familiar with the common root words, prefixes, and suffixes of terms used in the medical fields. The material to be covered includes anatomical, procedural, diagnostic, disease, and pharmacology terms. OFFERED: Online.
- 2040 Personal and Community Health 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Health problems of individual, home, school, and community. Covers nutrition, child growth, personality development, home living, and the human body. Includes application of exercise to the maintenance of individual and community health. OFFERED: Fall.
- 2070 Humans and the Environment 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Students are exposed to basic concepts of ecology and to select environmental issues. They are encouraged to engage in vigorous discussion and to think critically about our impact on the environment. The perspective of Christian environmental stewardship is emphasized throughout the course. OFFERED: Spring.
- 2080 Flora of Indiana 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Taxonomic study (identification, classification, and nomenclature) of flowering plants of Indiana. OFFERED: Summer.
- 2140 Nutrition in Health and Disease 4 hrs. (3, 2)
The subject of human nutrition is used as a model to introduce liberal arts students to the philosophy and process of science. As the various areas of the topic are studied (including nutritional requirements, eating behaviors, assessment techniques, and diet management for optimal performance), emphasis is placed on the scientific processes that allow these facts to be known.
- 2210 Foundations of Modern Biology I 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Basic principles of cell structure and function, genetics, evolution, biodiversity, and ecology using animal and human models. Through these themes, the student becomes familiar with major animal groups, their salient characteristics, environmental interactions, and postulated evolutionary relationships. OFFERED: Fall.
- 2220 Foundations of Modern Biology II 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Concepts of cell structure and function, cell metabolism, genetics, organismal structure and function, and principles of ecology using plant models. Through these themes, the student becomes familiar with major plant groups, their salient characteristics, environmental interactions, and postulated evolutionary relationships. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2210. OFFERED: Spring.
- 2230 Microbes and Disease 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to the science of microbiology using clinical microbiology as a model. Some emphasis is given to general areas such as microbial classification, genetics, physiology, and ecology, with concentration on subjects related to disease-microorganism relationships: classification, culture and identification of pathogenic organisms, control processes (antiseptics, disinfection, antibiotics), infection patterns, control of disease, and elementary immunology. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220 or 2420. OFFERED: Fall.
- 2240 Cell Biology 4 hrs. (3, 3)
This course is an introduction to fundamental concepts of cellular and molecular biology. Integrated lab and classroom curriculum introduces the student to the subject in four parts: 1) fundamentals of biochemistry, 2) the flow of genetic information in the cell, 3) cellular anatomy and physiology, and 4) cell regulation. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: Spring.

- 2310 Field Biology in Spring 4 hrs.
Springtime plants and animals, their field identification, field biology, behavior and landscape context, with a focus on spring flora, amphibia, and birds. Focuses on observation and sounds of life in the field occurring between the end of the spring college semester and the end of spring high school semester to provide prospective teachers and naturalists with an opportunity to investigate the natural history of this time of year. OFFERED: At Au Sable Institute. OFFERED: At Au Sable Institute.
- 2410 Human Anatomy and Physiology I 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Topics will include cell form and function and organization of human cells into tissues, organs and organ systems. This course will emphasize skeletal tissues, muscles, and the nervous and endocrine systems. Emphasis will be given to pathological conditions that alter the normal functions of these organ systems and how these alterations affect the organism as a whole. The lecture and laboratory experiences will emphasize how the structure and function of each topic is interrelated (that function follows form). OFFERED: Fall.
- 2420 Human Anatomy and Physiology II 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Topics will include cell form and function as well as the human digestive, cardiovascular, respiratory, urinary, and reproductive systems. Emphasis will be given to pathological conditions that alter the normal functions of these organ systems and how these alterations affect the organism as a whole. The lecture and laboratory experiences will emphasize how the structure and function of each topic is interrelated (that function follows form). PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2410 or CHEM 1000. OFFERED: Spring.
- 2700 Science Teaching Methods I 3 hrs. (2, 1)
This course involves the learning and application of the methods of teaching science. In addition to some lecture and classroom discussion, students complete a practicum experience with a master teacher in a public or private school setting. Topics covered and jointly pursued by AU faculty and the master teacher include learning theories, classroom management, inquiry-based teaching, history of science, special/gifted education, and an introduction to rubrics/grading/assessment. Emphasizes the key roles that a teacher's caring attitude and ability to engage students have in a successful learning environment. SAME AS: CHEM/PHYS 2700. OFFERED: Spring.
- 3030 Microbiology 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Introduction to microbiology using a study of various microbes. Biochemical, genetic, and ecological aspects of archae, prokaryotes, viruses, fungi, and protozoans will be covered. One unit will cover human pathology and immunology. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: Fall.
- 3050 Advanced Topics in Microbiology 2 hrs. (2, 0-3)
Topics important to the understanding and practice of microbiology will be covered in a seminar/laboratory format customized to the topic being discussed. Includes latest developments in the topic areas including immunology, virology, and mycology. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 3030. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3060 Field Ecology of Birds 4 hrs.
Biology, behavior, ecology, and identification of birds. Work will be primarily conducted in the field and will cover the major habitats of northern lower Michigan, including wetlands, lakes, rivers, forests, dunes, and open field communities. Emphasis placed on identification by sight and by call of the spring bird fauna of northern lower Michigan. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: At Au Sable Institute.
- 3080 Animal Ecology 4 hrs.
Interrelationships between animals and their biotic and physical environments, emphasizing animal population dynamics in old growth pine forests and bogs. This field-intensive course centers on the ecology of northern Michigan fauna from a stewardship perspective. Included are individual student projects. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: At Au Sable Institute.

- 3170 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy 5 hrs. (3, 4)
Lecture emphasizes major themes of vertebrate structure, function, and development, such as vertebrate transition to land, adaptations for terrestrial life, the evolutionary relationship between birds and theropod dinosaurs, and the evolution of flight. Laboratory emphasizes comparative morphology of representative chordate types. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3270 Human Gross Anatomy and Histology 5 hrs. (3, 4)
Detailed study of gross anatomy, microscopic and ultramicroscopic structures of tissues and organs of the human body. Laboratory emphasizes examination of the gross to microscopic structure through various techniques. Relationship of structure and function emphasized. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 3030. OFFERED: Fall 2015-16.
- 3310 Entomology 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Study of insects with emphasis upon identification and role in environment. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3420 Fish Biology and Ecology 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Covers in detail the systematics, evolution, and anatomy of fishes. Students will be exposed to selected topics in fish physiology, ecology, and behavior. Fishery issues will be touched upon as time allows. The lab component includes identification and classification of fishes using specimens from the university's collections, as well as comparative dissections of sharks and representative teleosts. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2220. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3510 Bioethics 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Seminar course that examines ethical questions that arise in the relationships among life sciences, biotechnology, medicine, politics, law, philosophy, and theology. Topics and case studies are selected and discussed in terms of the ethical issues they present. These include beginning of life, death and dying, human and animal testing, and environmental stewardship. PREREQUISITE: Junior standing. OFFERED: Fall.
- 3800 Internship in Science Education 1-4 hrs. (0, 1-4)
This internship is an opportunity to broaden the diversity of a student's experience in educational settings. Internships are arranged in environments not typically experienced by the student. Tri-S and other international experiences may be appropriate, as well as experiences in large inner-city schools or small, rural schools. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 2700 should be completed or taken concurrently. SAME AS: CHEM/PHYS 3800.
- 3920 Integration of Faith and Science 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Seminar course featuring reading and discussion on topics common to science and Christianity. Topics include origin issues, natural law, environmental stewardship, and the nature of the soul. OFFERED: Spring.
- 4050 Genetics 4 hrs. (4, 2)
Study of the principles of genetics including Mendelian, molecular, microbial, developmental, and behavioral genetics as well as cytogenetics and genomics. Laboratory experiences range from classical to molecular procedures and concepts. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2240. OFFERED: Fall.
- 4070 Ecology and Evolutionary Biology 2 hrs. (2, 0)
This course will cover essential concepts and principles in ecology and evolutionary biology, including natural selection, genetic drift, speciation, energy flow, nutrient cycling, and physiological and community ecology. An independent research project will complement classroom lectures. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 4050. OFFERED: Spring.
- 4120 Mammalian Physiology 4 hrs. (3, 3)
Study of function and interrelationships of various tissues, organs, and organ systems, with emphasis on homeostatic mechanisms. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2240. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.

- 4210 Biochemistry 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Introduction to fundamental principles of biochemistry. Lectures and project-oriented laboratories emphasize concepts of macromolecular structure, aspects of enzymology, and intermediary metabolism. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2240, CHEM 2210. SAME AS: CHEM 4210. OFFERED: Spring 2015-16.
- 4310 Molecular Biochemistry and Genetics 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Emphasizes molecular and biotechnology aspects of the fields of biochemistry and genetics. This is a laboratory-intensive course on techniques involved in biotechnology for the cloning and investigation of gene function. It is designed to train students in the types of techniques used in the current biotechnology industry. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM 4210 strongly recommended. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 4050. PREREQUISITE OR COREQUISITE: CHEM 2220. OFFERED: Spring 016-17.
- 4650 Independent Study 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Independently executed investigations, normally by students with upper-division standing. REPEAT: May be repeated. Credit not to exceed 12 hours.
- 4910 Science Seminar I 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both BIOL 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) and speaking intensive credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: CHEM/PHYS 4910. OFFERED: Fall
- 4920 Science Seminar II 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both BIOL 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) and speaking intensive credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: CHEM/PHYS 4920. OFFERED: Spring.

Falls School of Business

The mission of the Falls School of Business is to create an environment that will enable and encourage our graduates to be:

- professionally competent through understanding the knowledge base of their discipline and possessing the ability to apply analytical and problem-solving skills to organizational problems,
- ethically sensitive, and
- informed by the Christian ideal of servanthood.

This mission is realized through a commitment to teaching excellence and genuine concern for each individual student and is supported by a faculty commitment to continuous professional development and service to the community.

GUIDELINES FOR ADMISSION TO THE FALLS SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Students intending to become business majors should consult the Falls School of Business Handbook for admission and retention policies. All prospective business majors must complete the admission guidelines prior to admission into the program. Students may apply for admission to the Falls School of Business once the following entrance requirements have been successfully met:

- Sophomore standing
- Overall GPA of 2.0 or higher
- Successful completion of the application process
- Grade of C- or higher in each of the following courses:
BSNS 1050, BSNS 2710, or 2810; ACCT 2010; ECON 2010

The Falls School of Business offers stand-alone majors and concentrations in:

Major	Concentration
Accounting	Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) Preparation Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Preparation
Economics	Economic Policy Globalization
Entrepreneurship
Finance	Entrepreneurship Investments
Global Business	Accounting Economics Finance Management Marketing

Management

Organizational Management
Nonprofit Leadership
Entrepreneurship
Project Management
Event Planning

Marketing

Social Media
Marketing Strategy and Tactics
Integrated Branding and Promotion
Global Marketing
Music Business
Event Planning
Sport Marketing

Entertainment and Music Business

Joint majors are offered in dance/business, music/business, political science/economics, and math/economics. A complementary major in business-information systems is offered. In addition, a complementary major in business administration is offered to students with a primary major outside the Falls School of Business.

A wide selection of minors is available to all students, whether their major is inside or outside of the Falls School of Business. These minors include:

- Accounting
- Economics
- Entrepreneurship
- Finance
- Global Business
- Management
- Marketing
- Entertainment and Music Business
- Nonprofit Leadership
- Social Media

The Falls School of Business is fully accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP). The Falls School of Business offers undergraduate, Master of Business Administration, and Doctor of Business Administration programs.

BUSINESS CORE (37 hours)

The following core classes are required of all accounting, economics, entrepreneurship, finance, global business, management, and marketing majors:

- ACCT 2010, 2020
- BSNS 1050, 2710, 2810
- BSNS 2510, 3420, 4500, 4910
- CPSC 1100
- ECON 2010, 2020
- BSNS 2450, PSYC/POSC 2440, or MATH 2120

In addition to the core, BSNS 2550 is strongly recommended where it is not required.

ACCOUNTING

The accounting major is designed to provide a knowledge base in both financial and managerial accounting. Accounting courses expose the student to a broad perspective of accounting needed for management responsibility within a company, in the field of public accounting, and for studies in a graduate program.

The major provides coursework that helps prepare students for the Certified Management Accountant (CMA) exam and the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) exam.

Indiana and most states require individuals to have completed a minimum of 150 hours of college credit to be eligible to take the CPA exam. Accounting majors who plan to enter the public accounting field are strongly encouraged to complete at least 150 hours before they complete their college education.

ACCOUNTING MAJOR (59 hours)

- Prerequisite of one course from MATH 1300, 1400, 2010
- 37-hour business core
- ACCT 3010, 3500, 3020, 3110, 4020, 4310, 4900
- 3 hours from ACCT 3210, 3300, 4800; BSNS 3350, 4150; ECON 3020, 3110, 3410

Optional Concentrations in Accounting:

CMA (Certified Managerial Accountant)-Preparation

- BSNS 3240, 3350, 4150
- Recommended: ACCT 4860

CPA (Certified Public Accountant)-Preparation:

- ACCT 4250, 4100, 4050
- Strongly recommended for students taking the CPA Exam: ACCT 4850 (1-4 hours)

ACCOUNTING MINOR (15 hours)

- 15 hours from ACCT courses

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Courses in business administration are designed to provide general understanding of the operation of organizations, preparation for careers in administration in business and various other kinds of societal organizations, and preparation for graduate study.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION MAJORSENTREPRENEURSHIP MAJOR (55 hours)

- Prerequisite of one course from MATH 1300, 1400, 2010
- 37-hour business core
- 15 hours from BSNS 3100, 3440, 3450, 3850, 4310, 4320
- One course from BSNS 3150, 3230, 3240

FINANCE MAJOR (55 hours)

- Prerequisite of one course from MATH 1300, 1400, 2010
- 37-hour business core
- BSNS 3350, 4150; ECON 3410
- Completion of one of the following concentrations (9 hours):
 - Investments:
 - BSNS 3150, 4160 and 3 hours from BSNS 3850, 4240, 4800; ACCT 4020
 - Entrepreneurship:
 - BSNS 3100, 4310 and 3 hours from BSNS 3150, 3210, 3400, 3440, 4160, 4320, 4800

GLOBAL BUSINESS MAJOR (59 hours)

- Prerequisite of one course from MATH 1300, 1400, 2010
- 37-hour business core
- BSNS 3120, 4120
- Choose one of the following concentrations (9 hours):
 - Accounting:
 - 1 course from SPAN 2010, FREN 2010, GERM 2010
 - 3 courses from ACCT 3010, 3020, 3110, 4310

Economics:

- 1 course from SPAN 2010, FREN 2010, GERM 2010
- ECON 3020, 3110, 3410

Finance:

- 1 course from SPAN 2010, FREN 2010, GERM 2010
- BSNS 3350, 4150; ECON 3410

Management:

- 1 course from SPAN 2010, FREN 2010, GERM 2010
- BSNS 3230, 3240, 4480

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS INSTITUTE PROGRAM

The International Business Institute (IBI) Program is a 10-week, 12-credit-hour academic summer program that allows business students to incorporate a distinctive international experience into their field of study. The IBI program facilitates personal interaction with business leaders from top multinational corporations. Visits with industry leaders and top policy makers have included Daimler Benz, Nestlé, the Bank of England, and the British Parliament. Travel has included visits to England, Russia, Western and Eastern Europe, and Scandinavia. Acceptance into the program is on a competitive basis. Students should apply early in the fall semester of their junior year. The program is normally completed the summer between the student's junior and senior years. For additional information, visit the website, www.ibi-program.org, or contact the Falls School of Business.

The IBI Program may be taken to satisfy some requirements for the global business major, the global business minor, the global business concentration in the management major, or the global marketing concentration in the marketing major.

The IBI Program courses are ECON 3250; BSNS 4170, 4250, 4450.

 When taken to fulfill a requirement for a major, BSNS 4240 must have the prior approval of the student's advisor. When taken to fulfill a minor requirement, the course must have the approval of the dean of the Falls School of Business.

 Practicum or internship must focus on experience related to the student's major or minor and must be approved by the dean of the Falls School of Business.

Communication and Design Arts

Prof. Fuller Beeler, chair; Dr. Baird, Dr. Chapman, Prof. Lipan, Prof. Morehead; Prof. Armstrong, Prof. Dawson, Prof. Gibson, Prof. Moody, Prof. Rust, Prof. Street, Dr. Wood

The Department of Communication and Design Arts is committed to preparing students for an active and faithful life of stewardship within their chosen disciplines. Recognizing the close connection between creativity and the Creator, we seek to do this work with integrity, free and open inquiry, discipline, collaboration, and excellence.

Programs in the Department of Communication and Design Arts enable students to bring to the communication and design professions both breadth and depth, and they provide students with the opportunity to gain knowledge and learn skills and techniques.

For students interested in careers in cinema and media arts, public relations or visual communication design, standalone majors are offered that encompass a full range of courses from theory to practice. For students interested in speech communication or journalism, complementary majors are offered that provide opportunity to couple communications-specific study with another discipline. Likely complements include English, history, political science, religious studies, or other areas of particular interest to the student.

Specifically, the fields of study in the Communication and Design Arts are:

- Cinema and Media Arts

Students study audio, video, and cinema production in preparation for careers in production and management. Instructors in this area are typically members of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences (Lower Great Lakes Chapter). Practical experience includes work in the university's commercial FM radio station, WQME, and the student-supported television and film production facility, Covenant Productions®, as well as internships with audio, film, and video production companies and radio and television stations. WQME is a member of the Radio Advertising Bureau (RAB) and the Indiana Broadcasters Association (IBA). For students interested in a career in film, the university also offers a semester-long program in Hollywood with the Los Angeles Film Studies Center.

- Journalism

Emphasis on newswriting skills aids students in preparing for careers in writing, reporting, announcing, and editing for print and electronic media. Instructors in this area are typically members of the American Journalism Historians Association, the Society of Professional Journalists, and/or College Media Advisers. Practical experiences include writing, editing, and publishing the student newspaper, the Andersonian; newscasting with the university's commercial FM radio station, WQME; and reporting and anchoring experiences in radio and television classes, as well as internships with newspapers, magazines, radio, and TV stations and networks.

- Public Relations

Courses in the public relations function, public relations campaigns, and the publicity process prepare students for careers as communicators in business and nonprofit organizations. Instructors in this area are typically members of the Public Relations Society of America and the International Association of Business Communicators. Practical experience includes working for the university's student-staffed public relations agency, Fifth Street Communications®, and internships with public relations departments of corporations and not-for-profit institutions and with public relations agencies. The university has a chapter of the PRSSA (Public Relations Student Society of America).

- Speech Communication

A general study of communication arts with a selection of courses from across the communication arts curriculum. Designed to provide a broad background for students interested in careers in public service and law.

- Visual Communication Design

This major prepares students for professional practice through intensive studio, theory, and history studies. A primary focus is the development of a visual portfolio — both print and digital. Courses engage students in the creation of visual products for print, web, and time-based media. Emphasis is placed on learning how to communicate ideas through appropriately and creatively designed visual products. Professional preparation opportunities include working with clients in studio-based projects and internships at the junior and/or senior levels. Students completing the major are prepared to work in design studios; advertising, marketing, and public relations agencies; corporate and church in-house communications departments; and other professional environments where visual communication is a primary component.

LANGUAGE ARTS TEACHING MAJOR

To fulfill requirements for teaching speech communication at the secondary level, students complete courses in English, speech communication, and professional education. For specific requirements, refer to the Department of English listing in this catalog.

CONTINUATION IN THE MAJORS/MINORS: STUDENTS IN CINEMA AND MEDIA ARTS, JOURNALISM, PUBLIC RELATIONS, AND SPEECH COMMUNICATION:

All students must take and achieve a grade of C- or better in COMM 2000 (Media and Society), and COMM 2010 (The Communication Professional) before registering for further courses in the major that require these as prerequisites. Students pursuing cinema and media arts must take and achieve a grade of C- or better in COMM 2020 (Audio Concepts), COMM 2060 (Video/Cinema Concepts), and COMM 2160 (The Art of Storytelling) to continue progressing in the major. Students pursuing journalism, public relations, or speech communication must achieve a C- or better in COMM 2130 (Writing for the Media) to continue in the major. Students will have two opportunities to earn the required grade.

PORTFOLIO REVIEW AND CAPSTONE

At the completion of the 17-hour foundation sequence (usually at the conclusion of the freshman year), all visual communication design majors are required to complete and pass a foundations portfolio review before proceeding to the next level of study. This review is a degree requirement. Students passing the review may proceed with coursework. Students who do not meet the standards of this proficiency examination may be placed on probation or refused acceptance into the major's programs. Student portfolios receiving probationary status are eligible for re-review in one semester after the completion of additional coursework.

Students at the advanced level, typically late in the junior year, are required to pass an advanced review to enroll in ARTS 4950. This review is also a requirement for graduation. All design and studio arts majors must participate in a senior exhibition and in public presentations of inquiry papers, which are corollary to ARTS 4950.

ARTS COURSES (STUDIO)

- 2010 Introduction to Drawing 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Covers a variety of skills and subject matter attempting to develop visual understanding and sensitivity. Formal art elements relevant to drawing; exploration of various graphic media. Main concerns are concepts of processes and seeing as related to drawing. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 2011 Two-Dimensional Design 3 hrs. (6, 3)
A series of directed studio problems, using a variety of media, concerned with the elements of form and the principles of organization in two-dimensional visual forms. Emphasis on composition, such as Gestalt principles, structural arrangements, and visual communications theories. Students are introduced to a design/research process that is applied to course assignments and to the departmental sketchbook/journal requirement. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each fall.

- 2040 Introduction to Painting 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Introduction to concepts and processes of painting. Basic problems of space, image, and color explored. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review, or instructor's written consent. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 2042 Three-Dimensional Design 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Introduce basic physical forces and laws, how these affect materials, and how structures are designed in relation to these conditions. Students are introduced to a three-dimensional design/research process that makes use of models in relation to graphic information. Preparatory work culminates in pieces that explore materials, objects, contexts, and time. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2060 Intermediate Drawing 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Explorations of drawing concepts relevant to various media and fields of art. Emphasizes investigative aspects of drawing, using the human figure, its critical analysis, and relationship to space and environment. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2092 Introduction to Photography 3 hrs. (6, 3)
An introduction to the use of the camera as a creative tool to extend the possibilities of black and white visual imagery by incorporating time, light, movement, value, and forms. Traditional darkroom techniques along with digital approaches to image production are explored. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2900 Concept Studio Seminar 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Provides a framework that students can explore their personal concepts derived from major themes in art. Students develop concepts/themes both technically and formally. Students learn to analyze the relationship between content and form: how form and content dialogue in relation to one another. Exploration of an idea or concept in various media will be illustrated from research of historical and contemporary artists and through process work. This structured analysis and exploration provides a framework towards the understanding of how student artists can develop their own ideas within their art. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review, or instructor's written consent. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. LAST OFFERING: 2015-2016.
- 3110 Visual Design Studio 3 hrs. (6, 3)
An introduction to the practice of graphic design. Students engage in studio problems that explore the communicative potential of visual symbol making. The meaningful interrelation of text and image is investigated through the integration of drawing, photography, illustration, and typography. Students also begin to develop an individual design methodology that includes textual and visual research, explorative design thinking, appropriate visual/verbal presentation approaches, and critique skills. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 3114 Human Experience in Design 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Introductory study of the interrelation among form, concept, and context as they participate in the relationship between artists/designers/makers and audience/viewers/users. Through the execution of projects employing layout, illustration, and photo-imaging software, students examine aspects of the complexities of visual communication. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 3120 Intermediate Painting 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Exploration of concepts, processes, and materials used in painting today. More individualized approach stressed. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2040. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each spring. LAST OFFERING 2016-2017.

- 3310 Typography Studio 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Introduction to history, aesthetics, and process of typography. Examines layout formats and the interrelationships of text, display types, composition, and content. Study of letter forms and designing with type. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 3110, 3114. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 3330 Introduction to Printmaking 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Introduction to hand-drawn, photographic, and digital relief printmaking techniques as explored through intaglio, woodblock, and monotype. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 2010, 2011, 2042, 2060; ARTH 2020, 2100. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 3420 Design Through Print Production 3 hrs. (6, 3)
A comprehensive exploration of the importance and impact of printing on design thinking and practice. Students learn digital and photomechanical approaches to preparing design applications for commonly used printing methods in the profession. Students will conceptualize, design, and prepare artwork for printing, and will receive hands-on experience with operating a printing press. Printing experiences include letterpress, lithography, and serigraphy. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 3110, 3114. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 3860 General Studies in Art and Design Practicum 1-2 hrs. (arranged)
Students are placed in design or fine art studios to experience in-studio methods and production techniques, develop appropriate language and communication skills, and work with professional artists and designers in assisting with client-based or commissioned projects. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: One 3000-level ARTS course. LAST OFFERING: 2015-2016.
- 3940 Advanced Studio Projects 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Students complete self-directed projects in either two- or three-dimensional disciplines, meet regularly for collective review and criticism, and focus on problems related to the development and continuity of studio portfolios. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations review; completion of first and second levels in the studio area for which projects are proposed. CONSENT: Faculty panel. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. LAST OFFERING: 2015-2016.
- 4114 Design for Digital Media 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Advanced study and application of systems, principles, and procedures underlying the practice of graphic design as related to digitally based projects. Introduction to interactive digital media technology and the impact upon design professions. Students encounter the complexities of working with clients and vendors in the realization of designed electronic materials and virtual environments. Interdisciplinary design teams work to structure design problems to develop well-organized solutions. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 3110, 3114, 3310, 3420. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 4310 Design for Print Media 3 hrs. (6, 3)
Advanced study and application of systems, principles, and procedures underlying the practice of graphic design as related to print-based projects. Students encounter the complexities of working with clients and vendors in the realization of designed materials and environments. Interdisciplinary design teams work to structure design problems to develop well-organized solutions. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 3110, 3114, 3310, 3420. REPEAT: May be repeated one time for credit. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 4420 Design Methodology 2 hrs. (4, 2)
Research and communication theory and practice related to practicum experiences. Series of meetings and discussions with visiting experts. PREREQUISITE: ARTS 4114, 4310. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 4650 Special Projects in Art (Two-Dimensional) 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Exploration of specific problems in students' areas of concentration, carried out independently with instructor. EXPECTATION: Appropriate introductory and intermediate-level experience. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated. LAST OFFERING: 2015-2016.

- 4930 Comprehensive Projects Preparation 1 hr. (1, 0)
 Development of inquiry paper utilizing inquiry-based research approach. Exhibition planning. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations and advanced reviews. CONSENT: Faculty panel. REPEAT: May be repeated. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 4950 Comprehensive Projects 4 hrs. (4, 2)
 Students prepare portfolios, written inquiry papers, and concluding exhibitions. It is recommended that visual arts education majors complete student teaching in the semester preceding this course. EXPECTATION: Passed foundations and advanced reviews. CONSENT: Faculty panel. OFFERED: Each semester.

COMM COURSES

- 1000 Introduction to Speech Communication 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Fundamentals of communication with emphasis on interpersonal, small group, and public communication experiences. OFFERED: Each semester and summers.
- 2000 Media and Society 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Examination of major print and electronic media in terms of historical development, functions, structures, and issues. Entry course to communication arts program. COREQUISITE: COMM 2010. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2010 The Communication Professional 1 hr. (1, 0)
 Orientation to working in the media, professional attitudes and expectations, planning a career, and developing a professional portfolio. COREQUISITE: COMM 2000. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2020 Audio Concepts and Production 3 hrs. (3, 1)
 Introduction to the basic tools, disciplines, and concepts of audio production. Students will hone skills in announcing, recording, mixing, and digital editing utilizing current audio hardware and software. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2060 Video/Cinema Concepts 2 hrs. (2, 2)
 Introduction to the tools, disciplines, and concepts of video/cinema production. Topics and practices include theory of video/cinema, visual space, camera operation, graphics, digital editing, directing, and producing utilizing current video/cinema hardware and software. Both multi-camera and single-camera production opportunities. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010, 2020, 2200. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 2130 Writing for the Media 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Research and writing in a variety of media, with an emphasis on news, features, public relations, and commercial copy. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2140 Audio/Video/Cinema Production for Journalists and PR Practitioners 3 hrs. (3, 2)
 Introduction to the basic knowledge, disciplines, and skills required of journalists and public relations practitioners in the areas of audio, video, and cinema production. Includes digital single-camera production, audio and video editing of news stories, prompter use, etc. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010, 2200. OFFERED: 2016-2017.
- 2160 The Art of Storytelling 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to theme, plot, story arc, character, and narrative view as told through cinema and media arts. Particular emphasis on screenwriting. Additional topics Include finding stories, adapting to the audience, and proper written form for different media. Includes daily writing assignments. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2200 Visual Communication 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to typography, color theory, photography, and design principles for print, Internet, and video/cinema communication. Instruction in the appropriate production technologies. OFFERED: Each semester.

- 2240 Public Relations Foundations 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to public relations: history, environment, processes, tools, and practices. Concepts are reinforced through current event discussions and the development of a basic public relations plan. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010. OFFERED: Each fall.
- 2320 Television Studio Production 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Intermediate course on the studio production process with an emphasis on producing, directing, and viewing the production process as a collaborative effort. Programs include news, drama, and other basic television genres. Students rotate through all crew positions. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010, 2060. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 2410 Communication for Language Arts 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Advanced communication for the language arts teaching major. Course content includes intrapersonal and interpersonal communication, listening, verbal and nonverbal communication, small group dynamics, and oral interpretation. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 2420 Field, Soundstage, and Postproduction 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Intermediate practice of the single camera video/cinema production process in the field. Involves preproduction planning, producing, directing, cinematography, and digital editing. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2060. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 2550 Appreciation of Great Speeches 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Examination of historic and contemporary speeches to develop understanding and appreciation of the elements by which great speeches are valued. PREREQUISITE: COMM 1000. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 2840 Fifth Street Communications® Staff 1 hr. (arranged)
Practical experience in a student-staffed public relations agency primarily serving not-for-profit organizations. Emphasis is on researching client needs, developing appropriate and high-quality communication deliverables, and providing outstanding customer service to clients. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130, 2240. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 4 hours. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2850 Andersonian Staff 1 hr. (arranged)
Involves working in staff positions on the student newspaper, the Andersonian. Responsibilities include planning, writing, editing, and designing content for both the print and electronic platforms. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 4 hours. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2860 WQME/Covenant Productions® Staff 1 hr. (arranged)
Professional experience in daily operation of WQME FM or Covenant Productions®. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010. Experience with Covenant Productions® also requires COMM 2060 as a prerequisite. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 4 hours. GRADE: CR/NC registration. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 2880 Debate Practicum 1 hr. (1, 1)
Practical experience in debate; involves participation on debate team. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 4 hours. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 3000 Communication Theories 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Historical background, research methods, and a range of theoretical approaches to communication and the mass media, including persuasion, propaganda, and social/political effects. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010; upper-division standing. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 3110 Intercultural Communication 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Survey of the field of intercultural communication. Topics include verbal and nonverbal cues, thinking styles, conflict, and political and sociological factors affecting communication. Christian missionary activities are used as a context for study during part of the course. PREREQUISITE: COMM 1000. OFFERED: 2015-2016.

- 3120 The Business of Cinema and Media Arts 3 hrs. (3, 0)
A survey of the distribution of radio and television programs, and film through traditional and new media. Topics include structures, sales, programming, audience measurement, promotions, and distribution. PREREQUISITE: Upper-division standing. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 3130 Advanced Newswriting and Reporting 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Study of advanced research, interviewing, and newswriting techniques, with emphasis on print, video, and new-media formats. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130. OFFERED: 2016-2017.
- 3150 Speechwriting and Presentation 2 hrs. (2, 0)
The art of writing speeches for self and others, applying various audience and situational strategies, responding to ethical dilemmas, and coaching others in public speaking. PREREQUISITE: COMM 1000. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3160 Motion Graphics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Design, creation and technique related to motion graphics for television and cinema. Primary tools are Photoshop and After Effects. Includes 2D and 3D animation, compositing and visual effects. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2200. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3200 Communication Ethics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
The examination of ethical standards and decision-making processes in journalism, public relations, advertising, and entertainment media. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010; upper-division standing. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 3210 Argumentation and Persuasion 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Examines persuasion theories, ethical influence, social influence theories, compliance gaining, critical thinking, argument development, and presentation (debate) in oral communication. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3220 Screenwriting 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Conception and scripting, of comedy, drama, and other genres. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3230 Advanced Feature and Magazine Writing 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Emphasis on conception and production of feature articles, including trend stories and personality profiles, for publication in newspapers and magazines as well as broadcast media. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 3240 Public Relations Campaigns 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Nature, development, and application of principles of public relations planning and implementation. Identification of stakeholders and their interests, and public relations for specialized fields. Emphasis is on learning about and from public relations campaigns through the last century. Application of public relations concepts to a variety of situations. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2240. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 3250 Event Planning and Management 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Introduction to event planning, execution, and evaluation. Coursework includes concepts and principles of event management and project management, as well as practical application of learned concepts. Emphasis is on understanding and using planning tools to meet organizational goals. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130, 2240. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 3310 Interpersonal Communication 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Analyzes how individuals relate to one another in various interpersonal situations (dyadic, family, small groups, etc.) and the communication skills needed for those situations. Includes topics such as self-disclosure, group dynamics, gender differences, and critical listening. PREREQUISITE: Upper-division standing. OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 3330 Communication Design 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Study of communication graphics with desktop publishing technology. Application of design principles to newspapers, magazines, newsletters, miscellaneous publications, and websites. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2200. Open to departmental majors and minors only. OFFERED: 2016-17.

- 3340 Public Relations Writing 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Writing of effective public relations materials, use of persuasion techniques, and study of procedures for dissemination of public information. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130, 2240. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3370 Communicating through Social Media 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Study of social media communication strategy and execution; specific topics Include modifying messages for various media, managing online reputation, and understanding and developing social media policies. Course projects include development of social media messages and strategy. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 3420 Cinema Studies 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An overview of motion pictures, including history, mise en scène, elements of production, and the critique. Involves the review of several major motion pictures and the context of their creation. OFFERED: 2016-17.
- 3440 Public Relations Research 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Introduction to media and communication research methods, including reviewing secondary research, developing surveys, performing communication audits, and conducting interviews and focus groups. Emphasis is on understanding the types of research, identifying benefits and risks of each type, and choosing the correct type of research given time and cost restraints. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2130, 2240. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 3860 Practicum in Event Management 1-2 hrs.
Application of principles of successful event planning and management. Students will work with a local organization to implement and evaluate an event. PREREQUISITE: COMM 3250. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 4000 Communication Law 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Provides an understanding and appreciation of American legal traditions surrounding freedom of speech and of the press as well as an examination of libel, slander, privacy, copyright, trademark, entertainment law, and free press/fair trial issues. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2000, 2010; upper-division standing. OFFERED: Each spring.
- 4120 Advanced Video Production 3 hrs. (3, 1)
The capstone teleproduction course. Advanced theory and practice. Students will produce content for air on local or national television and for submission at film festivals. PREREQUISITE: COMM 2060, 2420; upper-division standing. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 4440 Advanced Public Relations Research 1-2 hrs.
Practice of good research principles and public relations research methods. Students will design and implement a research project and produce a research report. PREREQUISITE: COMM 3340. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 4750 Strategies for Teaching Speech 1 hr. (1, 0)
Surveys the content of a secondary-level speech class, evaluation methods, and extra-curricular activities related to the speech classroom. Does not apply toward major or minor. OFFERED: Each semester.
- 4800 Internship 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Opportunity for advanced work off campus in the area of specialization at a radio or TV station, production or film-related company, newspaper, magazine, public relations agency, or other relevant environment. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: Majors and minors only, upper-division standing. OFFERED: Each semester and summers.
- 4900 Seminar in Communication 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Intensive study of selected topics in historical or contemporary communication. Topics vary. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.

Computer Science

Prof. Koontz, chair; Prof. Blanchard, Dr. Coy

Objectives of the computer science program are:

- to educate students in the uses of computers;
- to prepare students to be problem solvers, using computers where appropriate, in jobs such as programming and systems analysis, engineering, and administration;
- to prepare students for graduate study; and
- to present a balanced view of computers and their applications.

To meet these objectives, the computer science curriculum combines a sound theoretical base in computer science with practical, hands-on experience.

The Department of Computer Science offers four standard majors — computer science, computer science-mathematics, computational physics, and information systems. Also, for students wishing to add a computing option to an existing major, two complementary majors are offered — business-information systems and computer science.

Students completing one of these majors along with a minor involving courses from this major must present a minimum of 12 hours toward the minor that do not apply toward the major.

Students majoring in computer science are urged to complete additional coursework in mathematics, accounting, business administration, physics, or related areas. Students pursuing a major or minor in computer science should begin with CPSC 1400.

Computer science majors pursuing a second major within the department may present no more than 15 hours common to both majors.

MAJORS

COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJOR (51-52 hours)

- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2100, 2400, 2500, 3430, 4500
- MATH 2120, 2200
- 8 hours from CPSC courses numbered 2000 or above
- 7-8 hours from MATH courses numbered 1300 or above

COMPUTER SCIENCE - MATHEMATICS MAJOR (51 hours)

- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2100, 2400, 2500, 3300, 4500
- MATH 2010, 2020, 2200, 3010, 3020
- 4 hours from CPSC 2010 or additional CPSC or MATH courses numbered 3000 or above

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MAJOR (52 hours)

- CPSC 1100, 1400, 1500, 2010, 2100, 2400, 4500
- MATH 2200
- 3 hours from additional MATH course numbered 1300 or above
- 6 hours from ACCT 2010 and 2020; or BSNS 2710 and 3240; or BSNS 3400 and 4400
- 6 additional hours from:
 - ACCT 2010, 2020
 - BSNS 2710, 3200, 3230, 3240, 3400, 4400

- 6-7 hours from CPSC courses numbered 2000 or above; MATH 2010; up to 3 hours from BSNS courses numbered 3000 or above

COMPUTER SCIENCE COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (32 hours)

- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2100, 4500
- 12 hours from any three of the following courses: CPSC 1200, 2010, 2400, 2500, 3300, 3430, 4100, 4430, 4650, 4800
- 4 hours from one of the following courses: MATH 2010, 2020, 2120, 2200

BUSINESS - INFORMATION SYSTEMS COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (31 hours)

- ACCT 2010
- BSNS 2710, 2810, 3400, 4400
- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2100
- 4 hours from one of the following courses: CPSC 1200, 2300, 2400, 2800, 3430, 3800, 4100, 4500, 4800

COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS

The solutions to certain physics problems can only be modeled with computers, and doing so requires a background in computer programming and numerical algorithms. A background in computer science, math, and physics is valuable in the workplace and is an excellent undergraduate background for anyone wishing to pursue graduate studies in any of the aforementioned disciplines. Furthermore, students wishing to pursue careers in industry will be prepared to meet the growing skill set needed to be successful in technical careers.

All computational physics majors are required to complete a math minor, and it is recommended that it includes MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, and 3020.

COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS MAJOR (65 hours)

- PHYS 2240, 2250, 4210, 4220, 4510, 4910, 4920
- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2500, 4430
- One of CPSC 2100, 2400*, 3410, or 4500
- ENGR 2070
- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020
- In addition to the above listed math minor, students must complete MATH 3100 and MATH/CPSC 3300
- Remaining hours from 3000 Level or above PHYS or CPSC Courses.

 Requires MATH 2200 or computer science department approval.*

MINORS

COMPUTER SCIENCE MINOR (16 hours)

- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2400
- CPSC 2300 or MATH 2200

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MINOR (15 hours)

The minor in information systems is designed for individuals who need to apply computers to business-related problems or for those who wish to complement any degree with marketable computer skills.

- CPSC 1100 or BSNS 3400
- CPSC 1200 or 1400
- CPSC 1500 or 2010
- CPSC 2100 or 2300

CPSC COURSES

- 1100 Business Computer Applications 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An introduction to computing skills useful in solving complex business problems. Core topics include document management, use of spreadsheets, relational database design, introduction to SQL, presentation graphics, and XHTML. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency (see Liberal Arts Program in this catalog).
- 1200 Introduction to Web Programming 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to program design and development using HTML and an Internet scripting language. Emphasis is on problem solving, algorithm development, and issues related to Web publishing. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency (see Liberal Arts Program in this catalog).
- 1400 Computer Science I 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Introduction to disciplined, object-oriented program development. Topics include a survey of computer architecture and systems, problem solving and algorithm development, data types and variables, control-of-flow structures, and virtual machines. This course also introduces topics related to net-centric and event-driven programming. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency (see Liberal Arts Program in this catalog).
- 1500 Computer Science II 4 hrs. (4, 0)
This course builds upon the topics covered in Computer Science I and provides experience developing complex applications. Topics include net-centric computing, arrays, file processing, object modeling using UML, and object-oriented programming (writing classes). PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1400.
- 1650 Independent Study 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Independent study under faculty direction. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 1900 Special Topics 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Topics offered as demand and opportunity warrant, including, but not restricted to, advanced computer networking and distributed systems. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 2010 Visual Programming 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An examination of human-computer interaction theory and Visual Basic.NET programming language. Topics include control-of-flow structures, private methods and parameter passing, relational database access using control objects, and writing classes with public properties and public methods. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1200 or 1400.
- 2100 Database Programming 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Study of relational database management systems and information storage and retrieval techniques. Topics include ERD and UML modeling, normalization, SQL and Transact-SQL programming, stored procedures, system and aggregate functions, triggers, transaction processing, concurrency control, and n-tier program architecture. Laboratory exercises provide experience developing Windows and Web database front-ends and experience with personal database management systems and database servers. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500 or 2010.
- 2300 Systems Administration 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to systems administration. This course focuses on services provided by inter-networked computer operating systems with an emphasis on applying concepts to the support and administration of commercial software products. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1400.
- 2400 Computer Organization and Architecture 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to digital logic and digital systems, the basic hardware used in modern digital computers, the machine-level representation of data, and the assembly-level representation of instructions. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500.
- 2500 Computer Science III 4 hrs. (4, 0)
In-depth study of data structures and algorithms and the use of abstract data types to facilitate problem solving. Searching and sorting techniques will be applied to appropriate data structures. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500.

- 2650 Independent Study 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Independent study under faculty direction. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 2800 Computer Science Internship 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Participation under professional supervision in business and industry, and experience with people in a production environment. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated. GRADE: CR/NC registration.
- 2900 Special Topics 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Topics offered as demand and opportunity warrant, including, but not restricted to, computer graphics and artificial intelligence. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 3300 Numerical Analysis 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to numerical algorithms fundamental to scientific and mathematical computer use. Solutions of transcendental, polynomial, and differential equations; matrix algebra; linear programming; numerical integration and differentiation; Monte Carlo methods; and curve fitting. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1400, MATH 2020. OFFERED: 2015-16. SAME AS: CPSC 3300.
- 3400 Theory and Design of Programming Languages 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Examines the various programming languages that have been developed to solve problems. Examines semantics and syntax used in the design of programming languages. Students will write programs in computer languages that demonstrate procedural, functional, object-oriented, and logic programming. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2400.
- 3410 Computer Networks 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Students will gain in-depth knowledge of networking protocols and technologies, including their relationship to net-centric computing. The course will cover current and emerging technologies, including the Internet, Ethernet, ATM, and wireless. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2400.
- 3430 Client/Server Programming 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Students will gain an understanding of the complexity of distributed systems by studying and implementing in comparable client/server environments. Additional topics include human computer interaction theory and technical analysis of database connectivity and web services. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500 or 2010.
- 3510 Java Programming 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to object-oriented programming using Java. Topics include recursion, dynamic data structures, file processing, and sorting and searching algorithms. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500.
- 3520 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to the basic programming techniques of artificial intelligence and implementations on various programming languages used for AI. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500.
- 3530 Introduction to Computer Graphics 4 hrs. (4, 0)
An introduction to computer graphics with emphasis on developing, modifying, and rendering graphics displays in both two- and three-dimensions. C++ or similar programming language will be used in developing applications. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1500.
- 3650 Independent Study 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Independent study under faculty direction. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 3800 Computer Science Internship 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Participation under professional supervision in business and industry, and experience with people in a production environment. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated. GRADE: CR/NC registration.
- 3900 Special Topics 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Topics offered as demand and opportunity warrant, including, but not restricted to, advanced computer networking, distributed systems, computer graphics, and artificial intelligence. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.

- 4100 Advanced Database Systems 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Lecture and discussion of advanced topics in data management is combined with implementation, administration, and research using a current RDBMS. Lecture/discussion includes database tuning, distributed databases, data warehousing, and the interrelationship of relational and object databases. The course emphasizes applying technical research and planning to provide robust and efficient solutions. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2100.
- 4420 Operating Systems 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Students will investigate the internal operation and external services of computer operating systems. Traditional topics of process, memory, I/O, and storage management are covered fully. Additional advanced and applied topics will be used to reinforce key concepts. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2400.
- 4430 Software Methods and Engineering 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Students will study and practice common techniques and methodologies for implementing large software systems that are correct, clear, and maintainable. Large-scale systems benefit from tools and techniques that differ from typical student experience. Project work will be evaluated on application of these software engineering practices. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2100; CPSC 2010 or 3430.
- 4500 Computer Science Senior Capstone 4 hrs. (4, 0)
This course provides graduating seniors with experiences in communicating technical information. Students will use UML, a relational database management system, and an object-oriented programming language to develop a prototype software application. Students will also explore and discuss ethical issues related to their major and interact with guest speakers. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 2100.
- 4650 Independent Study 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Independent study under faculty direction. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 4800 Computer Science Internship 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Participation under professional supervision in business and industry, and experience with people in a production environment. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated. GRADE: CR/NC registration.
- 4900 Special Topics 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Topics offered as demand and opportunity warrant, including, but not restricted to, advanced computer networking, distributed systems, computer graphics, and artificial intelligence. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated.

Preparing Teachers of Excellence

The mission of the teacher education program is to develop professional educators through our core values to meet the needs of all learners. The School of Education core values are lifelong learning, excellence in content and pedagogy, Christian character, relationships through service, and intercultural competence in the classroom.

In line with the university's mission, the School of Education (SOE) seeks to produce teachers of excellence by integrating learning and Christian faith to prepare professional educators to be effective for teaching and serving in a global society. The teacher education program is anchored in Anderson University's commitment to the liberal arts curriculum for the humanities, fine arts, mathematics, and social and natural sciences as the essential foundation for developing competent educators.

The teacher preparation program at Anderson University is designed and guided by the essential beliefs of the importance of optimal learning environments characterized by integrity, a sense of community, experiential learning combined with traditional classroom patterns, emphasis on international and intercultural experiences, and the fulfillment of an educational mission that prepares students to act responsibly.

Education programs at the undergraduate level are based on essential knowledge, established and current research findings, and sound professional practice. The InTASC Principles, developmental standards of the Office of Educator Licensing and Development, the philosophies and practices of the SOE and its content area faculty, and the collaborative P-12 educators guide the philosophy, objectives, and outcomes of the initial programs. The School of Education offers undergraduate professional education in courses leading to licensing at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. Students graduating from the program are defined as "highly qualified," meeting the No Child Left Behind required status for teachers.

Graduates of the AU teacher preparation program will be teachers of quality who are reflective in their practice and see the integration of character education within their teaching as a professional responsibility.

SOE graduates possess the following characteristics:

- Professional Commitment: The teacher is committed to building relationships with students, parents, and colleagues and is committed to the profession by involvement in professional development, leadership, and decision-making roles within the school and community.
- Teachers of Quality and Competence: The quality teacher encompasses the traits of constructivism, reflective practitioner, inclusion of all students into the learning process, and analysis of the factors that affect teaching and learning. Through such analysis, the teacher is continually developing understandings regarding what content is important to teach, how students learn, and how to teach so that students will learn.
- Character Education: The teacher creates caring environments and maintains ethical and moral environments in the classroom by respecting all students' individual abilities, learning styles, and intellectual desires.

Efforts to renew and improve teacher education by the Indiana Office of Educator Licensing and Development and CAEP result in the regulations and standards governing teacher preparation programs changing periodically. The programs of students admitted into the teacher education program are subject to those changes. Students are advised to meet regularly with their advisors to assure compliance with new requirements.

Teacher Education Preparation Program

The foundation for the teacher education preparation program at AU is the School of Education's Conceptual Framework, which encompasses the knowledge, skills, and dispositions of teacher candidates along with the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) principles. InTASC's primary work is guided on the basic premise: An effective teacher must be able to integrate content knowledge with pedagogical understanding to ensure that all students learn and perform at high levels. The work of students throughout the teacher education preparation program is evaluated by the InTASC principles with student teaching as the culminating experience for incorporation of those principles.

All who wish to major in education, or who wish to seek licensure, must be formally admitted to the teacher education preparation program after completing the prerequisite requirements. These requirements must be met prior to enrolling in upper-division education or subject-specific methods courses and in the teaching semester. Transfer students considering a major in education should meet with the department chair to assess eligibility. Admission to the university neither implies nor guarantees acceptance into the teacher education preparation program.

TEACHER LICENSING

The School of Education teacher education program meets the required licensing standards of the Indiana Office of Educator Licensing and Development and is nationally accredited by the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and regionally accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC). All licensing areas are nationally recognized by meeting the Specialized Professional Association (SPA) Standards. These organizations recognize that Anderson University's School of Education has met rigorous standards and provides high-quality preparation. Upon graduation, students will apply for the Indiana teaching license through the license advisor in the School of Education.

ALTERNATIVE LICENSE PROGRAM: TRANSITION TO TEACHING (POST-BACCALAUREATE)

The Transition to Teaching program is designed for those participants who do not have a degree in education but do have a baccalaureate degree in another field from an accredited institution of higher education and desire to become a teacher at the elementary, middle, or high school level. Candidates must pass a rigorous screening process including IN Core Assessment tests, interviews, and demonstrated mastery of content in the area they wish to be licensed.

PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

For purposes of gauging the entrance level and continued growth of students toward proficiency in the knowledge, skills, and dispositions of the teacher education preparation program, a system of periodic performance assessments is used. Students' work throughout the teacher preparation program is evaluated by the InTASC principles with student teaching as the culminating experience of incorporation of those principles. There are three performance assessment levels, one of which is the formal application for admission to the program. The three performance assessment levels are described in detail in the Teacher Preparation Handbook, available on the School of Education website at www.anderson.edu/soe. Students admitted to the teacher education preparation program are expected to demonstrate growth in the professional dispositions of habits, attitudes, skills, and personal qualities.

Students may be discouraged from attempting to complete preparation for a career in teaching if continuing assessments by the School of Education faculty determine that the student is failing to meet acceptable professional and personal standards specified in the teacher education preparation program.

PRE-ADMISSION – LEVEL I

- Overall GPA of 2.75 is required for admission to EDUC 2030, 2170, 2420.
- Completion of EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110, SPED 2400, and TESL 2420.
- Declaration of education teaching major.
- Submission and verification of a criminal history check. Fees are the responsibility of the student.

FOR APPLICATION AND ADMISSION – LEVEL II

- Elementary education majors must apply and be admitted to the teacher education preparation program before enrolling in any 3000-level education course.
- Senior high/middle school education majors must apply and be admitted to the teacher education preparation program before enrolling in EDUC 3000.
- 3.0 GPA overall, 2.75 in the major content area, and 3.0 in professional education courses.
- The following courses completed with a grade less than C must be repeated: any EDUC course; any SPED course; any TESL course; ENGL 1100, 1110, 1120; MATH 1100, 1110.
- Favorable recommendations from the education faculty and other AU faculty members.
- Satisfactory completion of an interview and assessment of written and oral communication skills.
- Acceptable state passing scores on the Core Academic Skills Test (pre-professional skills test), or satisfactory scores on the SAT or ACT. Test fees are the responsibility of the student.
- Submission and verification of a criminal history check. Fees are the responsibility of the student.

PROFESSIONAL YEAR – LEVEL III (STUDENT TEACHING)

- Present a GPA of 3.0 overall and in professional education courses; 3.0 in content area for licensure.
 - Satisfactory completion of all knowledge, performance, and disposition assessment criteria and any other assessment required by the State of Indiana for licensure.
 - Successful completion of the IN CORE Content Area Assessment Tests, including the pedagogy test. Test fees are the responsibility of the student.
 - Submission and verification of a criminal history check. Fees are the responsibility of the student.
- Completion of Suicide Prevention Training
Current CPR certificate. Fees are the responsibility of the student.

Education Field Experiences

Opportunities are provided for education students to spend extended time working with students and a classroom teacher in field experiences. These experiences provide practical applications to the theories presented in concurrent education classes. Pre-student teaching experience, including the use of video, distance learning, computer discussion groups, school observation, and participation, are required of all students in the program. All field experiences are supervised by university personnel. Students in the teacher education program are required by local school districts to obtain a full criminal history check each year before entering the classroom for field experience. This document and accompanying fees are the responsibility of the student.

STUDENT TEACHING (CLINICAL PRACTICE)

Teacher candidates have two options for their professional year: yearlong student teaching experience (30 weeks) or traditional one semester of 16 weeks. The student teaching experience provides students with opportunities to plan and implement instruction, manage the classroom, evaluate student progress, communicate with other professionals and parents, and develop as professional educators under the supervision and mentoring of university and P-12 school personnel. Students are strongly discouraged from employment on or off campus during their student teaching semester. Students must pass CASA, CORE content area tests, and Developmental (Pedagogy) Area Assessments, attend Suicide Prevention Training, and be CPR certified prior to student teaching. Students are responsible for all fees associated with the Indiana CORE Assessment tests.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT TEACHING PLACEMENTS

International teaching placements are designed to provide students with experiences in a comprehensive setting for study of the education, cultural expressions, and social issues related to teaching in another culture. These unique opportunities provide students with an expanded cultural perspective and cross-cultural skills.

Each semester the School of Education's Office of Clinical Experiences, the Office of International and Intercultural Studies, and the Christian College Teacher Education Coordinating Council (CCTECC) coordinate the placement of student teachers around the world to complete their student teaching requirement. Since 1990, CCTECC has placed more than 1,700 teachers in schools around the world. All students are required to complete 16 weeks of student teaching in their area of specialization (elementary education, secondary history, etc.). Student teachers may choose an international placement for eight of those 16 weeks. In the past, students have been placed in South America, Asia, Africa, Europe, the Middle East, Australia, and New Zealand. The International and Intercultural Studies faculty and staff will work with you to design the best experience for your needs.

Students must apply to the School of Education for international student teaching placements. All fees and costs associated with international placement are the responsibility of the student.

Dual Licensing Areas

The School of Education defines a dual license as an approved program leading to licensure in addition to the initial license. In order to receive a second license, an individual must hold or be eligible to hold an initial or first teaching license. Those with an initial certification may add on and receive certification in one or more of the following areas:

- Special Education (combined with Elementary License or Secondary Content License)
- English as a New/Second Language (combined with Elementary License or Secondary Content License)
- Early Childhood Education (combined with Elementary License)

EARLY CHILDHOOD

The early childhood minor is designed to provide Elementary Education/K-6 initial program majors with a viable option to complete a concentration area of study in early childhood. This program will provide teacher candidates with the option for dual licensure in Elementary Education (K-6) and early childhood (birth-age 8). In addition to serving the School of Education, the early childhood minor also has the capability to serve majors in related fields of study (for example: Christian ministry or family science). (15 hrs.)

Early Childhood courses for licensure:

- EDUC 2430, 2440, 3410, 3420, 3800

SPECIAL EDUCATION (GRADES P-12)

The goal for graduates of Anderson University's special education program is to develop a high level of competence for working with students of mild disabilities in inclusive/integrated school settings.

Under the title of Elementary/Secondary and Special Education Dual Licensing Program, teacher education students seeking a teaching license in special education will also major in elementary or a secondary education content area. The dual licensing program is designed to prepare teacher education students to work with students of special needs who participate in inclusionary classrooms and require mild levels of support or mild interventions to be successful. AU does not prepare teachers to work with students with severe disabilities.

Graduates will receive a special education exceptional needs mild intervention (MI) license for learning disabilities, mild mental disabilities, emotional disabilities, orthopedic disabilities, and mild interventions. This combination of special education and elementary/secondary content major prepares students well for the competitive job market. All accompanying Indiana CORE Assessment tests for Indiana license and costs are the responsibility of the student. (15 hrs.)

Special Education Courses for Licensure:

- SPED 2400, 2500, 3000, 3120, 4200

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING PROGRAM: ENGLISH AS A NEW LANGUAGE TEACHING LICENSURE AND TESOL MINOR

The English Language Teaching Program has two tracks: a dual-licensure program intended for those working towards an education major and a TESOL program for those not intending to receive a teaching license but who wish to have the skills to teach English in various settings overseas or domestically. The core of this program provides a strong foundation for teaching English as a second or foreign language and develops a strong sense of cultural competency. Teachers are empowered to build on students' wealth of knowledge in their heritage languages and cultures, creating diverse learning experiences for all learners. Graduates will be prepared to work effectively with culturally and linguistically diverse students who require content instruction and support in the classroom while gaining proficiency in English. Rigorous course content aligned with professional and state standards, challenging field experiences, and frequent opportunities for reflection ensure that students meet the needs of all learners in a variety of educational settings. All accompanying Indiana CORE Assessment tests for Indiana license and costs are the responsibility of the student. (15-17 hours)

NOTE: EL licensure and the granting of a program completion letter for TESOL require a C in all required content courses.

TESOL MINOR TRACKS

ENL TEACHING LICENSURE:

- TESL 2400, 3500, 4550, 4590, 4850
- EDUC 4900 (highly recommended for elementary education majors)

TESOL (NON-LICENSURE):

- TESL 2400, 2500, 4550, 4590, 4850
- TESL 3500 can be taken as a complementary course but is not required. It may be taken in place of TESL 2500 under certain circumstances if approved by the program director.

Reading Education Minor

The reading education minor is designed to strengthen the preparation of elementary teachers and their teaching skills in the areas of reading, writing, and language arts. The program provides advanced study in research-based, differentiated literacy programs instruction. The reading education minor prepares students for the Indiana Content Area Assessment in Reading. Candidates that pass this exam are eligible to apply for an Indiana license in reading. (18 hrs.)

- EDUC 2200, 3300, 2730, 4850, 4900, 4910, 4920 (italicized courses are required of all elementary education candidates)
- SPED 3300 or other 3-hour course approved by the program director.

Education Teaching Majors

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION — GRADES K-6

Includes licensing as a generalist with developmental areas of kindergarten through grade 6. All elementary majors must have a minor or concentration along with their elementary major. The minor or concentration does not have to lead to licensing, but the department strongly suggests choosing a minor or concentration that will enhance their major, such as early childhood, English as a New/Second Language, reading minor, or special education (mild intervention).

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION MAJOR (46-56 hours)

- EDUC 2000, 2030, 2100, 2110, 2170, 2200, 2520, 2730, 3120, 3140, 3300, 4120, 4310, 4320, 4930; SPED 2400, 3300; TESL 2420, TESL 3500
- Student teaching (10 credit hours; may be repeated up to a maximum of 22 hours): EDUC 4010

Additional courses required for early childhood licensing, English language teaching licensing, special education licensing, or a reading minor.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION COGNATE (18 hours)

- PHYS 1030; HIST 2000; MATH 1110; PETE 3710; EDUC 2520, SPED 3300

SENIOR HIGH/MIDDLE SCHOOL — GRADES 5-12

Includes licensing in a specific content area and developmental areas of early adolescence (middle school, grades 5-9) and adolescence/young adult (high school, grades 5-12). Students must complete School of Education requirements as well as requirements of their specific secondary teaching program. Students must also complete liberal arts requirements (see Liberal Arts Program in this catalog).

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS (33-37 hours)

- EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110, 2520, 2720, 3000, 3100, 3120, 4710, 4930; SPED 2400; TESL2420, TESL 3500
- Student teaching (10-22 credit hours): EDUC 4010
- Special Methods 4700 required for professional semester (these courses are listed in the catalog under various captions; see departments listed below)

SECONDARY TEACHING PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the School of Education requirements listed above, students must complete requirements for their specific secondary teaching programs. Requirements for the secondary teaching programs listed below may be found in the catalog sections of the departments listed in parentheses.

- Language Arts Teaching Major (English)
- Mathematics Teaching Major (Mathematics)
- Social Studies Teaching Major (History and Political Science)
- Spanish Teaching Major (Modern Foreign Languages)
- TeachScience Complementary Teaching Major (Biology; Chemistry and Physics)

ALL GRADES — P-12

- English as a New Language Teaching Program Dual license area: Grades P-12 (School of Education)
- Music Education Major: Grades P-12 (Music)
- Physical Education Major: Grades P-12 (Kinesiology)

EDUCATION (NON-LICENSE) MAJOR OR MINOR

Students who seek non-teaching careers related to the education of children or youth (such as child life, camps, religious education) may choose to pursue a non-license major or minor in education, which does not satisfy teacher education licensing requirements for the State of Indiana.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN EDUCATION MAJOR (NON-LICENSE)

- 30 hours (subject to change) from approved School of Education courses
- Required Courses: EDUC 2000, 2030, 2100, 2110, 2170, 2200, 3140, 4810; PETE 3710; TESL 2420; SPED 2400

EDUCATION MINOR

- 16 hours from approved School of Education courses that include the following courses: EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110, 4810; SPED 2400; TESL 2420

EDUC COURSES

- 2000 Teaching as a Profession 2 hrs. (2, 1)
 Designed for the prospective teacher education student to examine and understand one's values, beliefs, motivations, and goals; to be aware of and able to evaluate one's personal learning characteristics; to be knowledgeable about the developmental stages in becoming a teacher; and to develop a view of education as related to self, students, teachers, schools, community, the teaching profession, foundations, reform, and the future. The course draws heavily upon class participation, classroom observations, research, and oral and written communication skills. Required of all education majors. Grade of C or better required. Prerequisite for all education courses in professional sequence.
- 2030 Learning and Teaching Mathematics in the Elementary Classroom 3 hrs. (3, 1)
 Develops content and pedagogical knowledge through state and national standards for the development and delivery of a well-designed, standards-based mathematics curriculum. Presentation of instructional materials, methods, and assessment related to elementary school mathematics are part of the course activities. Field experiences required. Portfolio artifacts required. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: MATH 1100, 1110; EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 2100 Child and Adolescent Development 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 The primary focus of this course is on characteristics of growth and development of young children through adolescence, including physical, psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional aspects. Required of all education majors. Grade of C or better required.

- 2110 Educational Psychology: Learning in the Schools 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 An introduction to the application of psychological principles to the challenges of education. This course examines the theoretical and applied aspects of learning, motivation, human development, personality, and measurement and evaluation. This course is required of all education majors. A grade of C or better is required.
- 2170 Teaching I: Curriculum and Instruction for Early Childhood 4 hrs. (4, 2)
 Emphasizes curriculum and planning in the kindergarten and primary grades. Standards-based teaching and planning using developmentally appropriate strategies are stressed. Prominence is on the uniqueness of teaching young children with an introduction to classroom organization and management. Grade of C or better required. Field experiences required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 2200 Foundations of Reading Instruction 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Organization, implementation, and evaluation of reading programs. Focuses on the stages of literacy development, the reading process, planning strategies, and classroom management. Field experiences required, including classroom observation and/or teaching assignments. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITES: EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110, 2170; SPED 2400; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 2520 Technology in the Classroom 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course increases the teacher candidate's awareness of technology concepts and tools as a means of providing differential instruction in a student-centered classroom. The use of current technologies is framed within sound learning theory, proven pedagogical principles, and current professional standards. Students are provided opportunities to develop skills and perceptivity in selecting, applying, integrating, and managing instructional technology in the K-12 classroom.
- 2730 Field Experiences in Reading Processes 1 hr. (0, 2)
 Required of all elementary education majors. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher education program required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2200; 2.75 GPA overall. COREQUISITE: EDUC 3300.
- 2850 Practicum in Leadership Skills 2 hrs. (1, 2)
 An introduction to training assertiveness, communication, helping, and negotiation skills. Students receive direct feedback on their performance and gain experience in co-leadership and team building. Required for youth leadership-development majors. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: PSYC 2100. GRADE: CR/NC registration. SAME AS: PSYC/SOCI 2850.
- 3000 Teaching Literacy Skills in Middle and High School Content Areas 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 In this course, students will examine research and instructional approaches to help improve the literacy of adolescents and adults. The course is focused on current research that looks at the complexities of the reading process and how the process can be improved upon in content area classrooms. Students will design a lesson plan based upon the School of Education's lesson plan format, including related activities to be implemented in the plan, research-based reading strategies, and focused purposes for reading. The lesson plan will be submitted electronically via TK20. Through reflective writing, students will be able to assess their understanding of literacy in the classroom and their growth in the appropriate use of a variety of reading strategies. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher education program required. PREREQUISITE: 2.75 GPA overall.
- 3100 The Middle School in the United States 3 hrs. (2, 2)
 This course is an introduction to teaching strategies for meeting the special needs of the young adolescent student. Physical, emotional, social, and intellectual changes prompt the teacher to use developmentally appropriate instruction in order to engage the young adolescent student and to motivate these students to achieve. Teaching methods, such as real-life situations, cooperative learning, hands-on experiences, and lesson planning are emphasized. Historical patterns and philosophy of the middle-school movement, with a focus on how to teach this age group, are included. A required practicum is embedded in this course as a field experience in a middle school and is linked to the coursework. Required of all secondary education majors. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2100, 2110 and TESOL 2420; 2.75 GPA overall. Expectation: Admission to Teacher Education Program.

- 3120 Educational Assessment for the Classroom Teacher 3 hrs. (3, 0)
This course is designed to prepare elementary and secondary teacher candidates with a strong knowledge base about assessments and their use in the classroom today. Teacher candidates will learn what assessment is, when and how to use a variety of assessment strategies, how to create them, ways to interpret and analyze the data and results, and how to use these interpretations to inform their teaching practice. Students will design a comprehensive work unit based upon researched assessment practices, including gathering data and analyzing and interpreting their results. The comprehensive work unit will be submitted electronically via the TK20 website. Through reflective writing, students will be able to assess their understanding of assessment in the classroom and their growth in the appropriate use of a variety of assessment strategies. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher education program required. PREREQUISITE: 2.75 GPA overall.
- 3140 Understanding the Nature and Needs of Gifted and High-Ability Learners 3 hrs. (3, 0)
This course is designed for those from various fields of study who have a role in educating for unique nature and needs of gifted or high-ability/potential learners. The course will draw from NAGC's Gifted Children's Standards and will use research in the field as a basis for learning. The course will enable participants to recognize the learning differences and cognitive/affective characteristics of gifted/high-ability learners, including those from diverse cultural and linguistic backgrounds and special needs; design appropriate learning and performance modifications for individuals with academic subject matter; and be familiar with a repertoire of evidence-based instructional strategies to advance the learning of gifted/high-ability learners. Grade of C or better is required for elementary education majors.
- 3300 Reading Processes with Assessment and Intervention 2 hrs. (2, 1)
Process assessment and corrective reading instruction at the elementary level. Emphasis on understanding reading difficulties across the stages of literacy development and addressing instructional needs in strategy and skill development. Contact with children in tutorial and small group teaching situations is included. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher education program required. EDUC 2200, 2.75 GPA. COREQUISITE: EDUC 2730.
- 3550 Intercultural Education 3 hrs. (3, 1)
Introduction to theory and practice of intercultural communication, cross-cultural and international experiences, and teaching with a global perspective. Emphasizes an understanding and respect for cultural, racial, geographical, and religious differences and the impact these differences have on educational/teaching theories and practices. This course is concurrent with EDUC Tri-S participation where work with children and educators will be the primary focus. Grade of C or better required for education majors. OFFERED: Summer Session I.
- 3590 Teaching Diversity Through Young Adult Literature 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Provides secondary, middle, and upper elementary pre-service teachers with a wide variety of experiences in reading, analyzing, and discussing texts written specifically for young adults. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: ENGL 1120. SAME AS: ENGL 3590.
- 4010 Student Teaching (10 hrs.; may be repeated up to a maximum of 22 hrs.) (1, 35)
Observation, participation, and teaching in the school setting for 10-15 weeks on full-day basis. Student teachers are expected to participate in all aspects of public school responsibilities as part of the professional semester. A student-teaching fee is required. Grade of C or better required. Admission to professional semester required. EXPECTATION: Passing all Indiana CORE Assessments, Suicide Prevention Training, CPR certification. PREREQUISITE: 3.0 overall GPA; completion of 104 hours; senior standing. CONSENT: Department.

- 4120 Organization and Management for the Elementary Classroom 4 hrs. (2, 10)
 Culminating experience designed to allow teacher candidates to integrate the skills of teaching with effective classroom management techniques. Focus is on using data to develop effective management procedures and skills in order to allow students to make progress in the curriculum. Candidates will use action research to explore student and/or classroom behavior issues. This is a writing intensive course. Required of all Elementary Education majors. Grade of C or better is required. EXPECTATION: Admission to professional semester is required. PREREQUISITE: 3.0 GPA in major/2.75 GPA overall, and senior standing.
- 4310 Integrated Teaching II: Language Arts and Social Studies 4 hrs. (4, 2)
 Integrative approach to the teaching of language arts and social studies in the classroom. Using children's literature as a framework, students develop curriculum, instructional, and assessment strategies that are research-based and framed within national and state standards. Emphasis is placed on differentiation of learning to meet individual student needs. Portfolio artifacts required. Grade of C or better is required. Admission to the teacher preparation program required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2200, 3300, SPED 3300; 3.0 GPA in major/2.75 overall. COREQUISITE: EDUC 4320.
- 4320 Integrated Teaching III: Exploring STEM in the Elementary Classroom 4 hrs. (4, 2)
 This course prepares elementary teacher candidates for successful teaching of STEM in the classroom, using an integrative, hands-on approach. It is designed to provide teacher candidates with the pedagogical knowledge, skills and opportunities for application in clinical settings. Emphasis is on promoting inquiry-based learning using national (NGSS, Common Core, and ISTE) and state standards. Project-based learning is presented as a framework for the integration of STEM content areas. Candidates focus on planning, teaching, and assessing STEM lessons in elementary classrooms. EXPECTATION: 3.0 GPA in major/2.75 overall. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2030; MATH 1100, 1110. COREQUISITE: EDUC 4310.
- 4710 Management, Organization, and Methods in the Secondary Classroom 4 hrs. (2, 10)
 This course focuses on strategies to meet the special needs of young adolescent and young adult students. Physical, emotional, social, and intellectual issues are a foundation for developmentally appropriate instruction. Designed as a sequel to the middle school course, this course emphasizes classroom management, action research, lesson design, and classroom culture. A practicum experience is embedded in the course and merged with the coursework to focus on managing the learning environment in order to enhance student success. Work in the university classroom and in a secondary school placement (practicum) are expected. This is a writing-intensive course. Required of all senior high/middle school education majors. Grade of C or better is required. PREREQUISITE: Admission to professional semester is required, 3.0 GPA in major/a 2.75 GPA overall; senior standing.
- 4800 Internship in Youth Leadership 2 hrs. (1, 2)
 An opportunity for youth leadership-development majors to practice the training and presentation skills and content learned in prior courses in an applied setting relevant to the student's career or personal goals. Required for youth leadership-development majors. PREREQUISITE: PSYC 4210. GRADE: CR/NC registration. SAME AS: PSYC/SOCI 4800.
- 4810 Educational Internship 1-6 hrs. (arranged)
 Meets special needs for independent study and internship in professional education. Field experience (4-6 hours) requires a collaborating teacher fee. Grade of C or better required. CONSENT: Department. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 6 hours.
- 4930 Leadership Seminar in Character Education 2 hrs.
 This course is required of all teacher candidates during their clinical practice experience. The seminar is designed as a study in leadership and the dynamics of character for teachers as classroom and school leaders. Critical issues for educators will be examined, such as the learning environment, professionalism, school relations, and the dispositions of classroom leadership. The practical application of 10 key leadership concepts, with implications for character, will be incorporated into the course and used as a foundation for examination of these concepts. The course will be presented in a seminar format with the students engaging in assigned readings, reflection, discussion, student-led presentations, research, and specific facets of performance. The class will meet once each week during the late afternoon as a co-requisite with the student teaching experience. Grade of C or better is required. CONSENT: Department. EXPECTATION: Same as Student Teaching. COREQUISITE: EDUC 4010.

EARLY CHILDHOOD COURSES (EDUC Caption)

- 2430 Foundations of Early Childhood 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course provides an overview of early childhood, including the history of, philosophical stances, major theories and theorists, legal aspects, ethics, and guidelines of childcare. The course will explore private, public, and home childcare options through local and global lenses. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses. PREREQUISITE FOR EDUCATION MAJORS: 2.67 GPA overall.
- 2440 Issues in Early Childhood 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course explores current local, state, national, and global sociopolitical issues surrounding early childhood education. The roles of research, informed decision making, and activism are emphasized. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses. PREREQUISITE FOR EDUCATION MAJORS: EDUC 2430; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 3410 Early Childhood Teaching/Learning/Assessment I: Infant/Toddler 3 hrs. (3, 2.5)
 This course focuses on the learning cycle of curriculum development, instruction, and assessment in birth-age 3 childcare settings. An emphasis is placed on transferring theory into practice and acquisition of a variety of developmentally appropriate practices alongside knowledge. A field experience of 25-30 hours in an infant/toddler setting is required for the course. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses; admission into Teacher Preparation Program. PREREQUISITE FOR EDUCATION MAJORS: EDUC 2430, 2440; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 3420 Early Childhood Teaching/Learning/Assessment II: Pre-School 3 hrs. (3, 3)
 This course focuses on the learning cycle of curriculum development, instruction, and assessment in preschool settings. An emphasis is placed on moving theory into practice and acquisition of a variety of developmentally appropriate practices alongside knowledge. A field experience of 25-30 hours in a preschool setting is required for the course. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses; admission into Teacher Preparation Program. PREREQUISITE FOR EDUCATION MAJORS: EDUC 2430, 2440, 3410; 2.75 GPA overall.
- 3800 Internship in Early Childhood 3 hrs. (arranged)
 Students will complete a four week internship. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses; admission into Teacher Preparation Program. CONSENT: Department. PREREQUISITE FOR EDUCATION MAJORS: EDUC 2430, 2440, 3410, 3420; 3.0 GPA overall.

READING MINOR COURSES (EDUC Caption)

- 4850 Reading Clinic 4 hrs. (arranged)
 This course is an intensive, clinical practicum designed to strengthen the candidate's skills in providing appropriate, targeted, and responsive intervention services to students with significant reading difficulties/disabilities. Candidates will work with one to three students who are reading significantly below grade level. Instructional time is followed by reflection and discussion in small groups focusing on student profiles of reading development/disability, instructional strategies, as well as responsiveness to intervention and necessary modifications. Candidates will also write educational reports and/or hold conferences with parents addressing the participant's current level of performance and recommended instructional supports. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2200, 2730, 3300; GPA 2.75. OFFERED: May term.

4900 Advanced Reading Seminar 2 hrs. (2, 4)

An upper-level seminar with a corresponding field experience, this course is designed to reinforce and extend the knowledge, skills, and concepts learned in the undergraduate elementary reading block. Specifically, students learn how to plan for and manage small group reading in order to maximize participation, motivation, and progress for all types and levels of learners. The field experience requires students to work twice a week after school with a small group of students who experience difficulty learning to read. During the weekly seminar, candidates will discuss student progress, problem solve, and plan future lessons under the guidance of the professor. Grade of C or better required. EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA in professional education courses. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2200, 2730, 3300; 2.75 overall GPA.

4910 Reading Research Seminar 1 hr. (1, 0)

This course focuses on professional development strategies for keeping informed of new developments in the field of literacy. Candidates will use professional resources and digital tools to learn about current research, translate research into practice, and share this knowledge with colleagues. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE OR COREQUISITE: EDUC 4900; GPA 2.75.

4920 Student Teaching Seminar in Reading 1-2 hrs. (1, 0)

During student teaching, candidates will participate in a seminar focusing specifically on reading assessment, methods, and intervention. Emphasis will be placed on how to transfer what they have learned about reading education in their coursework and practicum to a whole class setting. Through lesson planning, reflection, and discussion, candidates will strengthen their skills as reading professionals. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 4900, 4910; GPA 3.0 overall; completion of 104 hours; senior standing. COREQUISITE: 4010.

SPED COURSES

2400 Introduction to Mild Disabilities 3 hrs. (3, 1)

Provides an overview of definitions, characteristics, and educational needs of students with mild disabilities. Course includes cultural, language, behavioral, social, and academic factors that interfere with the academic achievement for students. Course also examines current models of educating students with mild disabilities, including Response to Intervention and learning in a standards-based environment. Grade of C or better required. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2000; 2.75 GPA overall.

2500 Technology for the Diverse Learner 3 hrs. (3, 0)

This course assists pre-service educators to develop the skills they need to successfully integrate technology throughout their professional practice. The ability to customize learning activities for all students, including those with exceptionalities, is the hallmark of differentiated instruction. Effective assistive technology use allows the special education teacher not only to better discern what a student needs to learn but also provides a means by which to deliver individually designed instruction. Grade of C or better required.

3000 Classroom Instruction for Mild Disabilities 3 hrs. (3, 1)

Examines techniques for making and implementing data-driven decisions for educating students with mild disabilities. Development of instructionally sound individualized education programs (IEPs) and implementation in the least restrictive environment for students will be emphasized. Students will learn to develop appropriate instruction and accommodations to provide access to students with disabilities to the general curriculum.

Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher preparation program required.

PREREQUISITE: SPED 2400, 3120; 2.75 GPA overall.

3120 Special Education Assessment for the Classroom Teacher 3 hrs. (3, 1)

Explores educational assessment practices for students with mild disabilities. Course will familiarize students in the administration and interpretation of formal and informal educational assessment instruments used for instructional decision-making and placement of students with special educational needs. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher preparation program required. PREREQUISITE: SPED 2400; 2.75 GPA overall.

3300 Differentiation Across the Curriculum 3 hrs. (3, 0)

Prepares teacher candidates for planning and implementing differentiated instruction in the classroom based upon student characteristics and learning needs. Teacher candidates will utilize a foundation on differentiation including the Universal Design for Learning (UDL) Model and the works of other prominent authors and researchers to plan collaboratively and teach all students, including English learners, high ability and twice exceptional students (special education/gifted and talented), and exceptional learners. Emphasis will be placed on monitoring and adapting lesson plans to ensure rigorous learning and success for all students, as well as differentiated assessment practices. Grade of C or better required.

EXPECTATION: Admission to Teacher Preparation Program. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2170; 2.75 GPA overall.

4200 Legal Issues in Special Education 3 hrs. (3, 0)

Provides advanced study in special education mandates, procedures, and case law related to the provision of special education and related services to students with disabilities. Current decisions will be examined from historical, social, and education best practices perspectives. Included in the course are procedural rights of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Indiana's Article 7, and social/communication disorders in students with learning disabilities. Grade of C or better required. Admission to the teacher preparation program required.

EXPECTATION: 2.75 GPA overall and 3.0 in major content area. PREREQUISITE: SPED 2400, 3000, 3120.

TESL COURSES

2400 Principles of Language Acquisition 3 hrs. (3, 1)

In this course, students will explore the principles of language learning. Comparisons will be made between first- and second-language acquisition, child and adult language learning, and various theories and research pertaining to language acquisition. Students will learn about different types of proficiency (BICS — Basic Interpersonal Communication Skills — and CALP — Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency). Students in this course will also investigate the role of psycholinguistic and sociolinguistic principles, motivation, affective influences, individual characteristics and other factors that can influence language learning. EXPECTATION FOR EDUCATION MAJORS OR TESOL MINORS: Grade of C or better is required.

2420 Exploring the Multicultural Classroom: Understanding the Needs of Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CLD) Learners 3 hrs. (3, 0)

Emphasis on factors which influence behavior of ethnic and cultural group members in schools and educational settings. The course explores the changing demographics of schools, intercultural competence, and defining one's cultural self. Attention will be given to how teacher candidates can support multilingualism and multiculturalism in the classroom by understanding and implementing culturally relevant pedagogical practices. Strategies for accommodation of instruction and engaging in culturally responsive teaching to meet the needs of all students will be introduced. Grade of C or better required. Required course for all education majors. PREREQUISITE: EDUC 2000, 2100, 2110; 2.67 GPA overall.

- 2500 Exploring TESOL in Service 3 hrs. (arranged)
 In this course students will be introduced to TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) as service and ministry. Students will understand global realities and issues concerning the spread of English, such as linguistic imperialism, world English, and native/nonnative speaker inequalities. Criticisms leveled at “missionary English teaching” will be discussed at length in an effort to understand the potential problems, and solutions, in coupling English teaching with religious service and ministry. The course will utilize real case studies from contexts around the world, involving various age groups and many different types of ministry or service organizations. Students will develop the ability to assess TESOL initiatives for professional integrity and effectiveness. EXPECTATION FOR TESOL MINORS: Grade of C or better required. CONSENT: Departmental consent required.
- 3500 Teaching Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CLD) Students 3 hrs. (3, 10)
 This course will focus on strategies for working with culturally and linguistically diverse students in the general education classroom. Students develop a strong sense of cultural competency as they are empowered to build on CLD students’ wealth of knowledge in their heritage languages and cultures, creating diverse learning experiences for all learners. Utilizing information on the backgrounds and cultures of CLD students in lesson planning to build a more globally aware classroom is a focus of the class. Students will learn how to adapt their own instruction and assessment to work effectively with CLD students who require content instruction and support in the classroom while gaining proficiency in English. Furthermore, focus will be placed on strategies for sheltered instruction and how the SIOP Model — Sheltered Instruction Observation Protocol (www.siopinstitute.net) — can be used to prepare and evaluate lessons in the content area classroom. Students will have field experience in an appropriate setting. EXPECTATION FOR EDUCATION MAJORS OR TESOL MINORS: admittance to Teacher Preparation Program, 2.75 overall GPA. Grade of C or better required for education majors and TESOL minors.
- 4550 Methodology for Teaching English Learners 3 hrs. (3, 10)
 In this course students will become familiar with the methodology of teaching a second/foreign language, beginning with a brief exploration of early methods and then focusing on theories that have current-day best practice applications, both in the U.S. PK-12 setting and adult ESL, domestically and abroad. Strategies such as building background knowledge (schema), employing pre-reading techniques, providing comprehensible input, and scaffolding lessons will be explored and practiced. Students will have field experience in an appropriate setting. EXPECTATION FOR EDUCATION MAJORS OR TESOL MINORS: Grade of C or better required, admittance to Teacher Preparation Program (education majors), 2.75 overall GPA, TESL 2400.
- 4590 Applied Linguistics for Teaching English Learners 3 hrs. (3, 5)
 In this course students will be introduced to linguistics, its application to the English language, and implications for teaching English language learners. The course will include introductions to linguistic concepts, including phonology, morphology and syntax. Students will become familiar with the International Phonetic Alphabet and its use in language teaching. The syntax of the English language and the role of structural knowledge in the teaching and learning of language will be a significant part of the course. The course will emphasize the strategic use of structural and linguistic understanding to further communicative language competence, rather than the acquisition of passive and static knowledge. EXPECTATION FOR EDUCATION MAJORS OR TESOL MINORS: Grade of C or better required, admittance to Teacher Preparation Program, 2.75 overall GPA, TESL 2400.
- 4850 Practicum in the English Language/TESOL Classroom 3 hrs. (arranged, 40)
 This practicum provides supervised field experience for students who are working toward an EL PK-12 license or TESOL setting. Emphasis will be placed on the specific role of the ENL teacher in the PK-12 or TESOL — how the ENL teacher administers and interprets the scores from an English Language proficiency placement test, how the ENL teacher writes and implements individual learning plans (ILP) for general education classroom teachers, and the role of the ENL teacher in the education team. Reflective thought, observation, discussion, and teaching will be used to expand participants' teaching skills. The first 2-4 hours are spent in careful observation of the workings and interactions of the teaching and learning setting. The remaining hours will be spent working with the clinical educator/supervisor and learners, including writing and teaching lesson plans. Classroom participation includes observation, interaction, use of data, and analysis of specific strengths and needs of English learners. Practicum students will design and teach lessons including strategies and activities to meet the instructional needs of individual learners. Participants will also focus on interpreting and recommending curriculum materials and methods to encourage and help English learners become proficient in their new language. EXPECTATION FOR EDUCATION MAJORS OR TESOL MINORS: Grade of C or better required, admittance to Teacher Preparation Program, 2.75 overall GPA; TESL 2400 and 3500. PRE/COREQUISITES: TESL 4550.

Transition to Teaching Program (Post-Baccalaureate Licensure Program)

The Transition to Teaching Program (T2T), approved by the state of Indiana (IC 20-28-4: 511 IAC 13-1-1), is designed for those individuals with a baccalaureate degree and a desire to become a teacher. This program has been specifically designed to recruit, prepare, and license talented individuals for teaching at the elementary (K-6) or secondary (5-12) levels. Candidates must have a four-year degree from an accredited institution of higher education with a GPA of 3.0 overall and in their major area of study or a GPA of 2.5 overall and in their major with five years of professional experience related to the intended licensing area or an education-associated field. Candidates may select either an elementary or secondary tracks. Passing all Indiana CORE assessments, Suicide Prevention Training, and CPR certification is required before student teaching.

PROGRAM DESIGN:

The Transition to Teaching Program is a 10-month intensive program of educational coursework, field experiences, and a semester clinical practice (student teaching) which, when successfully completed, leads to an Indiana teaching license. Coursework is a hybrid model that includes online courses and face time classes. Classes the first semester are in the evening, allowing for candidates to continue working at their place of employment. Candidates must be available the second semester for full-time study and for student teaching. Coursework begins in July and is compressed into 5-6 week modules throughout the semester. All courses are in alignment with Indiana Educator Standards (REPA developmental and content standards), Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) Standards, The Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) Principles, and the Indiana Office of Educator Licensing and Development.

ELEMENTARY TEACHING LICENSURE (24 hours)

- EDUC 4200, 4210, 4220, 4221, 4222, 4231, 4232, 4240, 4260, 4280 (student teaching)

SECONDARY TEACHING LICENSURE (18 hours)

- EDUC 4200, 4210, 4251, 4250, 4240, 4260, 4280 (student teaching)

TRANSITION TO TEACHING COURSES (EDUC Caption)

Prerequisite for all T2T courses: Baccalaureate Degree

- 4200 Teaching as a Profession 3 hrs. (1, 10)
Candidates will through coursework, field assignments, and early arrival experiences in the schools develop insights to the culture and nature of instruction in K-12 classrooms. Candidates will develop an understanding of how to establish a community of learners through group norms, self-identification and discussion of the five areas of holistic behaviors for optimal productivity. Candidates will also develop an understanding of the principles of learning and student development as related to planning curriculum, learning activities, modes of delivery, and instructional pacing to meet the needs of each learner.
- 4210 Psychology of Teaching 3 hrs. (Online Course)
This course addresses the most significant concepts, principles, theories, methodologies, and issues in the field of educational psychology and child development. Coursework requires students to develop and apply an understanding of pedagogy by analyzing and integrating the science of learning with the art of teaching. The usage of technological formats to enhance learning will be addressed.
- 4220 Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction: Mathematics 1 hr. (1, 0)
Elementary education candidates in this course will articulate clear learning objectives and instructional strategies using a repertoire of flexible teaching and learning approaches, addressing current curriculum and student standards, using aspects of students' background knowledge, diverse representations, and social/legal issues relating to special populations, and monitoring students' understanding of content through a variety of means. Candidates will study curriculum topics by examining the organization, materials, and resources of mathematics content and the implications for using them.
- 4221 Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction: STEM 1 hr. (1, 0)
Elementary education candidates will study curriculum topics of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) by examining the organization, materials, and resources of each content area and the implications for using them in a class-room setting. Focus will be on the integration of concepts and the pedagogical implications of interdisciplinary instruction. Selection of teaching and learning strategies, such as modeling, cooperative learning, guided activities, use of journals, graphic organizers, and the inquiry method.
- 4222 Differentiated Curriculum and Instruction: Social Studies 1 hr. (1, 0)
Elementary education candidates will study the scope and sequence and the pedagogical implications of interdisciplinary instruction using social studies concepts. Organization, resources and materials for the teaching of social studies will be addressed. Integration with children's literature will be a focus, as well as instructional differentiation for individual learning needs in the classroom.
- 4231 Developmental Reading 3 hrs. (1, 0)
Elementary education candidates will study linguistic and cognitive bases in the reading process: comprehension, word identification, vocabulary development and methodologies will focus on various approaches for teaching reading, research, and theoretical bases for various instructional approaches, instructing students with special reading needs, and fostering enjoyment and appreciation of reading.
- 4232 Diagnostic and Corrective Reading 3 hrs. (1, 0)
Elementary education candidates will demonstrate knowledge and understanding of reading difficulties, use a variety of instructional strategies, assess and document student progress, and plan/implement instruction based on knowledge of students, learning theory, subject matter, and curriculum needs. Varied forms of assessments include: standardized tests, basal reading assessments, readability indexes, informal reading inventories, miscue analysis, doze procedures, individual conferences, portfolios, and journals.

- 4240 Multidimensional Assessment for Student Learning 3 hrs. (1, 0)
 This course is designed to prepare elementary and secondary teacher candidates with a strong knowledge base about assessments and their use in the classroom. Candidates will learn what assessment is, when and how to use a variety of assessment strategies, understand how to create them, ways to interpret and analyze the data and results, and know how to use these interpretations to inform their teaching practice. Students will design a comprehensive work unit based upon researched assessment practices, including gathering data, analyzing and interpreting their results. The CWU will be electronically submitted to Tk20 data system.
- 4250 Reading in the Content Areas (Secondary Level) 2 hrs. (Online Course)
 Candidates examine research and instructional approaches to help improve the literacy of adolescents and adults. This course is focused on current research that looks at the complexities of the reading process and how the process can be improved upon in the content areas at the secondary level. Students will design a lesson plan based upon the School of Education's lesson plan format, including related activities to be implemented in the plan, research-based reading strategies, and focused purposes for reading. The lesson plan will be electronically submitted to Tk20 data system.
- 4260 Creating an Environment for Student Learning 2 hrs. (1, 5)
 Candidates will analyze and reflect on the essential elements and plans to create and environment that promotes student learning. Candidates will learn how to create a classroom climate that attends to interpersonal relations, motivational strategies, questioning techniques, school expectations, rules, routines, and procedures. A focus will be on developing responses to individual and cultural diversity, nonverbal communication skills, establishing and maintaining consistent standards of classroom behavior, and making the classroom environment as safe and conducive to learning as possible. Course includes a 5-week practicum in a school setting.
- 4251 Development of Middle/High School Instruction 1 hr. (1, 0)
 This course focuses on meeting the specific needs of the early adolescent student. Physical, emotional, and intellectual changes prompt the teacher to use developmentally appropriate instruction in order to motivate the learner to achieve. Teaching methods such as real-life situations, cooperative learning, and hands-on experiences are emphasized.
- 4280 Student Teaching (Clinical Practice) 4 hr. (1, 35)
 Observation, participation, and teaching in the school setting for 10 -16 weeks on a full-day basis. Candidates are expected to participate in all aspects of the school day and responsibilities of the classroom teacher. Candidates will complete a teacher work sample during the student teaching assignment. EXPECTATION: All Indiana CORE assessments must be passed, Suicide Prevention Training completed, and have a current CPR certificate. All course work assignments must be completed and a GPA of 3.0.

English

Dr. Borders, chair; Prof. Elliott, Dr. Imafuji, Prof. Miller, Prof. Miller Fox, Prof. Parks, Dr. Radaker, Prof. Ranfeld; Prof. Kurin, Prof. Landis, Prof. Lawrence, Prof. Spaulding.

The English program addresses two objectives: the general humanities and pre-professional preparation. Literature courses — with their balance of American, British, and world offerings — develop a dialogue between the past and present across political, cultural, and ideological barriers. Literature, as it reflects human activity, helps us understand human values, motives, ourselves, and society. Introductory courses develop necessary skills for critical reading, analytical thinking, and literary interpretation.

As an outgrowth of its offerings in upper-division writing courses, the Department of English offers a major and a minor in writing, both of which are designed to complement any major on campus by offering the opportunity to pursue advanced training in expository, argumentative, non-fiction, and creative writing endeavors. The department's lower-division writing courses present basic skills necessary for successful college-level work.

ENGLISH MAJOR (35 hours)

- ENGL 2400
- ENGL 3220
- ENGL 4000 (may take for up to 6 hours)
- ENGL 4910
- At least one course from each group:
 - British Literature to 1660: ENGL 3300, 3320, 3340
 - British Literature after 1660: ENGL 3360, 3390, 3450
 - Genre Studies: ENGL 4450, 4550
 - American Literature I: ENGL 3500, 3551
 - American Literature II: ENGL 3530, 3580
- Students may also take the following 3000-level courses toward the major:
ENGL 3000, 3050, 3110, 3120, 3140, 3160, 3180, 3190.

ENGL 1100, 1110, 1120, 1400, 2500, 2510, 3260, and 4700 do not apply toward the major.

ENGLISH MINOR (15 hours)

- ENGL 2400
- One course from each group:
 - British Literature: ENGL 3300, 3320, 3340, 3360, 3390, 3450, 4450
 - American Literature: ENGL 3500, 3551, 4550
 - 3000-level writing courses: ENGL 3110, 3120, 3140, 3160, 3180, 3190

ENGL 1100, 1110, 1120, 1400, 2500, 2510 and 4700 do not apply toward the minor.

LANGUAGE ARTS TEACHING MAJOR (51-53 hours)

To fulfill requirements for teaching language arts at the secondary level, students must complete the core requirements as well as one of the two options listed below. In addition to these requirements, students pursuing a teaching major must also meet additional requirements listed in the School of Education section of this catalog.

CORE REQUIREMENTS (37 hours)

- ENGL 2400, 3000, 3050, 3220, 3580, 3590, 4700; 3110 or 3120; 3180 or 3190
- COMM 2410, 2550, 3210, 4750

ENGLISH OPTION (16 hours)

- Two courses from British literature: ENGL 3300, 3320, 3340, 3360, 3390, 3450, 4450
- Two courses from American literature: ENGL 3500, 3551, 4550

COMMUNICATION STUDIES OPTION (14 hours)

- COMM 3110, 3150, 3310; THEA 2500
- 2 hours each (4 hours total) from COMM 2870, 2880

WRITING

The writing major provides the student with opportunities to develop advanced writing competencies in a range of creative and professional writing arenas. It may complement any other major, but especially those fields which include challenging writing tasks.

Please note: the writing major is available as a complementary major only. The student's other major(s) must be pursued outside of the English department.

WRITING COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (27 hours)

- ENGL 4910
- 18-20 hours from ENGL 2500, 2510, 3000, 3110, 3120, 3140, 3160, 3180, 3190, 3870
- 3-8 hours from ENGL 3220, 3450, 3551, 3580, 4000, 4550
- Up to 3 hours of writing internship experience may be applied toward the major. Must be approved in advance by the department chair.

WRITING MINOR (15 hours from any of the following courses)

- ENGL 2500, 2510, 3000, 3110, 3120, 3140, 3160, 3180, 3190, 3870
- COMM 2130 or FREN 3240 or SPAN 3010 or MUSB 2070 may also be applied

ENGL COURSES

- 1100 Rhetoric and Composition — Basic 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Designed for students who need supplemental help with writing skills. Focuses on theory and practice of expository writing based on experience and observation. Emphasizes development of functional and flexible writing processes for a range of purposes and audiences. Includes assigned readings. Requires attention to sentence style, diction, and usage through tutorial instruction in the Kissinger Learning Center. Grade of C- or better is required.
- 1110 Rhetoric and Composition 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Focuses on theory and practice of expository writing based on experience and observation. Emphasizes development of functional and flexible writing processes for a range of purposes and audiences. Includes assigned readings. Grade of C- or better is required.
- 1120 Rhetoric and Research 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Focuses on theory and practice of writing based on external sources. Emphasizes library, electronic, and field research sources and methods. Satisfies writing skill requirement for graduation. Does not satisfy Advanced Writing Competency requirement. EXPECTATION: Grade of C- or better in ENGL 1100 or ENGL 1110.
- 1400 Valuing Through Literature 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Examines literature from a variety of cultures and time periods. Works are selected and discussed in terms of value systems and ethical issues presented in them.

General Studies

Dr. Shrock, director

Anderson University offers a stand-alone general studies major leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree only. Students interested in pursuing the general studies major must have a plan of study approved by the dean of the School of Humanities before admission to the major is granted. Students majoring in general studies must complete all liberal arts core requirements. Additionally, students must complete a concentration of courses in one subject area. The subject area may be broadly defined as courses in common disciplines (i.e. science, foreign language, business, etc.). Student proposals for the concentration must be submitted to the dean of the School of Humanities for approval.

GENERAL STUDIES MAJOR

- 40-43 hours of liberal arts core requirements
- 30 hours in concentration area
- LART 4500
- Additional requirements for Bachelor of Arts degree:
 - at least 30 hours from upper-division courses
 - at least 60 hours must be completed at Anderson University
 - complete 120 hours

Global Studies

Dr. Allen, director; Dr. J. Fox, Prof. Kant, Dr. Quashie

The interdisciplinary program in Global Studies offers a major, a complementary major, and a minor, each of which prepare students to understand and operate in our diverse and increasingly interconnected world. Students will gain the knowledge they need by taking courses from across several academic disciplines, which focus on globalization, cross-national and intercultural interactions, and sustainability. They will also engage in an international/intercultural experience, further foreign language skills, and bring their knowledge together in a capstone course. Global Studies majors will also complete courses in an area of concentration, which will focus them for purposes of global service, future employment, or possible graduate study.

GLOBAL STUDIES MAJOR (41-42 HOURS)

- Completion of the Global Studies Core (29-30 hours)
- Completion of an area of concentration, selected from International Affairs and Human Security, Community Health, Community Development, or Culture (12 hours)

The Global Studies Complementary Major requires completion of the Global Studies Core, minus the area of concentration (29-30 hours).

The Global Studies Minor requires completion of the Global Studies Core, minus the Modern Foreign Language requirement (18 hours).

GLOBAL STUDIES CORE (29-30 HOURS):

- GLBL 2500, 2550, 2580, 4590; ECON 2010; POSC 3300

GLBL COURSES

- 2500 Introduction to Global Studies 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course will introduce students to the interdisciplinary study of globalization, from the historical, political, economic, environmental, and cultural perspectives. Issues of cross-national and intercultural importance, such as sustainability, technology and trade, and the causes and consequences of human conflict are analyzed using a variety of case studies, viewed through several, simultaneously contributing disciplinary lenses. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 2550 Intercultural Competence 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course introduces students to the theories and concepts of intercultural competence and the literature related to this field of study. Coursework will focus on an interdisciplinary approach to the study of culture, developmental and experiential learning theory, and methods for culture learning. Students will also become familiar with intercultural competence assessment theory and practice as it relates to guided development in intercultural competence. SAME AS: INCS 2550. OFFERED: Every other fall semester.
- 2580 Principles of Geography 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to geography, emphasizing five major themes: the physical environment, natural resources, and agricultural pursuits; demographics, immigration, sequent occupance, and settlement patterns; the impact of natural and human-made disasters; cultural, economic, and political development; the interaction between people of different cultures and environments. SAME AS: POSC 2580.
- 4590 Capstone Course in Global Studies 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course involves scholarly reflection on the international/intercultural experience or internship required for majors and minors in global studies. After working with faculty to complete the orientation and preparation for the experience or internship, and the experience itself, students will take this course and develop a reflective component, bringing together work done throughout their course of study. OFFERED: Semester II.
- 4820 Global Internship 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
 Placement under professional supervision in either a government agency or a non-governmental organization, in a position focused on global issues. Forty-five hours of field experience is required for each hour of credit. Open to non-majors. PERMISSION: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 4 hours. GRADE: CR/NC registration. SAME AS: POSC 4820. OFFERED: Each semester and summers.

History and Political Science

Dr. Rogers, chair; Dr. Allen; Dr. Dirck, Dr. Frank (pre-law advisor), Dr. Murphy, Dr. Shrock, Prof. Stuart, Judge Pyle

HISTORY

The courses in history propose to stress the historical and scientific approach; to give the student an understanding of the origin and development of civilization, past and present, that people may be able to evaluate properly present trends; and to prepare for intelligent and active citizenship, for teaching and related professions, and for graduate study.

History as a discipline draws on knowledge from a broad range of studies, and students in the history program are encouraged to engage themselves in courses from many related disciplines in the arts and sciences, as well as in foreign languages. Skills developed by the study of history include the careful critical analysis of evidence in many forms, effectiveness in argument, and clarity of thought and expression in the presentation of research results. The program in history prepares students for professional careers in teaching, government and law, public history, the media, and many other fields.

HISTORY MAJOR (34 hours)

- HIST 2030, 2040, 2300
 - 1 course from HIST 3260, 3300, 3330, 3350, or 3370
 - 3 courses from HIST 2110, 2120, 3420, 3425, 3430, 3440, 3451, 3452, 3470, 3510, 3520, or 4030
 - 1 course from HIST 3100, 3110, 3130, 3150, 3190, 3240, 3280

- HIST 2700 and 4700 do not apply toward the major.

HISTORY MINOR (15 hours)

- Selected from HIST courses; at least 2 courses from 3000- and 4000-level listings.
- HIST 2700 and 4700 do not apply toward the minor.

PUBLIC HISTORY MINOR (18 hours)

The public history minor prepares students who wish to work in the field of history outside the classroom, in settings where history is encountered by the public: museums, community history centers, national parks and historical sites, and many more settings. Public historians - museum staff and curators, government historians, archivists, historical site interpreters, preservationists - come from a variety of disciplines. Preparation for work in public history is therefore, and necessarily, interdisciplinary, as it prepares individuals to preserve and transmit our past to the non-academic public.

- 2 required courses, HIST 2350, 4800

Remaining twelve hours selected from at least three of the following disciplinary captions:

- ARTH 2000, 2100
- BIBL 3310

- COMM 2240
- ENGL 2350, 3220
- HIST 2110, 2120, 3020, 3440
- MUSC 2210

POLITICAL SCIENCE

The political science program offers two majors, each of which is designed to transform students with an interest in or concern for politics into graduates who can understand, evaluate, manage, and shape political events and governmental actions in a manner consistent with a Christian faith perspective.

The majors offered by the political science program provide excellent training for a variety of careers. Recent graduates are working in government (national, state, and local), law, electoral politics, and business.

Students in the political science program are expected to complete successfully the foundational classes before attempting upper-division coursework. They are also strongly encouraged to pursue a minor or a second major in one or more of the following: history, economics, foreign languages, journalism, peace and conflict transformation, philosophy, psychology, sociology, or women's studies. Minors or second majors should be selected only after consultation with a political science program advisor. Students are also encouraged to consider completing an internship or taking a semester to participate in an off-campus program. Appropriate opportunities can be identified by consulting a political science program advisor.

Honors Program

The Honors Program at Anderson University is devoted to fostering within its honors scholars a passionate dedication to intellectual inquiry and spiritual development so they may serve as leaders in their professions and in their communities. Within this context, our scholars will be challenged to cultivate the life of the spirit, maturing in the Christian virtues of integrity, justice, and generosity.

The program provides a series of small, discussion-based, interdisciplinary courses that satisfy liberal arts program requirements. These courses, as well as close interaction with faculty and peers, offer intellectually challenging experiences that will stimulate and refine the skills of clear expression, acute analysis, critical thinking, and imaginative problem-solving. In the first three years of the Honors Program, scholars will participate in courses designed to enrich understanding of the humanities while creating a small community of learners dedicated to Christian scholarship. In the fourth year, they will pursue independent study in partnership with faculty mentors. Throughout the program, honors scholars are encouraged to pursue opportunities for international study and travel and service to the church and community. Upon completion of this four-year program, honors scholars will receive special recognition at commencement and on their transcript.

Enrollment in the Honors Program curriculum is by invitation to students who have successfully completed the Honors Program application and selection process.

Each course in the Honors Program satisfies at least one of the component requirements of the liberal arts program, as listed below:

- HNRS 2110 fulfills Written Communication and Civic Ways of Knowing
- HNRS 2125 fulfills the Speaking Intensive Requirement
- HNRS 2210 fulfills Scientific Ways of Knowing
- HNRS 3311 fulfills Social and Behavioral Ways of Knowing
- HNRS 3221 fulfills Global/Intercultural Ways of Knowing
- HNRS 3222 fulfills 2 credits of the Aesthetic Ways of Knowing (This course does not fulfill the 1 credit hour experiential component.)
- HNRS 3325 fulfills Christian Ways of Knowing

Students enrolled in the Honors Program are exempt from taking LART 1050.

Intercultural Studies Complementary Major

Prof. Willi Kant, Director of International and Intercultural Studies

The Intercultural Studies complementary major is an interdisciplinary course of study integrating methodologies and perspectives from such disciplines as cultural anthropology, sociology, religion, linguistics, and psychology. This course of study will provide students with the knowledge and skills essential to living and working in an increasingly diverse and culturally connected world. The program is individually structured and builds on a primary catalog major. In addition to the required core courses, other courses are selected to focus on a thematic or a regional studies concentration. Students with interests in such areas as business, health care, social work, teaching, ministry, missions, and community development can formulate a program of study designed to support their academic and career objectives.

The development of this course of study will involve the active collaboration of the director of international and intercultural studies, the student, and a faculty advisor in the primary field of study. Students must obtain approval from the director of international and intercultural studies before embarking on this course of study.

INTERCULTURAL STUDIES COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (30 HOURS)

- 15-17 hours from core courses INCS 2550, INCS 3850, INCS 4800, COMM 3110 and SOCI 3400.
- Remaining hours from related courses intended to complement the student's academic and career objectives. Courses must be approved by the director of international and intercultural studies.
- Students are strongly encouraged to incorporate a study abroad or international/inter-cultural experience in the major.

- 3850 Practicum in Service Experience 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
 Participation in an intercultural service/learning experience. This course is generally offered in conjunction with a Tri-S program.
- 4800 Intercultural Studies Internship 1-6 hrs. (arranged)
 Intensive course of study, research, and/or practical experience designed to integrate concepts, knowledge, and skills in an intercultural context.

Kinesiology

The Department of Kinesiology offers four majors designed to prepare students to enter careers, vocations, or service: athletic training, exercise science, teaching physical and health education, and sport and recreational leadership. Three minors are available: athletic coaching, nutrition, and physical education along with one teaching minor: health education. Additionally, the department offers activity courses designed to provide instruction in fundamental skills in selected sports and activities.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

Athletic training is offered to students interested in working with prevention, recognition and immediate care, rehabilitation, health-care management, and professional development in a sports medicine environment. Students have the opportunity to gain clinical experience in a wide variety of athletic training settings. The athletic training program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), which allows students to work directly toward Board of Certification (BOC) certification and state licensure.

Enrollment in the athletic training program is limited and has a competitive application process. To apply for admission, students must pass ATRG 1460, 1490, 1500, and 1590 with a grade of B- or better and have at least 100 clinical observation hours. Students must also complete BIOL 2410 and 2420 and achieve a C or better. Students must be able to meet the technical standards set forth by the athletic training program. At the time of acceptance into the program, students must sign a declaration of knowledge of these technical standards. Technical standards requirements are published in the Athletic Training Student Handbook. To qualify to take the BOC certification examination, students must have successfully completed the requirements of the athletic training program. Once admitted, the student will be permitted to begin coursework in the athletic training curriculum. As long as satisfactory progress is being made, the student will be permitted to move to the following semester. If progress is unsatisfactory, the student will be placed on probation. Students on probation may be prohibited from participating in clinical experiences as determined by the Athletic Training Education Committee. Satisfactory progress includes:

1. Maintaining a 2.50 GPA in the major.
2. Maintaining a 2.0 cumulative GPA.
3. Achieving a grade of C or better in each major course, except ATRG 1460, 1490, 1500, and 1590, which require a grade of B- or better.
4. Performing satisfactory in the clinical setting as noted on clinical course syllabi.
5. Adhering to all policies and procedures contained in the Athletic Training Student Handbook.
6. Maintaining up-to-date health status requirements.

Students falling short in areas 5 and 6 above will be required to address those deficiencies immediately. Students falling short in one or more of the areas 1-4 as outlined above will have a minimum of one semester and a maximum of two semesters to correct their deficiencies. Students must then appeal to the Athletic Training Education Committee for reinstatement. Individuals who fail to correct deficiencies within two semesters or are otherwise denied appeal will not be permitted to continue in major coursework and clinical experiences. Furthermore, if a student is admitted into the athletic training program on probationary status, the student must meet the requirements for retention in the program as indicated in the acceptance letter by the conclusion of the following semester (conclusion of the first semester in the program, usually the fall semester). If the student fails to meet the probationary admission requirements, the student will be withdrawn from the athletic training program and must follow the above procedures to seek reinstatement.

The athletic training program at Anderson University will accept transfer students as long as they meet the program admission requirements listed above. The level the student is placed in the athletic training program depends on competencies and proficiencies completed at the previous institution and the student's ability to demonstrate mastery of specific competencies and proficiencies. Please contact the Athletic Training Education Program director about your particular situation. Transfer students must also meet Anderson University's requirements for admission (see the Admissions section in this catalog).

All athletic training students admitted into the athletic training program will incur travel costs required for off-campus clinical rotations and other related expenses (i.e., uniform requirements). Athletic training students who are also athletes will be allowed to participate in one sport each academic year and may be required to complete an additional semester to fulfill the requirements for all clinical rotations. Furthermore, students who are also athletes will not be allowed to participate in their sport and engage in clinical experiences simultaneously.

For up-to-date information regarding the athletic training program, please refer to the athletic training website at www.anderson.edu/academics/athletic-training, consult the Athletic Training Student Handbook, or contact the athletic training program director.

ATHLETIC TRAINING MAJOR (60 hours)

- ATRG 1460, 1490, 1500, 1530, 1590, 2200, 2220, 2400, 2420, 2440, 2540, 3400, 3440, 3450, 3500, 3550, 4400, 4460, 4550, 4910
- BIOL 2410, 2420
- EXSC 2580, 3470, 3520
- PSYC 2000

EXERCISE SCIENCE

The exercise science major provides classroom, laboratory, and practical experiences for students interested in the application of scientific principles to various aspects of human performance and health. Exercise science majors are prepared for employment in a wide variety of settings including corporate fitness, cardiac rehab, personal training, YMCA/YWCAs, health/wellness coordinators, community health centers, senior adult fitness programs, as well as an assortment of positions involving aerobics, aquatics, strength and conditioning, sales, marketing, and occupational safety. Exercise science also provides excellent pre-professional preparation for students wishing to pursue graduate degrees in exercise physiology, kinesiology, biomechanics, nutrition, public health, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and physician assistant.

EXERCISE SCIENCE MAJOR (49 hours)

- BIOL 2410, 2420
- CHEM 1000
- PSYC 2000
- PEHS 1060, 1450, 2100
- EXSC 1360, 2440, 2451, 2452, 2580, 3470, 3520, 4010, 4150, 4160, 4800, 4920
- Pre-professional exercise science majors are advised to complete the following additional courses:
 - BIOL 2210, 2220
 - CHEM 2110, 2210 in lieu of CHEM 1000
 - MATH 2120 or PSYC 2440
 - PHYS 2140, 2150
 - PSYC 2510, 3120

NUTRITION MINOR (16 hours)

The nutrition minor is an ideal minor to accompany majors within the Department of Kinesiology and other science majors at Anderson University. The minor is designed to provide a sound background in nutrition but without courses that stress clinical chemistry and dietetics. A minor in nutrition is an excellent choice for students who wish to enter the fitness, medical, health, and human services-related professions. It will strengthen the academic component of coursework in these fields and contribute to students becoming more effective practitioners.

- BIOL 2140
- EXSC 2580, 3100, 3200, 3300

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (K-12) TEACHING

The physical education (K-12) teaching major prepares students to teach physical education at any grade level from kindergarten through grade twelve, as well as adapted physical education. Students experience a wide range of classroom, activity, and laboratory courses aimed at helping them acquire knowledge, skills, and attitudes that will enable them to be successful in a public or private school setting. Through methods classes, students will learn pedagogical skills that they will apply in a series of practicum opportunities in the schools.

To meet teacher licensing standards, students must complete both the physical education requirements listed below and requirements in the School of Education (see School of Education section in this catalog). GPA requirements include earning an overall 2.60 GPA or higher by the end of the second year in the program and an overall 2.75 GPA or higher prior to student teaching. PETE majors who do not meet the GPA requirements or who do not pass Praxis I will not be allowed to register for EDUC 3000 and above classes and PETE 4000 and above classes. Further, students are encouraged to take a health education minor to add a health certification to their teaching license. Students are required to model a physically active lifestyle and complete fitness tests twice in the program. Following successful completion of this program, students may apply for teaching licenses from the state of their choice.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (K-12) TEACHING MAJOR (48 hours)

- PETE 1300, 2250, 3710, 3720, 3750, 4260, 4300, 4900
- SPRL 1350, 2350, 2450, 3300
- PEHS 1450
- BIOL 2410
- EXSC 3470, 3520
- EDUC 2100, 2110, 3000, 4010, 4930
- TESL 2420, 3500

HEALTH EDUCATION MINOR (15-18 hours)

Students who are earning a primary teaching certification in physical education can add a second teaching certification in health. To do so, a student can earn a health education minor by taking the courses listed below, which meet the national standards for health education. Students must also pass the Praxis II examination in health and do a portion of their student teaching experience in a health classroom.

- PEHS 1450 or ATRG 1460
- PEHS 2100, 3100, 3490, 4860
- One class from the following electives: ATRG 2220, BIOL 2040, EXSC 2440, EXSC 2580, EXSC 3100, PETE 2250, SOCI 2020

SPORT AND RECREATIONAL LEADERSHIP

The sport and recreational leadership major prepares students to work in recreation and sports centers, with athletic programs, at camps, and/or in YMCAs, churches, businesses, etc. The goal of this major is to help young people find their niche in the sport and recreation industry. Students will take a common core of classes and then gain knowledge and experiences in specific areas of sport and recreation programming, management, business, and leadership.

SPORT AND RECREATIONAL LEADERSHIP MAJOR (51 hours)

- SPRL 1350, 2450, 2550, 3150, 3250, 3300, 4850
- PETE 1300, 2250, 3720, 4900
- PEHS 1450, 3340, 3410,
- ARTG 1530
- EXSC 2580
- ACCT 2010
- BSNS 2710, 2810

ATHLETIC COACHING

The athletic coaching minor is a non-teaching program that offers students the opportunity to learn requisite skills to become coaches in a youth-sport setting.

ATHLETIC COACHING MINOR (15 hours)

- Coaching core (8-9 hours):
 - PEHS 1450 or ATRG 1460
 - ATRG 1530
 - PEHS 2340 or 3340
- 1 hour from PEHS 1200 and 1 hour from any coaching theory class (PEHS 3030, 3050, 3060, 3070, 3080) OR two hours from any two coaching theory classes

- Elective classes (6-7 hours):
 - PEHS 1060, 2020, 2040, 2260, 2340, 3030, 3050, 3060, 3070, 3080, 3340, 3410, 4850
 - When offered, selected PEHS 2600 classes may apply
 - ATRG 1490 or PEHS 1550
 - EXSC 2580
 - SPRL 1350 or 2450

Students can count only 1 hour of PEHS 1200 credit for the minor.

Students can count only 1 hour of PEHS 2260 credit for the minor.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (NON-TEACHING)

The physical education minor is a non-teaching program designed for students who wish to supplement another major with a background in physical education. May be of interest to students planning to work in recreation or youth ministry positions.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MINOR (16 hours)

- All courses must have a PEHS, PETE, or SPRL caption

Students can count 4 hours of activity courses for the minor.

ACTIVITY PROGRAM

The activity program provides instruction in fundamental skills in each sport or activity offered. The aim is to encourage individuals to develop the skills, strategies, and knowledge to participate at a recreational level. This program fosters personal enrichment of body, mind, and spirit through participation in physical activity.

Activity classes are offered in different formats. Some are taught daily in a six-week block. Others are taught two or three days a week for a semester. Some classes require a fee, which is charged to students' accounts at the beginning of the semester. Students are encouraged to bring and use their own sports equipment.

An intramural/recreational program provides additional opportunities for regular physical activities. Swimming activities are offered in the natatorium. The weight room is open for recreational use during scheduled hours.

EXPECTATION: Played on a high school or college athletic team at the varsity level. REPEAT: May be repeated for a total of 8 hours. REGISTRATION: C/NC.
- 4860 Practicum in Health 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Provides opportunity for independent work or field experience in teaching health in area schools. EXPECTATION: Must be accepted into teacher education. REPEAT: May be repeated for a total of 8 hours. PRE/COREQUISITE: PEHS 3100 or PEHS 3490. REGISTRATION: C/NC.

ATRГ COURSES (ATHLETIC TRAINING PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM)

- 1460 Emergency Response 2 hrs. (2, 1)
Prepares students to earn American Heart Association certification in first aid, CPR for the professional rescuer, and AED upon successful completion of the course. Splinting, spine boarding, and wound care are covered in the lab portion of the course. Credit may not be earned in both PEHS 1450 and ATRG 1460. NOTE: Intended for prospective athletic training majors only.
- 1490 Beginning Athletic Training 2 hrs. (2, 1)
Introduces the athletic training profession. Examines relationship of athletic trainers in the management and care of injuries and their role as professional allied health-care practitioners. Includes an overview of the following topics: injury evaluation process, athletic equipment, environmental considerations, therapeutic modalities, and therapeutic exercise. NOTE: Intended for prospective athletic training majors only.
- 1500 Clinical Experience in Athletic Training I 1 hr. (0, 1)
Guides experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 1460, 1490; athletic training major.

- 1530 Theory of Conditioning of Athletes 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Investigates the physiological background, techniques/methods, and precautions of conditioning athletes. Analyzes nutrition, ergogenic aids, gender, age, and climatic issues.
- 1590 Advanced Athletic Training 2 hrs. (2, 1)
 Builds on information gained in ATRG 1490. Includes prevention, evaluation, and treatment of athletic-related injuries. Emphasis given to basic anatomy and injury assessment of the extremities, head, and spine. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 1460, 1490; athletic training major.
- 2200 Psycho-Social Aspects of Sport 2 hrs. (2, 1)
 Athletic trainers must be able to recognize and appropriately refer athletes and physically active people related to their psychological and sociological well-being. Emphasis will be placed on the psychological/sociological principles as they apply to athletic participation, burnout, injury treatment and rehabilitation compliance, the use of PED's, body image dysmorphia, and eating disorders.
- 2220 Pharmacological and Ergogenic Aids in Sport 3 hrs. (3, 1)
 Performance enhancing drugs (PED's) are increasingly becoming a significant discussion in sport at all levels of participation. Likewise, the use and abuse of prescription medication and illegal drugs is on the rise among all groups including athletes and physically active individuals. Students will be prepared for understanding the basic concepts of pharmacology and ergogenic aids/PED's, as well as be able to identify the signs of their use/misuse.
- 2400 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training — Lower Extremity 1 hr. (0, 1)
 Students will have guided experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries related to activities with high incidence of lower extremity injuries. Students will be tested throughout this course in both real-time and practice settings. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 2420; athletic training major in good standing.
- 2420 Therapeutic Modalities 3 hrs. (2, 1)
 Introduces students to common therapeutic modalities and their use in sports medicine. Includes the application of physics and biophysics to each modality considering effects, application techniques, indications, and contraindications. Emphasizes safety during instruction and laboratory experiences. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 1500, 1590; athletic training major in good standing.
- 2440 Lower Body Joint and Extremity Assessment 2 hrs. (0, 2)
 Examines techniques and procedures for clinical evaluation of common athletic injuries, emphasizing major joint structures. Incorporates appropriate examination techniques and procedures into an effective, systematic clinical evaluation of the lower body. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 1500, 1590; athletic training major in good standing.
- 2500 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training III 1 hr. (0, 1)
 Guides experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 2420; athletic training major in good standing. LAST OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 2540 Upper Body Joint and Extremity Assessment 2 hrs. (0, 2)
 Examines techniques and procedures for clinical evaluation of common athletic injuries, emphasizing major joint structures. Incorporates appropriate examination techniques and procedures into an effective, systematic clinical evaluation of the upper body. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 2440; athletic training major in good standing.
- 3400 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training — Upper Extremity 1 hr. (0, 1)
 Guides experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries. PREREQUISITE: athletic training major in good standing.

- 3440 Therapeutic Rehabilitation 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Students will have guided experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries related to activities with high incidence of upper extremity injuries. Students will be tested throughout this course in both real-time and practice settings. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 2420, 2540; athletic training major in good standing.
- 3450 Medical Issues in Athletic Training I 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Examines advanced topics in sports medicine, including anatomy, pathology, recognition, evaluation, management, and emergent treatment of general medical illnesses and conditions involved in an athletic health-care environment. Special topics include environmental-related illness, administration of pre-participation physical examinations, and athletic health care for special populations (aging athletes, female athletes, etc.). PREREQUISITE: ATRG 2420, 2540; BIOL 2410, 2420; athletic training major in good standing.
- 3500 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training — Adolescent Athlete 1 hr. (0, 1)
Students will have guided experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries related to activities with high incidence of injury, and illness of adolescent athletes. Students will be tested throughout this course in both real-time and practice settings. This experience will be entirely off-campus. PREREQUISITE: Athletic training major in good standing.
- 3550 Medical Issues in Athletic Training II 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Examines advanced medical issues concerning anatomy, kinesiology, pathology, recognition, evaluation, management, and emergent treatment of specific injuries and conditions involved in an athletic health-care environment. Includes an introduction to pharmacology. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 3450; athletic training major in good standing.
- 4400 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training — Equipment Intensive Sport 1 hr. (0, 1)
Students will have guided experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries related to activities with high incidence of injury, that also have heavy equipment requirements. Students will be tested throughout this course in both real-time and practice settings. PREREQUISITE: Athletic training major in good standing.
- 4460 Administration of Athletic Training 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Develops skills in the organization and administration of an athletic training/sports medicine program including philosophy, budget, facilities, equipment, insurance, legal aspects, records, employment, personnel, and structure of the National Athletic Trainers Association. PREREQUISITE: Athletic training major in good standing; senior standing.
- 4500 Clinical Experiences in Athletic Training VII 1 hr. (0, 1)
Guides experiences in evaluation, treatment, disposition, and rehabilitation of sports-related injuries. PREREQUISITE: ATRG 3440; athletic training major in good standing. LAST OFFERED: 2015-2016.
- 4550 Research in Athletic Training 1 hr. (2, 0)
The need for quality evidence-based practice is growing in all allied health profession. Student athletic trainers must be prepared to understand and utilize the evidence related to all aspects of athletic training. Likewise, students must learn how to add to the body of knowledge within athletic training. This course will discuss a variety of research methods including both qualitative and quantitative as they relate to athletic training and health care. Students will complete a case study and begin a year-long independent research project.
- 4850 Practicum in Athletic Training 1-4 hrs. (0, 4)
Provides opportunity for independent work or field experiences in the sports medicine field. PREREQUISITE: Athletic training major in good standing. REPEAT: May be repeated for a total of 8 hours. REGISTRATION: C/NC.

- 4910 Seminar in Athletic Training 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Overviews research methodology in athletic training. Prepares students for the BOC examination and entry into the profession. Capstone course in athletic training. Selected topics of current interest in sports medicine. Requires the development and presentation of an independent research project. PREREQUISITE: Athletic training major in good standing; senior standing.

EXSC COURSES (EXERCISE SCIENCE PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM)

- 1360 Introduction to Exercise Science 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Explores the discipline and subdisciplines represented within exercise science. Examination of the historical and cultural aspects of exercise science as well as current trends and future developments, including professional development and certification.
- 2440 Stress Management 2 hrs. (2, 1)
 Investigates stressors in the personal, work, and social environments and the interconnectedness of health and stress. Discusses the physiological aspects of the stress response. Explores various coping strategies for stress management. PREREQUISITE: Sophomore standing.
- 2451 Foundations for Exercise Leadership I 1 hr. (1, 1)
 Emphasizes fundamentals necessary to design safe and appropriate cardiovascular and strength training programs for personal training clients based on exercise prescription principles. Develops applicable teaching methodology in various activity and lecture situations. PREREQUISITE: Sophomore standing.
- 2452 Foundations for Exercise Leadership II 1 hr. (1, 1)
 Introduces a continuation of fundamentals necessary to lead effective group exercise activities based on exercise prescription applications. Applies teaching methodology in various activity and lecture situations. PREREQUISITE: EXSC 2451.
- 2580 Sports Nutrition 3 hrs. (2, 1)
 Explores principles of nutrition as they relate to athletes and athletic competition, including the role of athletic trainers and coaches in implementing sound sports nutrition programs to promote optimal health and performance for athletes. Includes topics such as pre-event and post-event meal planning, nutritional assessment, nutritional counseling, carbohydrate loading, electrolyte drinks, ergogenic aids, protein and vitamin supplementation, recognition of eating disorders, and physiological aspects of nutrition as they relate to athletic competition.
- 3100 Eating Disorders 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Analysis of factors involved in etiology, assessment, medical consequences, treatment, and prevention of eating disorders.
- 3200 Nutrition in the Life Cycle 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Addresses specific nutritional needs at various stages of the human life cycle: lactation, infancy, childhood, adolescence, and adulthood including old age. The most common nutritional concerns, their relationship to food choices and health status, and strategies to enhance well-being at each stage of the life cycle are emphasized. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2140 or EXSC 2580.
- 3300 Health Implications of Obesity 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Study of obesity and being overweight with special emphasis on diet, nutrition, and exercise. Modes of prevention and treatment will also be discussed. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2140 or EXSC 2580.
- 3470 Physiology of Exercise 4 hrs. (3, 2)
 Studies physiological changes in the human organism as a result of physical exercise, including immediate and chronic responses of the body to exercise, physiological limitations to exercise, and limitations of present physiological knowledge for total understanding of exercise response. Practical applications of physiology to coaching and teaching. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2420.

- 3520 Kinesiology 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Examines the scientific principles basic to human motion: both anatomical and biomechanical. Includes a laboratory experience. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2410.
- 4010 Advanced Resistance Training and Conditioning 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Analyzes advanced principles of skeletal muscle physiology and bioenergetics in the application of strength training and conditioning programs designed for athletes and recreational exercisers. PREREQUISITE: EXSC 3470.
- 4150 Exercise Testing and Prescription 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Provides an in-depth study of the theoretical basis and applied knowledge required for graded exercise testing and individualized exercise prescription. Includes electrocardiograph techniques/interpretation, pharmacological considerations, test data interpretation, and emergency procedures. PREREQUISITE: EXSC 3470.
- 4160 Clinical Experience in Exercise Testing and Prescription 1 hr. (0, 2)
Provides laboratory experiences designed to present and refine skills in conducting various health fitness tests (e.g. resting and exercise blood pressure, body composition, submaximal aerobic capacity, maximal graded exercise tests, and blood cholesterol). Discusses the implications of test results and application to exercise prescription. PREREQUISITE: EXSC 4150; exercise science major.
- 4650 Independent Research in Exercise Science 1-3 hrs. (0, 3)
Provides opportunity for independently executed investigations, normally by students with upper-division standing. REPEAT: May be repeated. Credit not to exceed 6 hours.
- 4800 Internship in Exercise Science 2-4 hrs. (0, 2-4)
Provides opportunity for off-campus practical experience in a health and fitness program (e.g. cardiac rehabilitation, wellness/health promotion, corporate fitness, YMCA, and others). Enhances professional preparation by offering opportunities to apply fundamental concepts and principles in an actual work setting. PREREQUISITE: EXSC 4150. GRADE: CR/NC registration.
- 4850 Practicum in Exercise Science 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Provides opportunity for independent work or field experience in settings of personal training, agencies, or clinics in the exercise science field. PREREQUISITE: Exercise science major; junior standing. REPEAT: May be repeated for a total of 8 hours. REGISTRATION: C/NC.
- 4920 Seminar in Exercise Science 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Investigates selected topics of current interest in exercise and health science. Capstone course in exercise science. Requires a written and oral presentation of a creative project involving either applied, experimental, or library research. PREREQUISITE: Exercise science major; senior standing.

PETE COURSES (PHYSICAL EDUCATION TEACHER EDUCATION PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM)

- 1300 Introduction to Sports, Physical Activity, and Recreation 2 hr. (2, 1)
Introduces foundational concepts in sports, physical activity, physical education, and recreation, including historical and philosophical orientations, current issues, and career opportunities.
- 2250 Motor Behavior 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Examines the forces that influence the acquisition of motor skill and movement patterns. Surveys growth and development patterns. Identifies characteristics of skilled movement forms. Reviews factors which impact the learning of skills like knowledge of results and performance. Discusses motivational patterns and sport interests. Surveys the subdiscipline of motor learning.

- 3710 Instructional Strategies (K-5) 3 hrs. (3, 1)
Examines and develops instructional strategies for teaching physical education in grades K-5. The development of fundamental movement patterns and foundational movement concepts will be examined as well. Includes teaching practicum with children ages 4 to 12 years.
- 3720 Sports, Physical Activity, and Recreation for Special Populations 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduces students to a variety of physical, mental, and emotional disabilities, including characteristics and behavior patterns. Physical activities and recreational activities, which are developmentally appropriate for all age groups and populations will be discussed, including their physical and social benefits.
- 3750 Instructional Strategies (6-12) 3 hrs. (3, 1)
Provides a laboratory experience in teaching methodology of physical education for grades 6-12. Requires planning and implementing lessons using a variety of teaching strategies. Considers sociological and psychological issues in student interactions. EXPECTATION: At least 6 hours of activity classes. PREREQUISITE: Junior standing; PETE 1350, 2350, 2380.
- 4260 Directed Experience in Teaching Physical Education 3 hrs. (1, 3)
Provides students with field experiences in teaching physical education within public schools prior to the student teaching semester. Applies content knowledge, management strategies, motivational ideas, and pedagogical skills that they have learned in previous courses. Allows a real-life teaching situation so that students can test their skills with the guidance of a veteran public school teacher as a mentor. PREREQUISITE: PETE 3710, 3750. COREQUISITE: PETE 4300. 2.6 or higher GPA. EXPECTATION: Passed Praxis I.
- 4300 Curriculum Development and Assessment in Physical Education 3 hrs. (3, 2)
Examines the integration of content, instruction, and assessment to the principles and practices of program development. Requires the creation of teaching documents that shape the physical education curriculum. Provides a field experience that promotes the application of curriculum development in three age-level settings. Reviews administrative issues facing physical education teachers. EXPECTATION: Completion of required activity classes. PREREQUISITE: Teaching major. PREREQUISITE OR COREQUISITE: PETE 3750, 4260, 2.6 or higher GPA. EXPECTATION: Passed Praxis I.
- 4850 Practicum in Physical Education Teaching 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Provides opportunity for independent work or field experiences in physical education teaching in area schools. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: Physical education teaching major; junior standing. REPEAT: May be repeated for a total of 8 hours. GRADE: CR/NC registration.
- 4900 Technology Applications in Sport, Physical Activity, and Recreation 2 hrs. (2, 1)
Investigates and applies techniques and practice in the use of technology-based media, which supports and enhances sport, physical activity, and recreation programs. Emphasizes computer and smart phone applications that support teaching, coaching, and recreation (e.g., data bases, PowerPoint, screencast, geocaching, etc.).

SPRL (SPORT AND RECREATIONAL LEADERSHIP PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM)

- 1350 Physical Activity Cluster I — focus on team and individual sports 3 hrs. (0, 4)
Develops content knowledge and instructional skills in selected team and individual sports such as basketball, floor hockey, team handball, football, soccer, volleyball, softball, tennis, and badminton. Emphasizes skill development, instructional strategies, rules and strategies, management, and assessment.
- 2350 Physical Activity Cluster II — focus on fitness/wellness activities 3 hrs. (0, 4)
Examines physical activity and fitness levels of various age groups while promoting a lifetime of physical activity. Develops content knowledge and instructional skills in

- fitness and wellness activities such as fitness games, dance, step aerobics, yoga, group exercise, water aerobics, and weight training as well as fitness testing.
- 2450 Physical Activity Cluster III — focus on rec activities and outdoor pursuits 3 hrs. (0, 4)
Develops content knowledge and instructional skills in recreational and outdoor activities such as archery, golf, bowling, pickle ball, Frisbee golf, ultimate Frisbee, adventure education, and outdoor pursuits. Emphasizes skill development, instructional strategies, rules and strategies, and management. Fee required.
- 2550 Youth and Adult Sports Programming 2 hrs. (2, 1)
Introduces planning, programming, and implementation of sports programs for youth and adults within such organizations as recreation centers, YMCAs, churches, camps, and businesses.
- 3150 Recreational Leadership 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Examines the essential elements and basic principles of organization and leadership of recreational and leisure programs, including planning and conducting organized programs in private and public agencies. Special emphasis will be given to the role of face-to-face leadership within recreational organizations.
- 3250 Legal Aspects of Sport and Recreation 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An examination of the laws and policies governing the various aspects of sport and sport business and their relationship to personal and professional ethics. The role of regulatory commissions and organizations in sport will be explored.
- 3300 Management of Sport Facilities and Events 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Designed to give students information and knowledge on the operation and management of athletic and recreational facilities. In addition, event planning, sponsorship, budgeting, management, and evaluation of athletic and recreational events will be emphasized.
- 4850 Practicum in Sport and Recreational Leadership 3 hrs. (arranged)
Introduces planning, programming, and implementation of sports programs for youth and adults within such organizations as recreation centers, YMCAs, churches, camps, and businesses. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: Sport and Recreational Leadership major; junior standing. REPEAT: May be repeated up to 6 hours. GRADE: CR/NC registration.

Liberal Arts

Dr. Grayson, Prof. Coplin, Prof. Clay, Prof. Stankiewicz, Prof. Judge

LART COURSES

- 1000 College Survival Skills 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Provides an opportunity for students to learn and adopt methods to be successful in undergraduate work. Deals with basic academic, study, and life skills, and attitudes necessary for collegiate success.
- 1010 Strategies for Academic Success 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Course introduces the concept of how emotional intelligence (EQ) and personal learning styles affect the student's ability to think critically and therefore improve learning. It provides an opportunity to assess and develop the basic EQ skills and study strategies necessary for academic success, including note-taking, test-taking, time management, communication skills, collegiate writing skills, presentation skills, and career planning.
- 1050 First Year Experience Seminar 1 hr. (1, 0)
Orients new students to the issues inherent in the college environment, challenging them to discover their core values and consider how these impact different areas of their life. Such areas include their interactions with their peers and professors, their time and task management, and their financial skills. By working with both a faculty mentor and a peer mentor, students will discover the rewards of servant leadership as well.
- 1100 Critical Thinking Seminar 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Faculty-student seminars which address critical, scholarly attitudes and skills essential for pursuing a liberal arts education and valuable for cultivating a life of faith and service in the church and society.
- 1200 Career and Life Planning 1 hr. (2, 0)
Addresses the role of decision-making skills in choosing a college major. Students assess interests, personality, skills, and values to assist them in finding the "best fit" among the majors and career options they are researching. Students also learn effective problem-solving skills that can be used over a lifetime for career and life-planning decisions. This course is designed for the undecided freshman or sophomore student, but open to juniors and seniors with instructors consent. OFFERED: Freshman or sophomore standing.
- 2900 Student Leadership Seminar 1 hr. (1, 0)
Through this course students will explore the discipline of leadership. With a biblical framework, applicable themes will give students practical ways to reflect on their strengths and grow in their skills as leaders.
- 4500 Critical Thinking and Transformative Development 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Course focuses on transforming learning from the classroom to the real world through the assessment and development of the five major areas and 15 subcomponents of emotional intelligence (EQ). Students incorporate a variety of methods to enhance the critical thinking skills and EQ skills necessary to positively affect the decision-making skills and personal, collegiate, and professional relationships that define success.

Mathematics

Dr. C. Taylor, chair; Dr. Lambright, Prof. Saltzmann, Prof. Schnipple, Dr. Van Groningen

The program in mathematics has three major objectives: to provide the non-specialist with some understanding of the contributions of mathematics to cultural development; to offer students in natural, social, and behavioral sciences the mathematics necessary for understanding their own fields of interest; and to prepare mathematics majors for graduate study, for teaching at the secondary level, or for work in business and industry.

Students considering careers in mathematics should realize that the emphasis in mathematics courses changes as progress is made through the undergraduate program. The early emphasis on problem solving is later subordinated to the task of formulating and dealing effectively with mathematical structures and abstract ideas.

Students who have pursued accelerated mathematics programs in high school may request advanced placement. Such requests should be made through correspondence with the department chair before registration. Credit, if granted for high school work in calculus or statistics, is through the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Board. Consult with the chair of the Department of Mathematics or the Registrar's Office for details.

Students who plan to major in mathematics should consult the chair of the department as soon as possible. Students interested in actuarial science should consider the Mathematics-Finance Major.

MAJORS

MATHEMATICS MAJOR (30 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020, 4000
- Remaining hours from additional MATH courses; at least three courses numbered 3100 or above with at least one course numbered 4010 or above. MATH 1000, 1100, 1110, 1220, 1250, 1300, 1400, 4700 do not apply toward the major

MATHEMATICS – DECISION SCIENCE MAJOR (53 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020, 2120, 3010, 3020, 3200, 4000, 4010
- One of MATH 3100, 3300, 3400
- BSNS 2710, 2810, 3240, 3510, 4110, 4330
- A 3 hour independent study course combining mathematics and decision science.

MATHEMATICS – ECONOMICS MAJOR (38 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020, 4000, 4010
- ECON 2010, 2020, 3020, 3410
- A 3-hour independent study course combining mathematics and economics with a required empirical research project
- Remaining hours from additional upper-division MATH and ECON courses

MATHEMATICS – FINANCE MAJOR (53 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020, 2120, 3010, 3020, 3400, 4000, 4010
- One of MATH 3100, 3200, 3300
- ACCT 2010
- BSNS 3200, 3350, 4150
- ECON 2010, 2020, 3410

COMPUTER SCIENCE – MATHEMATICS MAJOR (52 HOURS)

- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2100, 2400, 2500, 3300, 4500
- MATH 2010, 2020, 2200, 3010, 3020
- 4 hours from CPSC 2010 or additional CPSC or MATH courses numbered 3000 or above

TEACHING MAJOR

MATHEMATICS TEACHING MAJOR (38 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020, 2200, 2300, 3010, 3020, 4000, 4100, 4200
- MATH 2120 or 4010
- One course from MATH 3100, 3200, 3300, 3400

MINOR

MATHEMATICS MINOR (16 hours)

- MATH 2010, 2020
- Additional hours from MATH courses numbered 2120 or above

MATH COURSES

- 1000 Introductory Algebra 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Basic algebra course designed for students who need to meet the curricular mathematical proficiency requirement. Topics include whole numbers, fractions, decimals and percentages, ratios and proportions, polynomials, algebraic solutions of linear and quadratic equations, word problems, and systems of equations. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Placement by mathematics entrance examination. GRADE: CR/NC registration. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 1100 Elementary Mathematics-Numeration Systems 4 hrs. (4, 0)
 Elementary foundations course for students preparing for elementary and middle school education. Includes deductive reasoning, the algebra of sets, numeration systems, properties of natural numbers, integers, rational numbers, real numbers, and data analysis. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 1110 Elementary Mathematics-Geometry 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Includes point-set geometry, linear and angular measurement concepts, area and volume, transformational geometry, and probability. Designed particularly for elementary and middle school education majors. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 1220 Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 A course designed in order to fully prepare students for MATH 2010. Topics include right triangle trigonometry, trigonometric identities and equations, complex numbers, laws of sines and cosines, trigonometric, exponential, and logarithmic functions, analytic geometry, conic sections. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester II.
- 1250 Explorations in Mathematics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 A course designed for students to explore different areas of college-level mathematics. Students will appreciate the relevance of mathematics through real-life applications. Emphasis will be placed on critical reasoning, problem solving, and the clear communication of mathematical ideas. Topics will be chosen from mathematics of finance, mathematical modeling, probability and statistics, voting theory, infinity, and

- logic. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 1300 Finite Mathematics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Topics include introduction to counting techniques, probability, systems of linear equations and matrices, linear programming, and the mathematics of finance. Does not apply toward mathematics major or minor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 1400 Applied Calculus 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Topics include functions, limits, derivatives, applications of derivatives, integration and applications of integration. Functions considered are polynomial, rational, logarithmic, and exponential functions. Emphasis is on computational skill and problem solving. Applications are taken from management, life sciences, and social sciences. Not open to students with a grade of C or better in MATH 2010 or its equivalent. Does not apply toward major. EXPECTATION: Two years of high school algebra. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 2010 Calculus I 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Introduction to plane analytic geometry, functions, limits, continuity, differentiation of algebraic and trigonometric functions, application of the derivative, indefinite and definite integrals. EXPECTATION: Two years of high school algebra, plane geometry, and trigonometry, MATH 1220, or passing score on Calculus Readiness Exam. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics proficiency. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 2020 Calculus II 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Continuation of MATH 2010. Attention given to methods of integration of algebraic and transcendental functions, curves given in polar coordinates, curves given by parametric equations, applications of integration, introduction to ordinary differential equations, and infinite sequences and series. PREREQUISITE: MATH 2010. OFFERED: Semester II.
- 2120 Introductory Statistics with Applications 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Descriptive statistics; binomial, normal, and chi-square distributions; sampling distributions; estimation; hypothesis testing; simple linear regression; and analysis of variance. EXPECTATION: Two years of high school algebra. OFFERED: Semester I and Semester II.
- 2200 Discrete Mathematical Structures 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Topics include Boolean algebra, computer logic, relations and functions, logic and proof techniques, combinatorics, algebraic structures, and graph theory. OFFERED: Semester II.
- 2300 College Geometry 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Presents an axiomatic basis for Euclidean geometry and provides insight into the interdependence of various theorems and axioms. Topics include incidence and order properties, congruence, absolute and non-Euclidean geometry, the parallel postulate, and the real numbers and geometry. PREREQUISITE: MATH 2010. OFFERED: Semester II of 2015-16.
- 3010 Linear Algebra with Differential Equations 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Introduction to algebra and geometry of \mathbb{R}^3 and its extension to \mathbb{R}^n . Topics include vector spaces and linear transformations, systems of linear equations and their solutions, matrices and determinants, eigenvalues, eigenvectors, and the solution and applications of linear ordinary differential equations. PREREQUISITE: MATH 2010. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 3020 Calculus III 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Continuation of MATH 2020. Attention given to multi-dimensional calculus and its applications. Topics include partial differentiation, multiple integration, three-dimensional analytic geometry, and vector calculus. PREREQUISITE: MATH 2020, 3010. OFFERED: Semester II.

- 3100 Differential Equations 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Methods of solving ordinary differential equations and their applications to life sciences, physics, and chemistry. Topics covered will include first and second order homogenous and non-homogenous equations, first order systems, Laplace transforms, series solutions and an introduction to partial differential equations. PREREQUISITE: MATH 2020. OFFERED: Semester II of 2015-16.
- 3200 Mathematical Models 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Formation and study of mathematical models used in business, social, and biological sciences. Mathematical topics include N-person games, networks, Markov processes, application of graphs and diagraphs, pulse processes, and group decision-making. OFFERED: Semester II of 2016-17.
- 3300 Numerical Analysis 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to numerical algorithms fundamental to scientific and mathematical computer use. Solutions of transcendental, polynomial, and differential equations; matrix algebra; linear programming; numerical integration and differentiation; Monte Carlo methods; and curve fitting. PREREQUISITE: CPSC 1400, MATH 2020. OFFERED: Semester I of 2015-16. SAME AS: CPSC 3300.
- 3400 Mathematics of Finance 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 A course designed to introduce the fundamental concepts of financial mathematics with an emphasis on interest theory. Topics include mathematical foundations of the following: present and accumulated values, annuities, loans, bonds, financial markets, arbitrage, and financial derivatives. This course serves as a foundation for the second actuarial exam (FM/2). PREREQUISITE: MATH 2120 and MATH 2020. OFFERED: Semester I of 2016-17.
- 4000 Problem Seminar 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Introduction to research techniques based on problems from parts of the regular curriculum such as calculus, linear algebra, probability, and statistics. Emphasis on problems from the required core of the curriculum — problems that are integrative in nature. PRE/COREQUISITE: MATH 4100 or 4200. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 4010 Mathematical Statistics 4 hrs. (4, 0)
 Probability distributions, expectation, mean, variance, moment generating functions, special distributions, unbiasedness, maximum likelihood, confidence intervals, and hypothesis testing. PREREQUISITE: MATH 3010. OFFERED: Semester II of 2016-17.
- 4100 Real Analysis 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Careful study of the real number system with attention given to the study of real-valued functions, metric spaces, sequences, continuity, differentiation, and integration. PREREQUISITE: MATH 3010. OFFERED: Semester I of 2016-17.
- 4200 Abstract Algebra 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Consideration of fundamental concepts of modern algebra. Includes groups, rings, integral domains, and fields along with isomorphisms, homomorphisms, normal subgroups, and quotient groups. PREREQUISITE: MATH 3010. OFFERED: Semester I of 2015-16.
- 4650 Independent Study 1-3 hrs. (arranged)
 Selected topics in higher mathematics. Total combined credit from MATH 4650 and 4900 may not exceed 12 hours. CONSENT: Department chair.
- 4700 Methods in Teaching Mathematics 2 hrs. (2, 0)
PREREQUISITE: MATH 3020. OFFERED: Semester I.
- 4900 Seminar 1-3 hrs. (arranged)
 Seminars in algebra, analysis, topology, set theory, complex variables, non-Euclidean geometry, and applied mathematics. Total combined credit in MATH 4650 and 4900 may not exceed 12 hours. CONSENT: Department chair. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.

Modern Foreign Languages and Cultures

Dr. T. Fox, chair; Prof. Baird, Prof. Chamboneth, Prof. Clay, Prof. Félix, Dr. Grayson, Prof. Shulmistras

In an increasingly interdependent world, the study of other languages and cultures has become a fundamental part of every student's education. Knowledge of at least one foreign language and familiarity with cultures and societies different from one's own not only equip university graduates to take responsible and active roles as world citizens but also enhance their effectiveness in a range of professions, including, but not limited to, banking, business, education, film, government work, health care, journalism, law, management, missions, and social work.

A major in Spanish offers students a triple focus: language, culture, and literature. A minor in Spanish or French offers a double focus in language and culture. After successful completion of the program, majors will be equipped to:

- comprehend and interpret written and spoken language;
- express themselves in the written and spoken word of that language;
- have a fundamental understanding of the literature and civilizations of the countries represented by the target language; and
- value other cultures as fellow global citizens.

A departmentally approved foreign study experience (minimum of six credit hours and FLAN 3500), where the target language is spoken, is required of all majors and strongly recommended for all minors.

MAJORS

SPANISH MAJOR (43-45 hours)

- 34 hours from the following:
 - SPAN courses beyond SPAN 2010 or equivalent, including 2020, 3010, 3020, 3140, 3400 or 3440, one 4-hour literature class (4350, 4360, 4370, or 4380)
 - at least 6 hours in overseas study, plus FLAN 3500
- FLAN 4900
- A two-semester sequence (6-8 hours) in one other modern foreign language

COMPLEMENTARY MAJORS

SPANISH COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (30 hours)

- 27 hours from the following:
 - SPAN courses beyond 2010, including 2020, 3010, 3020, 3140, 3400 or 3440, and one literature class (4350, 4360, 4370 or 4380)
 - 11 hours from SPAN courses numbered 3000 and above
 - at least 6 hours in overseas study, plus FLAN 3500
- FLAN 4900

MINORS

FRENCH MINOR (18 hours)

- 18 hours from FREN courses beyond 1020 or equivalent.*
FLAN courses may not be counted toward the minor.

SPANISH MINOR (18 hours)

- 18 hours from SPAN courses beyond 1020 or equivalent, including 3010 and 3020
FLAN courses may not be counted toward the minor.

A minor in French will require 10 hours of off-campus coursework, possibly earned in a study abroad program.*

TEACHING MAJORS

Requirements for teaching Spanish at the secondary level include completion of specific courses in the subject area and in professional education. Students planning to teach a foreign language in secondary schools should also consult with the director of teacher education.

SPANISH TEACHING MAJOR (45-47 hours)

- 36 hours from the following:
 - SPAN courses beyond SPAN 2010, including SPAN 2020, 3010, 3020, 3140, 3200, 3400, 3440; 4350 or 4360; 4370 or 4380*
 - at least 6 hours in overseas study, plus FLAN 3500
- FLAN 4900
- At least two sequential semesters (6-8 hours) in one other modern foreign language
Because of other requirements in the major, Teaching Majors may take the Latin American and Spanish Literature classes for 3 hours rather than 4, with the approval and signature of the instructor.

FLAN COURSES

- 2000 Language and Society 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Expands cultural and intercultural awareness by looking at language in a context of social issues and historical, biological, and grammatical concerns.
- 3400 The French and Spanish Speaking Caribbean 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Explores the dynamic convergence of cultures, races, and religions that comprise the French- and Spanish-speaking Caribbean. Primary focus is placed on the cultures of Haiti, the French Antilles, Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the Dominican Republic, through their history, literature, language, politics, art, and religious expression. Emphasis is put on the complex interrelation of these elements, which have formed the contemporary identity of the region. This course is taught in English. PREREQUISITE: None
- 3500 Study Abroad Experience: Cultural, Linguistic, and Personal 1 hr.
Designed for the language majors studying abroad, this course systematically gives them orientation prior to the experience, prepares them for life abroad, and helps them process the experience while abroad and upon return to campus. PREREQUISITES: FREN/GERM/SPAN 2020 or instructor permission. (CR/NC)
- 4700 Methods in Teaching Foreign Languages 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Offers a survey of teaching methods employed in teaching foreign language, literature, and culture. Required of Spanish secondary education majors. CONSENT: Instructor.
- 4900 Senior Seminar in Foreign Languages 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Addresses openness to truth and Christian commitments and practices from a global perspective of foreign languages and cultures. Includes required readings, in-depth discussions, and a major project and presentation. Taught in English. Required of all Spanish teaching and non-teaching majors. Recommended for French and Spanish minors. CONSENT: Instructor. OFFERED: Spring semester each year.

FREN COURSES

- 1010 Elementary French I 4 hrs. (3, 1)
Emphasizes development of fundamental language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) and appreciation of Francophone cultures. Individual online or outside language laboratory work is required. Placement.
- 1020 Elementary French II 4 hrs. (3, 1)
Emphasizes development of fundamental language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) and appreciation of Francophone cultures. Individual online or outside language laboratory work is required. Placement.
- 2010 Intermediate French I 4 hrs. (3, 1)
Emphasis on increasing language proficiency in the areas of listening, speaking, reading, and writing through grammar review. Increased emphasis on understanding the diverse Francophone cultures through cultural readings, video/DVD, and other sources. Individual online or outside language laboratory work is required. Placement.
- 2020 Intermediate French II 4 hrs. (3, 1)
Emphasis on increasing language proficiency in the areas of listening, speaking, reading and writing through grammar review. Increased emphasis on understanding the diverse Francophone cultures through cultural readings, video/DVD, excerpts from literature, and other sources. Individual online or outside language laboratory work is required. Placement.

GERM COURSES

- 1010 Elementary German I 4 hrs. (3, 1)

The School of Music, Theatre, and Dance offers Bachelor of Music degrees in music education, musical theatre, voice performance, and instrumental performance; Bachelor of Arts degrees in music, church music, music business, songwriting, and dance; five music minors; a theatre minor; and a dance performance minor. The School of Music, Theatre, and Dance also endeavors to give all students opportunities for creative experiences in the performing arts by encouraging the development of artistry and scholarship through classes, private study, and performance.

Students intending to become music majors or dance majors should consult the School of Music, Theatre, and Dance website for audition forms and requirements, and the Music Handbook or the Dance Handbook for admission and retention policies. All prospective music and dance majors must complete an audition for admission to the School of Music, Theatre, and Dance. All freshmen must complete the freshman core curriculum in music or dance with grades of C- or better before registering for upper-level courses in music or dance.

FRESHMAN CORE CURRICULUM FOR MUSIC AND DANCE

The freshman core curriculum in music consists of the following courses (12 hours):

- 6 hours from MUSC 1010, 1020 (theory)
- 2 hours from MUSC 1030, 1040 (aural comprehension)
- 4 hours from MUPF 1050, 1060 (keyboard class)

The freshman core curriculum in dance consists of the following courses (6 hours):

- 4 hours from DANC 1220, 2220, 3220 (modern dance); DANC 1320, 2320, 3320 (jazz dance); or DANC 1420, 2420, 3420 (ballet)
- 1 hour of DANC 1580 (Dance Improvisation I)
- 1 hour of DANC 1590 (Dance Composition I)

The freshman core of music and dance courses may be attempted only twice. Withdrawal from a freshman core course counts as one attempt to pass the course. Transfer students must take examinations to determine class placement in music or dance freshman core courses and must pass the freshman core curriculum with grades of C- or better by the end of their fourth semester of college study, or second semester at AU, in order to continue in the major. Students who wish to begin a major in music or dance after completing their fourth semester of college study must complete the freshman core curriculum with grades of C- or better on the first attempt. Students who wish to retake a course in the music or dance freshman core after their fourth semester of college study must petition the dean of the School of Music, Theatre, and Dance in writing for permission to do so.

UPPER-DIVISION PERFORMANCE EVALUATION (UDPE)

Students in music or dance are required to pass the Upper-Division Performance Evaluation (UDPE) to advance to 3000- and 4000-level private music study or dance study, perform a junior or senior recital, continue a performance emphasis, or register for music education methods courses or student teaching. Students usually take the UDPE at the end of the sophomore year.

MUSIC ENSEMBLES

All music majors must participate in appropriate ensembles each semester. Music minors are required to participate in ensembles for four semesters. Students participate in an ensemble for 1 hour of credit or 0 hours of credit if taking 18 hours of other courses.

DANCE ENSEMBLES

All dance majors must audition for DANC 1150 (Dance Repertory) each semester and are required to audition for the dance guest artist(s) works. Dance minors must audition for DANC 1150 (Dance Repertory) in four semesters. Students participate in Dance Repertory for 1 hour of credit or 0 hours of credit if taking 18 hours of other courses.

PRIVATE MUSIC STUDY

Music majors earn 1-3 hours of credit by taking weekly one-hour private lessons. Elective students earn 1 hour of credit by taking weekly half-hour or one-hour lessons. Participation in studio classes, studio recitals, and general student recitals is part of private study at Anderson University.

- 4660 International Experience in the Arts 1-4 hrs., arranged
This course is designed to give students academic credit for coursework and assignments completed in conjunction with an international experience offered through the Tri-S program. CONSENT: Instructor. CONSENT: May be repeated for credit.
- 4900 Seminar in Selected Topics 1-4 hrs., arranged
Special dance courses as determined by the faculty. CONSENT: Instructor. REPEAT: May be repeated for credit.

PROFESSIONAL NURSING

Anderson University offers a four-year Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) that emphasizes analytical skills, a liberal arts perspective, and expertise as a baccalaureate generalist. The BSN focuses on developing the student for beginning practice as a member of the profession who is a provider, educator, scholar, designer, manager, and coordinator of care. Students are taught to design innovative nursing care for individuals, families, communities, and populations with complex health states in a variety of health-care settings across the lifespan. The program is based on the Self-Care Deficit model of nursing, which emphasizes the patient's ability to maintain or regulate health.

Upon completion of the first year of prerequisites, students may be eligible for progression to nursing courses beginning in the sophomore year. Supporting and liberal arts courses are taken throughout the four-year curriculum and provide the basis for effective nursing practice and an understanding of the human experience. Transfer credit is evaluated by the university registrar and the dean of the School of Nursing or his/her designate.

All students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or better for continuance in the nursing program. To advance, a minimum grade of C must be earned in each nursing class. Students must also demonstrate proficiency in designing nursing care that creates a safe patient environment resulting in high-quality patient outcomes and must receive a satisfactory clinical evaluation to successfully complete any course. Upon graduation, students are eligible to take the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX). A national NCLEX predictor computerized examination will be given during the second semester of the senior year.

Clinical experiences may include day, evening, and weekend hours. An accumulation of two failures in nursing courses results in dismissal from the program. Students with extended progression times in the nursing major will meet nursing requirements of the class with which they graduate.

The program has received full accreditation from the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (<http://www.aacn.nche.edu/ccne-accreditation>) and approval from the Indiana State Board of Nursing. Additionally, the School of Nursing offers a master's degree program with four tracks: nursing administration; nursing education; nursing informatics; and the MSN-MBA, a dual-degree option. Further information about this program is available at www.anderson.edu/academics/nursing. For students considering graduate school, the faculty recommends PSYC 2440, Applied Statistics and Introduction to Research, to meet the liberal arts math requirement.

All who wish to major in nursing must be formally admitted to the School of Nursing. Acceptance to the School of Nursing is on a competitive basis. The requirements are below.

ADMISSION TO THE BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

ADVANCED ACCEPTANCE (for those who apply as high school seniors)

Requirements for consideration for advanced acceptance:

- Cumulative high school GPA of 3.5 or better
- Two years of high school math, including algebra
- Three years of high school science, including biology and chemistry
- Minimum SAT total score (verbal plus math) of 1050 or a minimum ACT composite score of 21

ACCEPTANCE (for current students)

Students applying for admission to the major in the sophomore year must meet the following criteria and will be considered on a competitive and space-available basis:

- Grade of C or above in PSYC 2000; BIOL 2410, 2420; NURS 2140
- Cumulative grade point average of 3.2 or higher
- Completed criminal background check and drug testing*
- Complete immunization history and physical examination*
- CPR certification from the American Heart Association (for health professionals)*
- Completion of Intent to Enter form

Certified Background*

ACCEPTANCE (for transfer students)

- Completion of a grade of C or above in PSYC 2000; BIOL 2410, 2420 (BIOL 2410 and 2420 must be taken at the same institution), or the equivalent transfer courses
- NURS 2140 (may be taken concurrently with NURS 2240 and NURS 2270 with permission of the Dean of the SON). NURS 2140 must be successfully completed to progress to 3000-level nursing courses.
- Cumulative GPA of 3.2 or higher
- Transfer students who have transcripts from multiple universities will utilize an “average” of the cumulative GPAs in order to meet the cumulative GPA requirement. (A minimum of 12 semester hours must be accrued in order to include the GPA.)
- Transfer students who do not meet the cumulative GPA requirement for admission to the School of Nursing must complete a minimum of 12 semester hours at Anderson University (50 percent of which must be within a traditional classroom setting) and obtain a cumulative GPA of 3.2 or higher in order to make application to the School of Nursing
- Transfer credits in pre-requisite and supporting courses (PSYC 2000, PSYC 2510, BIOL 2410, BIOL 2420, BIOL 2230, and CHEM 1000) must be taken within the previous five academic years to be considered for academic credit
- Completed criminal background check and drug testing*
- Complete immunization history and physical examination*
- CPR certification from the American Heart Association (for health professionals)*
- Completion of Intent to Enter form

Certified Background*

PROGRESSION TO THE SOPHOMORE YEAR (for those who have advanced accept status)

Requirements for progression to the sophomore year:

- Grade of C or above in PSYC 2000; BIOL 2410, 2420; NURS 2140
- Cumulative grade point average of 3.2 or higher
- Completed criminal background check and drug testing*
- Complete immunization history and physical examination*
- CPR certification from the American Heart Association (for health professionals)*
- Completion of Intent to Enter form

Certified Background*

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (120 hours)

55 hours in Nursing:

- NURS 2140, 2230, 2240, 2250, 2270, 3350, 3360, 3390, 4450, 4470, 4510, 4520, 4540, 4560

65 hours in supportive sciences and liberal arts:

- BIOL 2230, 2410, 2420; PSYC 2000, 2510; CHEM 1000
- Remaining hours from liberal arts courses (see Liberal Arts Program in this catalog)

The School of Nursing strongly recommends NURS 2130 be taken before entering the major.

NURS COURSES

- 2130 The Nursing Profession 1 hr. (1, 0)
 Discussion of history and contemporary issues of nursing and their impact on current nursing practice is included in study. Relationship between the nursing major, the liberal arts, and support science courses will be explored. The course is designed to assist students in determining if nursing is the correct career choice. Not required for nursing major but highly recommended. This class is not open to juniors or seniors.
- 2140 Issues In Nursing 1 hr. (1, 0)
 Introduces the practice of nursing from the perspective of the profession. Focuses on understanding nursing roles, socialization, values, rights, and responsibilities. Expanding on historical influences develops a working knowledge of current health-care delivery and legal concerns. The following curricular concepts are introduced: Orem's Self-Care Deficit Model; novice, advanced beginner, and competent student; and use of critical/creative reasoning to move from concrete thinking to application and analysis/synthesis. With approval by the dean of the School of Nursing, may be taken concurrently with NURS 2240.
- 2230 Optimal Self-Care Agency I 4 hrs. (3, 3)
 Introduces student to nursing process through Orem's Self-Care Deficit Model, focusing on individuals, families, communities, and populations with optimal ability to care for themselves. Students learn to conduct comprehensive and focused physical, behavioral, psychological, spiritual, socioeconomic, and environmental assessments of health and illness utilizing developmentally and culturally appropriate approaches. Basic psychomotor skills for delivery of efficient, safe, and compassionate care introduced and utilized with patients as students are considered novices and exhibit concrete thinking. Admission to program is required. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2410, 2420; PSYC 2000. COREQUISITE: PSYC 2510, BIOL 2230.
- 2240 Optimal Self-Care Agency II 4 hrs. (2.5, 4.5)
 Builds on the content of NURS 2230 in the continuing study of individuals, families, communities, and populations with optimal ability to care for themselves. Study includes teaching/learning principles which reflect developmental stage, age, culture, spirituality, patient preferences, and health literacy. The concept of health promotion across the lifespan is discussed. The clinical component continues the development of comprehensive and focused physical, behavioral, psychological, spiritual, socioeconomic, and environmental assessments of health and illness utilizing developmentally and culturally appropriate approaches. Basic psychomotor skills for the delivery of efficient, safe, and compassionate care continue to be introduced and utilized with patients as students are considered novices and exhibit concrete thinking. PREREQUISITE: NURS 2230, PSYC 2510, BIOL 2230. COREQUISITE: NURS 2270, CHEM 1000.

- 2250 Foundational Strategies for NCLEX Success 1 hr. (1, 0)
 This course focuses on foundational nursing concepts toward developing a framework for critical thinking and National Council Licensure Exam (NCLEX) test taking strategies. This course will utilize Assessment Technologies Institute (ATI) and other test-taking resources to improve critical thinking and analyzing test questions. Students will develop strategies for studying, including applying course content into NCLEX questions, as well as strategies for managing test anxiety and for increasing test-taking skills..
- 2270 Pathophysiological Basis for Pharmacology in Nursing 4 hrs. (3.5, 1.5)
 Builds on the content and experiences of the introductory nursing courses. Includes consideration of individuals, families, communities, and populations at all levels of self-care. Begins the study of the preparation and administration of medication in a safe care environment that results in high-quality patient outcomes. This course will summarize and discuss physiological processes including absorption, distribution, metabolism, and excretion of drugs. Drug action and interactions will be discussed. Appropriate dosage calculation must be demonstrated by the student. PREREQUISITE: NURS 2230, PSYC 2510, BIOL 2230. COREQUISITE: CHEM 1000, NURS 2240.
- 3350 Minimal Self-Care Agency I 6 hrs. (3, 9)
 Builds on the content of 2000 level nursing courses and support courses. Focuses on the application of the self-care deficit model and nursing process for patients, families, and communities who experience minimal ability to care for themselves. Implementation of evidence-based nursing interventions for managing acute and chronic care of patients and promoting health across the lifespan is included in study. Basic psychomotor skills for the delivery of efficient, safe, and compassionate care continue to be introduced and utilized with patients as students now function as advanced beginners and are to apply critical/creative-thinking strategies. PREREQUISITE: NURS 2240, 2270; CHEM 1000.
- 3360 Minimal Self-Care Agency II 6 hrs. (3, 9)
 Builds upon the content and experiences from NURS 3350. Emphasis on application of the self-care deficit model and nursing process with individuals, families, communities, and populations who have minimal ability to care for themselves. Implementation of evidence-based nursing interventions for managing acute and chronic care of patients and promoting health across the lifespan is included in study. Communication with all members of the health-care team, including the patient and the patient's support network is emphasized. Practical experiences focus on increasingly complex patient needs. The application of critical/creative thinking is used as students practice as advanced beginners. PREREQUISITE: NURS 3350. COREQUISITE: NURS 3390.
- 3390 Nursing Research 2 hrs. (2, 0)
 Introduces nursing research with an in-depth study of the steps of the research process. Analysis of nursing research studies will occur. Explores research design and application of evidence-based practice methodology. It is recommended that the math requirement be met prior to enrolling in the course. PREREQUISITE: NURS 3350, ENGL 1120. COREQUISITE: NURS 3360.
- 3850 Practicum in Nursing 1-3 hrs.
 Individualized study, clinical experiences, research and/or project. CONSENT: School of Nursing dean or instructor. PREREQUISITE: NURS 3360, 3390. REPEAT: May be repeated.
- 4450 Partial Self-Care Agency I 7 hrs. (4, 9)
 Builds on the 2000- and 3000-level nursing courses and support courses. Focused application of the self-care deficit model and nursing process with clients with partial ability to care for themselves. Patient care includes individuals, families, communities, and populations presenting with multiple, dynamic health-care needs. Integration of evidence-based nursing interventions is required in the design of nursing systems. Students come to the course as advanced beginners and through the integration of creative/critical thinking processes of analysis/synthesis, the development of competence in practice is begun. PREREQUISITE: NURS 3360, 3390. COREQUISITE: NURS 4470.

- 4470 Seminar in Nursing 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Professional standards of moral, ethical, and legal conduct are discussed. Students assume accountability for personal and professional behaviors by reflecting on one's own beliefs and values as they relate to professional practice. Students identify personal, professional, and environmental risks that impact personal and professional choices on vulnerable populations. PREREQUISITE: NURS 3360, 3390. COREQUISITE: NURS 4450.
- 4510 Entry into Professional Nursing Practice 1 hr. (1, 0)
This course builds upon foundational strategies in preparation for the NCLEX exam and entry into professional practice. Each student will examine and review his/her computerized test-taking strategies, and a careful analysis of issues related to test-taking abilities will be completed, along with review from ATI textbooks, ATI focused reviews, and other NCLEX preparation resources. Students will also discuss the process for licensure application and job seeking.
- 4520 Partial Self-Care Agency II 8 hrs. (5, 9)
Builds on the experiences of NURS 4450 and requires synthesis and analysis of all previously learned material as the student progresses to the competent level of practice as a generalist. Content includes caring for individuals, families, communities, and populations who lack the ability to care for themselves. Using the self-care deficit model and the nursing process, the student is expected to achieve a high level of clinical competence as a generalist nurse who is a provider, designer, manager, and coordinator of care. Concepts of clinical judgment and accountability for patient outcomes when delegating to and supervising other members of the health-care team are discussed. Students manage care for a group of individuals that approximates a beginning practitioner's workload. PREREQUISITE: NURS 4450, 4470. COREQUISITE: NURS 4540, 4560.
- 4540 Intercultural Health Care 3 hrs. (1, 6)
Emphasizes the value of human diversity in order to provide safe, high-quality care. Concepts related to global health including disease transmission, health policy, and health-care economics are emphasized. Discussion of the nurse generalist's practice in a multicultural environment providing culturally appropriate care across settings is included in study. Students are expected to immerse themselves in a culture other than their own through an intercultural experience. EXPECTATION: Students should plan for additional costs for transportation and other expenses, which may vary from $500 to $3,000. CONSENT: Instructor. PREREQUISITE: NURS 4450, 4470. COREQUISITE: NURS 4520, 4560.
- 4560 Principles of Nursing Leadership 4 hrs. (2.5, 4.5)
Builds on previous nursing courses as the student moves toward becoming a competent generalist nurse who is a provider, designer, manager, and coordinator of care. Critically analyzes leadership principles and management strategies and how they affect the organization and influence patient outcomes. Examines and applies total quality improvement processes and tools which impact patient safety and meet regulatory requirements. Analyzes the utilization and control of financial and human resources to promote quality patient care and optimize professional practice. The nurse as consumer advocate is emphasized. PREREQUISITE: NURS 4450, 4470. COREQUISITE: NURS 4520, 4540.

Peace and Conflict Transformation

Dr. Allen, co-director; Dr. Erny, co-director

The Peace and Conflict Transformation (PACT) minor is available to all students as a complement to any major. The PACT minor is not limited to one department but is designed as an interdisciplinary engagement with the broad array of issues involved in peace and conflict transformation.

PEACE AND CONFLICT TRANSFORMATION MINOR (18 hours)

- PACT 2100, 2200, 2300, 2400
- 1 hour cross-cultural, service-learning, or internship experience
- 9 hours from any of the following courses: ARTH 3410; BIBL 3260; CMIN 3240; COMM 3110; CRIM 3010; ECON 2010; HIST 3190; INCS 2550; PHIL 3210; POSC 3300, 3310; PSYC 2100; RLGN 3120, 3320; SOCI 2010, 2020, 3400

PACT COURSES

- | | | |
|-------------|--|----------------------|
| 2100 | Introduction to Peace and Conflict Transformation | 2 hrs. (2, 0) |
| | Introduction to the interdisciplinary work of peace and conflict transformation. Includes examination from several perspectives of conflict at several levels (e.g., interpersonal, racial, global, etc.) as well as inquiry into the relationships between them. Considers various models by which peace and reconciliation are pursued and encourages critical self-understanding through action and reflection. | |
| 2200 | Peacemakers Past and Present | 2 hrs. (2, 0) |
| | Survey of prominent figures from several fields who have contributed significantly to understanding peace and conflict transformation. Emphasizes the figures' writings (whether fiction, nonfiction, poetry, sermons, speeches, letters, etc.) and encourages critical self-expression through writing and speech. | |
| 2300 | Peace, Conflict, and Religion | 2 hrs. (2, 0) |
| | Study of the role played by religion in situations of conflict and the pursuit of peace. Includes consideration of specific religious traditions, texts, figures, movements, and events, and encourages critical self-reflection through observation and inquiry. | |
| 2400 | Principles and Practices of Conflict Transformation | 2 hrs. (2, 0) |
| | Engagement with a variety of principles and practices developed and employed in selected endeavors (e.g., counseling, mediation, negotiation, racial reconciliation, diplomacy, etc.). Encourages self-appropriation through research, presentation, and critique.
PREREQUISITE: PACT 2100. | |

Physical Sciences and Engineering

Dr. Millis, chair; Dr. Carr, Dr. Che, Dr. Coy, Dr. File, Dr. Kennedy, Dr. Kim, Dr. Lyle-Ippolito, Dr. Pottorf, Dr. Tarplee, Dr. Wallace

The Department Physical Sciences and Engineering offers majors in biochemistry, chemistry, physics, computational physics, physical science, electrical engineering, and mechanical engineering; and minors in chemistry and physics. Students gain broad scientific and engineering knowledge in the classroom while having opportunities to do significant research. With the skills gained in these programs, students go on to medical and doctoral programs in addition to scientific and engineering careers in industry. For students interested in secondary-level teaching, the department offers a complementary major called TeachScience.

BIOCHEMISTRY

The biochemistry major is an interdisciplinary major that applies the principles and methods of both biology and chemistry to understanding the molecular basis of life. The major requires a number of basic classes from each discipline with advanced courses in chemical instrumentation, cell and molecular biology, genetics, and biochemistry, and allows the student to select additional courses necessary to pursue certain career objectives. Students considering a biochemistry major should begin their study with CHEM 2110 and BIOL 2210.

BIOCHEMISTRY MAJOR (52 hours)

- CHEM 2110, 2120, 2210, 2220, 3100, 4510, 4520
- BIOL/CHEM 4210
- BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 4910, 4920
- BIOL 2210, 2220, 2240, 4050, 4310
- Elective hours from:
 - CHEM 3140, 4090, 4110
 - BIOL 3030, 4120

It is suggested that students pursuing pre-medicine should elect BIOL 3030, 4120. They should also take PHYS 2140, 2150 or MATH 2010, 2020, PHYS 2240, 2250.

It is suggested that students pursuing graduate school should elect CHEM 3140, 4090, 4110; BIOL 3030. They should also take MATH 2010, 2020; and PHYS 2240, 2250.

It is suggested students pursuing an industry career should elect CHEM 3140.

CHEMISTRY

The study of chemistry introduces students to the world of atoms and molecules and their composition and interactions. This study is recommended for chemistry majors and minors as preparation for graduate school, medical school, secondary-level teaching, or careers in government or industrial laboratories. It is also recommended for physics or biology students to supplement and complement their major fields of study. Students considering a chemistry major should begin their study with CHEM 2110.

CHEMISTRY MAJOR (52 hours)

- CHEM 2110, 2120, 2210, 2220, 3100; 4110 or 4120; 4510, 4520, 4910, 4920
- PHYS 2240, 2250
- MATH 2010 and 2020
- Remaining hours from additional upper-division (3000-level and above) CHEM courses.
CHEM 1000 and 2700 do not apply toward the major.

CHEMISTRY MINOR (16 hours)

- Must include CHEM 3100.
- Remaining hours from additional CHEM courses.
CHEM 1000 and 2700 do not apply toward the minor.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

The study of electrical engineering employs the principles of applied physics to the benefit of humankind. The central focus of the major is to develop the necessary skills to provide engineering solutions to worldly challenges with limited resources from a Christian viewpoint. More specifically, students will be prepared in the fields of control systems, telecommunications, power and energy systems, semiconductors, and nanotechnology. The major requires a number of courses from each engineering discipline including a senior design capstone which incorporates collaboration between disciplines. Students considering a major in electrical engineering should begin their study with ENGR 2000, CHEM 2110, and MATH 2010.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING MAJOR (80 hours)

- CHEM 2110
- PHYS 2240, 2250, 3130
- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020
- ENGR 2000, 2010, 2020, 2040, 2070, 2050, 2210, 2310, 3130, 3210, 3220, 3230, 3240, 3250, 3260, 3270, 4210, 4230 4950, 4960

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

The study of mechanical engineering employs the principles of applied physics to the benefit of humankind. The central focus of the major is to develop the necessary skills to provide engineering solutions to worldly challenges with limited resources from a Christian viewpoint. The major requires a number of courses from each engineering discipline including a senior design capstone which incorporates collaboration between disciplines. Students considering a major in mechanical engineering should begin their study with ENGR 2000, CHEM 2110, and MATH 2010.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING MAJOR (80 hours)

- CHEM 2110
- PHYS 2240, 2250
- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020
- ENGR 2000, 2010, 2020, 2040, 2050, 2070, 2110, 2120, 2210, 2310, 3010, 3110, 3120, 3130, 3140, 3150, 3160, 4010, 4110, 4140, 4950, 4960

PHYSICS

The purpose of study in physics is to obtain an understanding of the nature and order of the physical world while being exposed to the logical application of scientific methods in discovering this order. This study is recommended for physics majors and minors as preparation for graduate school, secondary-level teaching, or other employment, and for chemistry, biology, mathematics, computer science, and pre-medical students to supplement and complement their major fields of study. Students considering a career in secondary education may wish to pursue the physical science major, which is designed more to their needs. (Note: PHYS 1000, 1020, and 1240 do not apply toward the major or minor.)

All physics majors are required to complete at least a minor in mathematics. In general, the following courses, or their equivalent, should be completed as part of this minor: MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020.

PHYSICS MAJOR (70 hours)

- PHYS 2240, 2250, 3100, 3130, 4130, 4210, 4220, 4340, 4350, 4510, 4520, 4910, 4920
- ENGR 2050, 2070, 2310
- CHEM 2110
- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020
- Remaining Nine (9) Hours from:
 - ENGR 2020, 2210, 3120, 3130, 3210, 3220, 3230, 3260, 3270
 - CHEM 2120, 2210, 2220, 3100, 3140, 4090

PHYSICS MINOR (16 hours)

- PHYS 2240, 2250, 3110
- May include ENGR 2070
- Remaining hours from additional upper-division (3000-level and above) PHYS courses

COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS

The solutions to certain physics problems can only be modeled with computers, and doing so requires a background in computer programming and numerical algorithms. A background in computer science, math, and physics is valuable in the workplace and is an excellent undergraduate background for anyone wishing to pursue graduate studies in any of the aforementioned disciplines. Furthermore, students wishing to pursue careers in industry will be prepared to meet the growing skill set needed to be successful in technical careers.

All computational physics majors are required to complete a math minor, and it is recommended that it includes MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, and 3020.

COMPUTATIONAL PHYSICS MAJOR (65 hours)

- PHYS 2240, 2250, 4210, 4220, 4510, 4910, 4920
- CPSC 1400, 1500, 2500, 4430
- One of CPSC 2100, 2400*, 3410, or 4500
- ENGR 2070
- MATH 2010, 2020, 3010, 3020
- In addition to the above listed math minor, students must complete MATH 3100 and MATH/CPSC 3300
- Remaining hours from 3000 Level or above PHYS or CPSC Courses.

 Requires MATH 2200 or computer science department approval.*

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

The purpose of study in the physical sciences is to obtain an understanding of the nature and order of the physical world while being exposed to the logical application of scientific methods in discovering this order. Students considering a career in secondary education may wish to pursue the physical science major instead of the more specialized physics or chemistry majors.

The physical science major is not intended as a sufficient preparation for graduate studies in the fields of chemistry or physics, nor is it designed to prepare students for a scientific career in industry. It is strongly encouraged, but not required, that students also pursue the TeachScience complementary major as part of their studies.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE MAJOR (50 hours)

- PHYS 1000, 1020, 1240, 2240, 2250, 3130, 4510, 4520, 4910, 4920
- CHEM 2110, 2120, 2210, 3100
- MATH 2010, 2020

TEACHSCIENCE

This complementary major offers science students all of the learning and practical experiences needed to meet the state requirements for teacher certification. This major may only be combined with a catalog major in biology, chemistry, or physics, and cannot stand alone to meet graduation requirements. Program objectives include:

- Emphasis on Christ-like servant ways in the development of a professional educator, strengthened by a liberal arts program.
- Teaching as a mission to serve adolescents and young adults.
- The student's completion of a traditional major in an area of science while pursuing advanced study in science and/or education.
- Unique combination of secondary school experience and content area instruction.
- Early opportunities for students to explore science teaching as a potential career.
- Entrance into the program at any stage in the student's educational journey, based on individual needs and circumstances.
- Program completion within four years for most students.

TEACHSCIENCE COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (30 HOURS)

- EDUC 2000, 3000, 3120, 4010, 4710, 4930
- SPED 2400
- BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 2700
- Students wanting a teaching license in the state of Indiana are strongly encouraged to take ENGL 1400, EDUC 2110, HIST 2110 or 2120, and TESL 3500.

CHEM COURSES

- 1000 Introduction to Chemistry 4 hrs. (3, 2)
A survey approach to the study of chemistry which examines the methods of science as applied to the study of inorganic, organic, and biochemistry. Emphasis on understanding chemical principles and their application to the environment with some use of numerical computations. Not applicable toward chemistry major or minor. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2110 General Chemistry I 4 hrs. (4, 2.5)
Basic introduction to theory and practice of chemical principles with emphasis on atomic structure, chemical bonding, stoichiometry, thermochemistry, and physical states of matter. EXPECTATION: Students entering general chemistry normally have at least one year of high school chemistry and two years of high school algebra. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2120 General Chemistry II 4 hrs. (4, 2.5)
Further studies of chemical principles including kinetics, oxidation-reduction and acid-base reactions, inorganic complexes, and nuclear chemistry. EXPECTATION: Students entering this class should have completed CHEM 2110 or equivalent. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2210 Organic Chemistry I 4 hrs. (3, 3)
Bonding theory, composition, and constitution of carbon frameworks and functional groups, nomenclature, stereochemistry, and introduction to reactions and reaction mechanisms. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2110. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2220 Organic Chemistry II 4 hrs. (3, 3)
Reactions, mechanisms, and synthesis of various functional groups. Spectroscopy, including NMR, IR, and UV-VIS. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2210. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2700 Science Teaching Methods I 3 hrs. (2, 1)
This course involves the learning and application of the methods of teaching science. In addition to some lecture and classroom discussion, students complete a practicum experience with a master teacher in a public or private school setting. Topics covered and jointly pursued by AU faculty and the master teacher include learning theories, classroom management,

- inquiry-based teaching, history of science, special/gifted education, and an introduction to rubrics/grading/assessment. Emphasizes the key roles that a teacher's caring attitude and ability to engage students have in a successful learning environment. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 1120 should be completed. SAME AS: BIOL/PHYS 2700. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3100 Analytical Chemistry 4 hrs. (3, 6)
Review of equilibrium and its relationship to gravimetric and volumetric analysis. Statistical methods and an introduction to environmental chemistry. Several instrumental techniques are introduced. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2110. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3140 Instrumental Analysis 4 hrs. (4, 3)
A study of modern instrumental methods including UV-VIS, AAS, GC, GC/MS, HPLC, IR, NMR, Voltammetry, and X-ray with special emphasis upon chromatography. EXPECTATION: CHEM 3100 should be completed. EXPECTATION: CHEM 3100 should be completed. OFFERED: Spring 2016-17.
- 3800 Internship in Science Education 1-4 hrs. (0, 1-4)
This internship is an opportunity to broaden the diversity of a student's experience in educational settings. Internships are arranged in environments not typically experienced by the student. Tri-S and other international experiences may be appropriate as well as experiences in large inner-city schools or small, rural schools. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 2700 should be completed or taken concurrently. SAME AS: BIOL/PHYS 3800.
- 4090 Inorganic Chemistry 4 hrs. (4, 3)
Molecular structure and bonding, symmetry, structures of solids, d-metal complexes, band theory, organometallics, and advanced topics. EXPECTATION: CHEM 2110 and 2220 should be completed. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4100 Organic Spectroscopy 4 hrs. (4, 3)
A look at the instrumentation used to identify organic compounds. An emphasis is placed on identifying organic compounds from various spectra. Students will gain hands-on experience in FT-NMR (1H, 13C, 2D), FT-IR, GC-MS, UV-Vis, and the interpretation of their spectra. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2210. OFFERED: Spring 2015-16
- 4110 Thermodynamics and Kinetics 4 hrs. (4, 3)
Thermodynamics; properties of gases, liquids, solids, and solutions; chemical kinetics. EXPECTATION: PHYS 3110; MATH 1400 or 2020; and CHEM 2110 should be completed. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4120 Quantum Theory 4 hrs. (4, 0)
This course provides a background and introduction to quantum theory, as well as applications to various systems, such as the hydrogen atom. Additionally, students are exposed to problem solving techniques, such as perturbation theory and the variational method, as well as their applications to a range of physical systems. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2210. OFFERED: 2015-16.
- 4210 Biochemistry 4 hrs. (3, 4)
Introduction to fundamental principles of biochemistry. Lectures and project-oriented laboratories emphasize concepts of macromolecular structure, aspects of enzymology, and intermediary metabolism. PREREQUISITE: BIOL 2240, CHEM 2210. OFFERED: 2015-16. SAME AS: BIOL 4210. OFFERED: Spring 2015-16.
- 4510 Senior Physical Science Practicum I 1 hr. (1, 0)
Assessment of the student's development as a chemistry/biochemistry major. In addition, students will study and discuss finances, potential careers, résumé building and job seeking, graduate schools, laboratory safety, and the relationship of science and Christianity. Required of all chemistry/biochemistry majors. SAME AS: PHYS 4510. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4520 Senior Physical Science Practicum II 1 hr. (1, 0)
Assessment of the student's development as a chemistry/biochemistry major. Continuation of Senior Physical Science Practicum I. An introduction to the scientific literature and grant writing. Required of all chemistry/biochemistry majors. EXPECTATION: CHEM 4510 should be completed. SAME AS: PHYS 4520. OFFERED: Spring semester.

- 4650 Independent Study 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Individual study or research in advanced areas of interest. EXPECTATION: At least second year standing in the department; consent of a chemistry faculty advisor. REPEAT: May be repeated. No more than 8 hours may be counted toward the major.
- 4910 Science Seminar I 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both CHEM 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: BIOL/PHYS 4910. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4920 Science Seminar II 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both CHEM 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: BIOL/PHYS 4920. OFFERED: Spring semester.

ENGR COURSES

- 2000 Introduction to Engineering: Concepts and Design 3 hrs. (2, 2)
This course gives burgeoning engineers a background in the skills necessary to be successful. Topics dealing with planning and the design process and the tools used in engineering will be discussed. Engineering disciplines and the role they play in society will be introduced, as well as the impact engineering has on humankind and its environment. Also, students will be exposed to engineering graphics, including an introduction to computer-aided drafting. A laptop computer is required for this course. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2010 Statics 2 hrs. (2, 0)
Introduction to analyzing forces in isolated and connected rigid-body systems; vector analysis, forces, moments, resultants, two and three-dimensional equilibrium, trusses, beams, and frames. Emphasis is given to non-accelerating bodies and frames. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 2240. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2020 Engineering Materials and Processes 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An introduction to the science of engineering materials. Engineering properties of materials — mechanical, electrical, and chemical — are closely linked to the underlying solid state and molecular structure. Chemistry relating to various aspects of design including phase change, solution theory, acid-base solutions, and chemical equilibrium is presented. The processes by which these materials are produced and manufactured is also presented. PREREQUISITE: CHEM 2110, PHYS 2240. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2030 Introduction to Electrical Circuits 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Introduction to design of electric circuits and linear circuit analysis. Topics include electric circuit variables, circuit elements such as resistance, capacitors, inductors, resistive circuits, methods and analysis of resistive circuits, Thévenin and Norton equivalent circuits, Energy storage elements, First- and Second-order circuits such as RL and RC and RLC circuits. AC circuit analysis and complex power. Introduction to PSpice computer program to design and analyze electric circuits. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 2250, MATH 3010. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2040 Project Management and Administration 1 hr. (0, 2)
The first of a two-semester laboratory sequence designed to formulate experiments based on available resources. Students are placed in groups and learn the various roles of engineering team members including the responsibilities of design, management, financial advisor, process and manufacturing, product design and marketing among others. Technical reports and presentations are required. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2000. OFFERED: Fall semester.

- 2050 Data Processing and Analysis 1 hr. (0, 2)
The second semester laboratory course establishes the foundations for experimental design. The students will be equipped with the tools for data extraction and analysis. This course also provides the students with the necessary skills to interpret the results. Students will be introduced to applied-numerical methods and will be expected to use them to interpret data and produce results. Technical computing and laboratory write-ups are required. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2310, MATH 3010. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2070 Engineering Thermodynamics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Emphasis in this course will be on engineering concepts. This course provides the basic skills and tools necessary in designing and analyzing real-life engineering systems. Topics also covered include internal energy, enthalpy, entropy, and conservation of energy. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2310, PHYS 2240, CHEM 2110. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2080 Service through Engineering and Technology 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to humanitarian engineering and social entrepreneurship. This course focuses on the challenges and opportunities that are present throughout society. Frugal innovation and alternative resources are applied to these challenges in under-developed and under-represented societies. Explanation is given to demonstrate the moral obligations engineers have to improve quality of living and the environment. Emphasis is given to service learning with the effects and consequences therein. PREREQUISITE: None. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2110 Dynamics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to kinematic and kinetic analysis of particles, systems of particles, and rigid bodies; position, velocity, acceleration, non-rotating and rotating frames of reference, Newton's laws, work, energy, impulse, momentum, conservative and non-conservative systems, as well as, inertial and non-inertial reference frames. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2010. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2120 Mechanics of Materials 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Deformation analysis is used to determine resultant stresses and strains on a given object. Special attention is given to the mechanics of continua and their reactions to forces, temperature changes, and phase changes. Topics include elasticity, plasticity, bending, fracture, and failure. Analysis of stresses due to various loading conditions, stress and strain relationships, theories of failure, and energy methods will also be covered. PREREQUISITE: PENGR 2010, 2020. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2310 Introduction to Programming 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to disciplined, object-oriented program development. Topics include a survey of computer architecture and systems, problem solving and algorithm development, data types and variables, control-of-flow structures, and virtual machines. This course also introduces topics related to net-centric and event-driven programming. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3170 Manufacturing and Finance 2 hrs. (2, 0)
An introduction to management aspects of the engineering profession, project management, prioritization of resource allocation, and management of technical design projects. Students are assigned an engineering and/or a business project under the supervision of the faculty member. Students are expected to meet regularly with the faculty member and complete assigned readings and projects as well as give a substantial oral presentation. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2040. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3110 Kinematics and Robotics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An in-depth study is made of mechanisms such as the slider-crank and four-bar linkage. Cams and gears are studied in the context of their use in machines. Kinematics and inverse kinematics are studied with relative applications to mechanisms and machines. Path Planning, dynamics, and control are studied in a two- and three-dimensional space with an emphasis on application in the area of robotics. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2110, ENGR 2310. OFFERED: Fall semester.

- 3120 Fluid Mechanics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Principles of fluid flow, conservation of mass, momentum, laminar flow problems, kinetics, macroscopic balances, and design of fluid flow systems. Students will be presented with material covering flow in pipes, channel flow, immersed bodies and control volume analysis. Liquids will be the primary source of topic, although a brief discussion on gaseous properties including compressible flow will be introduced. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2070, MATH 3020. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3130 Heat and Mass Transfer 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Heat transfer processes will be covered including: Energy conservation, conduction, convection, radiation, equations for chemical species conservation, diffusion, and macroscopic balances. Analysis of chemical engineering operations involving mass transfer will also be covered. Differential and stage-wise separation processes; mass transfer accompanied by chemical reaction; general design and operation of mass-transfer equipment. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2070. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3140 Strength of Materials Laboratory 1 hr. (0, 2)
Laboratory course, which serves as an introduction to the characteristics and uses of transducers to measure displacement, strain, pressure, temperature, and other physical quantities. Emphasis is on the usefulness, accuracy, and reliability of measurement systems in actual applications. Electronic signal conditioning techniques are covered. A design project using LabVIEW software and FilePoint data acquisition hardware is required. Laboratory write-ups and technical reports are required. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2120, 2050. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3150 Structural Dynamics Laboratory 1 hr. (0, 2)
Students measure mechanical phenomena such as acceleration, force, and dynamic response using transducers, instrumentation, and PC-based data acquisition. Emphasis is given to systems that include vibratory response and impulse forces. Laboratory write-ups and technical reports are required. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2050, 3110. COREQUISITE: ENGR 3160. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3160 Dynamic Response 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An introduction to the mechanical response of structural dynamics. Analytic and numerical techniques will be presented for solutions to single- and multiple-degree-of-freedom systems, simple harmonic motion, damped and free vibration, as well as continuous systems. Other topics to be covered will include the methods of energy and Lagrange. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2110, 2310. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3170 Manufacturing and Finance 2 hrs. (2, 0)
An introduction to management aspects of the engineering profession, project management, prioritization of resource allocation, and management of technical design projects. Students are assigned an engineering and/or a business project under the supervision of the faculty member. Students are expected to meet regularly with the faculty member and complete assigned readings and projects as well as give a substantial oral presentation. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2040. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3210 Advanced Electrical Circuits 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Topics include operational amplifiers and energy storage elements, frequency response, the Laplace transform, Fourier series and Fourier transform, filter circuits, and two-port networks. Employing simple models to represent non-linear and active elements, such as the MOSFET in circuits. Fundamental models to design complex electronics and communication are presented. Build circuits and take measurements of circuit variables using tools such as oscilloscopes, multimeters, and signal generators. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2210, MATH 3100. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3220 Electronics I 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Introduction to semiconductor electronic devices and basic theory and application. Topics include semiconductor materials and diodes, diode circuits, field-effect transistors (FETs), bipolar-junction transistors (BJTs), basic BJT amplifiers, and the power amplifiers.

PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3210. OFFERED: Fall semester.

- 3230 Electronics II 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Continuation of Electronics I to include differential amplifiers, frequency response of amplifier circuits, multi-stage amplifiers, power amplifiers, feed-back circuits, power supplies, filters, digital logic families, and oscillators. It includes an amplifier design and analysis including discrete and integrated circuit topologies. Introduction to linear and non-linear op-amp circuits. Introduced topics in digital circuit design using MOSFET and BJT, implementation of digital hardware systems based on the algorithms and requirements using hardware description languages, optimization, logic synthesis, place and route methods. PREREQUISITE: 3220. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3240 Electromagnetic Fields 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Engineering applications of vector calculus and Maxwells equations to electrostatic and magnetostatic, boundary-value problems in electrostatic, and time varying fields, transmission lines, propagation of uniform plane waves, and single-stub matching. PREREQUISITE: MATH 3020, PHYS 2250. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3250 Electromagnetic Waves 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Engineering applications of phasors and Maxwells equations to electrostatic and magnetostatic and time varying fields, transmission lines, Smith Chart, propagation of uniform plane waves, and single-stub matching. Exercises introduce field-plotting, transmission line concepts using wave guides, single stub-tuning. Introduction to the network analyzer, polarization, and radiation fields. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3240. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 3260 MicroControllers 3 hrs. (2, 2)
Introduction to the fundamentals of microcontrollers and embedded systems, including computer and microcontroller architecture, assembly, and C programming, logic concepts, peripheral interfacing, design and data communications. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3270. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3270 Digital Logic 3 hrs. (3, 0)
An introduction to the fundamental concepts for three design levels; device, logic, and system levels. The device level includes logic gates such as AND, OR and NOT using transistors. The logic level covers a design technique in which logic gates are used to design digital components. The system level covered for typical Intel or Motorola microprocessors which are designed by interfacing memory and I/O chips. In order to synthesize digital logic circuits, description language such as VHDL will be utilized. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3210, MATH 2010. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4110 Machine Design 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Application of the principles of statics and mechanics of materials to the design of machine elements. Topics include stress and deformation, finite element method, failure criteria in yielding, fatigue and buckling, statistical considerations, and selection of shafts, bearings, and gears. Vibration concerns are addressed, including methods of balancing rotating machinery. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2120, 3110. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4120 Computational Mechanics 3 hrs. (2, 2)
This course utilizes the numerical capabilities of the modern computer to simulate physical phenomenon. Topics to be covered include: the finite- element method, finite-difference schemes, and optimization techniques. Students will be introduced to round-off errors and error propagation as well as convergence determination. Programming will be done in a C-style language. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2050, 2120, 3120. OFFERED: Spring 2016-17.
- 4140 Thermal Properties and Fluids Laboratory 1 hr. (0, 2)
Experiments using the wind tunnel, engine test cell, testing machines in the mechanics laboratory, vibrations laboratory, fluids laboratory, refrigeration laboratory, and heat transfer laboratory are conducted. Measurements of pressure, temperature, fluid flow, viscosity,

- and heat transfer are conducted with PC-based data acquisition. Laboratory write-ups and technical reports are required. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3120, 3130. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4210 Solid State Devices 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to semiconductor physics and its application to semiconductor devices such as junction, Schottky diodes, BJT, and MOSFET. In semiconductor physics, topics include crystal structure, energy band gap, effective mass, density of states, Fermi-Dirac statistics, carrier distribution and doping, drift and diffusion, and continuity equation. In semiconductor device, topics include the basics of MOS capacitor, application of MOS capacitor and MOSFET and fundamental of device fabrication. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 2020, 3220, PHYS 3130. OFFERED: Spring 2016-17.
- 4230 Power 3 hrs. (3, 0)
Introduction to the fundamentals of power electronics, theory and operation of electromechanical device, including magnetic circuits, transformers as well as DC and AC rotating machines. Characteristics and application of motor control and power processing design. Principles of electrical power generation, transmission, and distribution, three-phase power circuits, power system analysis, load flow, symmetrical components, fault currents, system protection, and stability. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 3210. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4950 Engineering Senior Design I 2 hrs. (0, 4)
Applications of design principles to a capstone engineering project. Projects are team based and include developing design specifications, conceptual designs, and final designs. Project requirements include significant oral and written communication components. Examples of projects include inter-collegiate competition, industry sponsored, applied research, and service projects. COREQUISITE: Senior standing in an engineering major. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4960 Engineering Senior Design II 2 hrs. (0, 4)
Building on ENGR 4950. Applications of design principles to a capstone engineering project. Projects are team based and include developing design specifications, conceptual designs, and final designs. Project requirements include significant oral and written communication components. Students pursuing more than one major in engineering must complete a two-semester sequence in senior design for each major. PREREQUISITE: ENGR 4950. OFFERED: Spring 2016-17.

PHYS COURSES

- 1000 Physical Science 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to selected topics in physical science, with emphasis on concepts necessary to teaching science at the elementary school level. Required of all elementary education majors but also open to other non-science majors. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 1020 Earth and Space Science 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to the study of geology, weather, and space science with an emphasis on the phenomena that pertain to the earth's crust and atmosphere and the methods used to form our understanding of these dynamic systems. May be taken alone or as a supplement to PHYS 1000. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 1030 Teaching STEM in the Elementary Classroom 3 hrs. (0, 4)
Introduction to concepts in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM). Equips students to create and execute their own hands-on experiences exploring these concepts. This course is taken almost exclusively by Education majors in order to prepare them to address these important topics in their careers.
- 1140 Musical Acoustics 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Survey of topics basic to the science of music. Designed to give music students a laboratory-science experience in a field relevant to their interests. Open to all students who can read music. OFFERED: Fall semester.

- 1240 Astronomy 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to understanding planets, stars, and galaxies of our universe with emphasis on what they are, how they live and die, and how they are studied. Students will also gain an appreciation for the night sky and the type of observations that can be made.
- 2140 General Physics I (Algebra Based) 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to major concepts of physics and their mathematical foundations, with a primary emphasis on Newtonian mechanics. EXPECTATION: Students enrolling should demonstrated sufficient knowledge of college algebra. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2150 General Physics II (Algebra Based) 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Continuation of General Physics I, with a primary emphasis on electricity, magnetism, optics, and modern physics. EXPECTATION: PHYS 2140 or equivalent should be completed, and have demonstrated sufficient knowledge of college algebra. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2240 General Physics I (Calculus Based) 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Introduction to major concepts of physics and their mathematical foundations, with a primary emphasis on Newtonian mechanics. EXPECTATION: Students enrolling should have completed or be enrolled in MATH 2010, 2020; or MATH 1400 or equivalent. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2250 General Physics II (Calculus Based) 4 hrs. (3, 2)
Continuation of General Physics I, with a primary emphasis on electricity, magnetism, and optics. EXPECTATION: PHYS 2240 or equivalent should be completed. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2700 Science Teaching Methods 3 hrs. (2, 1)
This course involves the learning and application of the methods of teaching science. In addition to some lecture and classroom discussion, students complete a practicum experience with a master teacher in a public or private school setting. Topics covered and jointly pursued by AU faculty and the master teacher include learning theories, classroom management, inquiry-based teaching, history of science, special/gifted education, and an introduction to rubrics/grading/assessment. Emphasizes the key roles that a teacher's caring attitude and ability to engage students have in a successful learning environment. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 1120 should be completed. SAME AS: BIOL/CHEM 2700. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3100 Modern Physics Laboratory 2 hrs. (0, 6)
Advanced experiments in modern physics, mechanics, electricity, magnetism, heat, and optics with emphasis on scientific methods and laboratory technique. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 2240, 2250. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3130 Modern Physics 2 hrs. (2, 0)
This course will provide a review of special relativity, as well as various properties of electromagnetic radiation, including concepts of superconductivity. Additionally, the quantum view of matter will be developed, focusing on atomic spectra, nuclear structure, elementary particles, and statistical distributions. Finally, an introduction to general relativity, cosmology, and string theory will be developed. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 2250. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3800 Internship in Science Education 1-4 hrs. (0, 1-4)
This internship is an opportunity to broaden the diversity of a student's experience in educational settings. Internships are arranged in environments not typically experienced by the student. Tri-S and other international experiences may be appropriate as well as experiences in large inner-city schools or small, rural schools. EXPECTATION: BIOL/CHEM/PHYS 2700 should be completed or taken concurrently. SAME AS: BIOL/CHEM 3800.
- 4130 Quantum Theory 4 hrs. (4, 0)
This course provides a background and introduction to quantum theory, as well as applications to various systems, such as the hydrogen atom. Additionally, students are exposed to problem-solving techniques, such as perturbation theory and the variational method, as well as their applications to a range of physical systems. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 3130, MATH 3020. SAME AS: CHEM 4120. OFFERED: Fall 2015-16, 2017-18.

- 4210 Electricity and Magnetism 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Electric fields and circuits, magnetic fields, Maxwell's equations, and radiation. EXPECTATION: PHYS 2250 and MATH 3100 are normally completed. OFFERED: Fall 2015-16.
- 4220 Classical and Statistical Physics with Computational Methods 4 hrs. (4, 2)
This course offers a background in classical physics and statistical physics, including topics in Lagrangian dynamics, the Hamiltonian formulation of motion, central forces, partition functions, and other statistical distributions. In addition to gaining a theoretical foundation in these areas, students will be exposed to various computational methods used to evaluate problems. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 2240, PHYS 3130, MATH 3020. OFFERED: Fall 2016-17.
- 4320 Waves/Optics 4 hrs. (4, 0)
Study of electromagnetic and mechanical wave phenomena in optics and acoustics and ray and wave optics. EXPECTATION: PHYS 2250 and MATH 3100 are normally completed. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 4340 Advanced Quantum and Electromagnetic Theory 3 hrs. (3, 0)
This course begins as a continuation of PHYS 4120 and PHYS 4210, exploring various aspects of the quantum and electromagnetic theories. Ultimately, the course culminates in the theory of quantum electrodynamics and its applications, particularly those pertaining to particle and nuclear physics. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 4130 and PHYS 4210. OFFERED: Spring 2015-16.
- 4350 Cosmological Theory 3 hrs. (3, 0)
A study of topics in cosmology including general relativity, the expansion of the universe, nucleosynthesis in the early universe, inflation, cosmic microwave background radiation, dark matter, dark energy, and the formation of structure. PREREQUISITE: PHYS 4220. OFFERED: Spring 2016-17.
- 4510 Senior Physical Science Practicum I 1 hr. (1, 0)
Assessment of the student's development as a physics major. In addition, students will study and discuss finances, potential careers, résumé building and job seeking, graduate schools, laboratory safety, and the relationship of science and Christianity. Required of all physics and physical science majors. SAME AS: CHEM 4510. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4520 Senior Physical Science Practicum II 1 hr. (1, 0)
Assessment of the student's development as a physics major. Continuation of Senior Physical Science Practicum I. An introduction to the scientific literature and grant writing. Required of all physics and physical science majors. EXPECTATION: PHYS 4510 should be completed. SAME AS: CHEM 4520. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 4650 Independent Study 1-4 hrs. (arranged)
Individual research in advanced areas of interest. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 8 hours. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 4910 Science Seminar I 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both PHYS 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: BIOL/CHEM 4910. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 4920 Science Seminar II 1 hr. (1, 0)
Techniques and practice of written and oral technical communication with respect to experimental or library research projects. Required of all science majors. Both PHYS 4910 and 4920 must be completed to receive advanced writing competency (writing intensive) credit. PREREQUISITE: Science major. SAME AS: BIOL/CHEM 4920. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 4930 Seminar 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
Topics selected from optics, quantum mechanics, thermodynamics, mechanics, astrophysics, nuclear physics, or other advanced topics. REPEAT: May be repeated. Total credit not to exceed 12 hours. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.

Psychology

Psychology is the scientific study of the brain, mind, and behavior. It is approached from physiological, cognitive, and social perspectives. Psychologists apply the scientific method (including statistics and experimental design) to the study of brain function, perception, memory, development, social influence, attitudes, organizational behavior, abnormal behavior, and the treatment of disorders. This requires the development of skills in critical thinking, quantitative reasoning, speaking, writing, and ethical decision making. Each course seeks to integrate psychological theories and data with biblically based principles. Psychology majors have pursued successful careers in research, counseling, teaching, medicine, business, and law. The department's web page can be found at <http://psychology.anderson.edu>.

Religious Studies

Questions of truth and destiny confront each generation and are at the root of all human enterprises, necessitating that the very nature of the educational task focus on these basic issues. With a firm commitment to the centrality of the Christian tradition for all such considerations, the Department of Religious Studies offers coursework and field experiences designed to:

- develop in all students familiarity with and appreciation for the biblical foundations of the Christian faith;
- make available from a Christian perspective a wide range of knowledge concerning the religious experience of humankind;
- provide the biblical, theological, and pastoral Christian education, field courses, and experiences central to preparing enlightened and committed Christian leaders; and
- develop students' appreciation for and critical reflection of their own and others' beliefs, practices, and experiences.

Students seeking more than one major in the department may present no more than 15 hours common to those majors. Students seeking minors as well as majors in this department must choose a different area of study for the minor and present a minimum of 12 hours not applied to the major.

Many of the department's academic and support activities are channeled through the Anderson University Center for Ministry Education (see the Special Programs section in this catalog).

BIBLICAL STUDIES

The biblical studies major provides opportunities for students to know about the history, composition, and transmission of biblical texts; to use scholarly resources and different interpretive approaches to engage with biblical texts; and to value the variety of resources and diversity of contexts in which biblical texts continue to play a role.

BIBLICAL STUDIES MAJOR (36 hours)

- BIBL 2000, 2050, 3300
- RLGN 2000, 2060, 2130, 2150, 3040
- A course from this series:
 - The Gospels: BIBL 334x
 - Pauline Epistles: BIBL 335x
 - General Writings: BIBL 336x
- A course from this series:
 - The Pentateuch: BIBL 337x
 - Former and Latter Prophets: BIBL 338x
 - Old Testament Writings: BIBL 339x
- Remaining hours from any courses offered by the department.
BIBL 334x, 335x, 336x, 337x, 338x, and 339x are offered with different subtitles on a rotating basis. BIBL 2110, 2120, 2210, and 2220 are recommended.

BIBLICAL STUDIES MINOR (15 hours)

- BIBL 2050, RLGN 2150
- 6 hours from BIBL courses
- Remaining hours from any courses offered by the department. BIBL 2110, 2120, 2210, 2220 may be applied toward the minor.

BIBLE AND RELIGION

Courses in this major are drawn from the related areas of theology, Bible, and religion as students explore the biblical sources of Christian religion and its theology, practice, and relation to life and culture. This major is especially valuable for pre-seminary students.

BIBLE AND RELIGION MAJOR (36 hours)

- BIBL 2000, 2050
- RLGN 2000, 2060, 2130, 2150, 3040, 3320
- 12 upper-division hours from BIBL and RLGN courses

RELIGION MINOR (16 hours)

- RLGN 2000, 2060, 3320
- Remaining hours from RLGN-captioned courses not applied to liberal arts requirements.

ETHICS

The ethics minor is designed to provide additional depth and strength in the critical study of moral and ethical deliberations and is particularly focused on continuing moral concerns facing humans, their institutions, and the wider creation. The ethics minor is designed to strengthen the knowledge base of departmental majors but may also complement the interests of students in other majors.

ETHICS MINOR (16 hours)

- BIBL 3420; PHIL 2120, 3210; RLGN 2130, 3120
- 1 hour of independent study
- COMM 3200 may be applied

PHILOSOPHY

Courses in philosophy involve students in relative consideration of the nature of humanity, society, morality, religion, the arts, and the natural world. These courses contribute to the liberal arts education in two basic ways: they help students understand and assess beliefs that are integral to their views of human existence, and they are meant to enable students to acquire philosophical skills and materials that enrich and integrate the study of other disciplines. Essential to the success of each course is an atmosphere of openness to diverse viewpoints and a respect for the high standards of critical thinking.

PHILOSOPHY MINOR

- 16 hours from PHIL courses

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES

The Christian ministries major is designed to prepare students to serve as Christian leaders and servants in the world. It offers undergraduate study of ministry which may lead to (1) lay ministry while pursuing another profession; (2) a position of leadership in ministry in a local congregation, a church-related organization, or a related field; or (3) graduate study in ministry. This major is intended to be a first step in a plan of lifelong learning for ministry. Courses in the Christian ministries major include biblical and religious studies as well as ministry courses involving skill development in core ministry tasks, the exploration of various ministry options, and supervised practical experience.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES COMPLEMENTARY MAJOR (28 hours)

The Christian ministries complementary major may be taken only in conjunction with another major. This approach strengthens students' preparation for servanthood in today's world by connecting theological, biblical, and ministerial knowledge with students' base of knowledge. It offers the opportunity to prepare for ministry while also preparing for another profession and gives students a broad base in preparation for graduate study in ministry.

- BIBL 2000; RLGN 2130, 2150, 3040, 3420
- CMIN 2000, 3910
- At least 1 hour from CMIN 4850 or 3340 (3 hours recommended for students preparing for professional study)
- 3 hours from CMIN-captioned courses
- 3 hours from additional upper-division courses offered by the department.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES MAJOR (43 hours)

This major is designed for students desiring to enter ministry upon graduation but who might choose to continue their studies later and for students entering seminary immediately upon graduation. Courses in this major encourage ministry practice and informed reflection on that practice, giving students both depth and breadth of preparation.

- 21 hours from departmental core courses: BIBL 2000, 2050; RLGN 2000, 2060, 2130, 2150, 3040
- 16 hours from ministry core courses: CMIN 2000, 3910 (to be taken twice), 4850, 4250
- 6 hours from additional courses offered by the department.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES MINOR (18 hours)

- CMIN 2000
- 9 hours chosen from CMIN courses
- at least 1 hour of CMIN 4850: Ministry Practicum
- 3 upper division hours from additional courses offered by the department

YOUTH MINISTRIES MAJOR (46 hours)

- 21 hours from departmental core courses: BIBL 2000, 2050; RLGN 2000, 2060, 2130, 2150, 3040
- 16 hours from ministry core courses: CMIN 2000, 3910 (to be taken twice), 4250, 4850
- 9 hours from youth and family ministry courses: CMIN 2260, 3230, 3260

The student may wish to join with this major the youth leadership-development complementary major.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES EXPERIENTIAL EDUCATION

The Christian ministries and youth ministries majors also offer experiential education in ministry, including internships (CMIN 4850), experiential courses (CMIN 3340, 4650, 4910) offered in conjunction with agencies such as Urban Studies in cities like Chicago or Indianapolis and the Heart Institute in Florida, and opportunities offered through Anderson University Center for Ministry Education (AUCME).

Students are urged to explore the opportunities offered through the AUCME program, which supports personal and professional growth in ministry. For more information, see the Special Programs section in this catalog, or contact the Department of Religious Studies.

RLGN COURSES

- 2000 Introduction to Religion 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to the nature of religion as it is understood critically in contemporary thought. Viewpoints including historical, anthropological, sociological, psychological, philosophical, and phenomenological studies of religion will be surveyed. Brief introduction to the history of the study of religion is included. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2060 History of Christianity 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Comprehensive survey of the history of Christianity. An effort is made to trace main lines of development and to understand them in light of their inner dynamics and general environment. SAME AS: HIST 2060. Fall semester.
- 2130 Introduction to Christian Ethics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Introduction to the nature, sources, and diversity of Christian ethics understood as the deliberate reflection on the Christian moral life. Particular attention given to how Jesus and the church as a moral community of faith provide basic guidance in forming individuals capable of determining questions of right and wrong, good and evil. PREREQUISITE: BIBL 2000. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 2150 Hermeneutics: The Practice of Interpreting 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Sustained reflection on the practice of interpreting, understood to be a necessary activity in all of human life. Primary attention is given to the art of interpreting texts — including biblical texts as well as those of theology, philosophy, ethics, history, and others, both ancient and contemporary. PREREQUISITE: BIBL 2000. OFFERED: Every semester.
- 2210 Faith and Human Development 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Study of faith development through the life cycle with attention to changes in, influences on, and implications of our processes of meaning-making. Focus on individuals and their relationships in church, community, and wider society. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 2220 Christian Communities and Vocation: Discipleship and Citizenship 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 A study of ways that faith within Christian traditions can be expressed through lay leadership in the church and through care for the common good. Models of servanthood, vocation, leadership, discipleship, and citizenship will be studied by focusing on foundational biblical texts. Historical understandings and contemporary expressions of these models will also be considered.
- 2270 Church of God Heritage 4 hrs. (4, 0)
 Sociohistorical treatment of the Church of God (Anderson, Ind.). Emphasis on dynamic factors influencing direction of change. PREREQUISITE: BIBL 2000. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 2900 Honors Seminar 2-4 hrs. (arranged)
CONSENT: Department chair. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3000 The Bible, Christians, and Biblical Interpretation 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 This course is a historically based study of the ways in which Christians have interpreted the Bible. The course considers the diversity of Christian interpretation as well as the development of Christianity as the biblical text was interpreted over time. PREREQUISITE: BIBL 2000; upper-division standing. SAME AS: BIBL 3000. OFFERED: Fall semester.
- 3010 Faith in Context 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Faith always emerges in multiple contexts, including cultural, developmental, and religious. Students in this course examine personal experiences with faith, the faith experiences of their families of origin, and contemporary North American expressions of popular religion and spirituality. OFFERED: Spring semester.
- 3020 Christianity and Social Justice 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 The call to “do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly with your God” is deeply rooted in Christian faith. Just what this element of Christian commitment means in lived experience, however, is neither consistently interpreted nor universally applied. This course affords students the opportunity to explore in some depth the relationship between Christian faith, in its various articulations, and social justice. The class addresses a selection of contemporary social justice issues (for example, racial justice, gender justice, environmental justice), exploring ways in which representative groups and individuals from the Christian tradition have understood the relationship between faith and social justice. The goal of the course is to introduce students to the complexities of each social justice issue, to encourage them to consider ways in which Christian faith commitments intersect with concerns about the issue, and to prompt them to develop a lifelong engagement with the concerns.

- 3040 Introduction to Christian Theology 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Beginnings in theology: province and methods of theology, doctrines of God, human nature, Christ, the church, eschatology. PREREQUISITE: BIBL 2000. OFFERED: Every semester.
- 3100 Christian Understandings of Human Experience 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Investigation of perennial human experiences of ultimacy, spirit, community, hope, revelation, and search for truth and reconciliation. Acquaints students with biblical-Christian interpretation of these experiences. PREREQUISITE: Upper-division standing. OFFERED: Every semester.
- 3120 Current Issues in Christian Ethics 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 A critical examination of Christian reflections and decision-making on moral and ethical issues in contemporary life. “Christian,” as used in this course, seeks particularly to take Jesus and the church seriously in defining, describing, and illuminating the nature and content of moral issues. The course examines varying approaches to Christian moral decision-making, with a view to shaping sound responses to several current moral issues confronting human beings and creation. PREREQUISITE: RLGN 2130 or BIBL 3420. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.
- 3130 Renaissance and Reformation 3 hrs. (3, 0)
 Political, social, economic, religious, and intellectual life of early modern Europe from 14th century to 1648. SAME AS: HIST 3130. OFFERED: With sufficient demand.

Sociology, Social Work, Criminal Justice, and Family Science

Dr. Mac Murray, chair; Prof. Bargerstock-Oyler, Dr. Reedy-Strother, Prof. Musser, Prof. Pay, Prof. McDole, Dr. Quashie, Dr. Scott, Prof. Augustine

Four majors are offered in the department: criminal justice, family science, social work, and sociology. Students seeking more than one major in the Department of Sociology, Social Work, Criminal Justice, and Family Science may present no more than 15 hours common to those majors. Students seeking a minor and a major in the department must choose a different area of study for the minor and present a minimum of 12 hours not applied to the major.

Honors study is offered for students with strong academic records in any of the four departmental majors. For information, contact the department chair.

Students in any of the departmental majors may attend Chicago Center for a semester or summer term. The center's seminar on communities and cultures may be taken for credit in lieu of SOCI 2020 or 2450. Internship and practicum hours may also be earned. Students should consult with the campus liaison for more information.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The criminal justice major enables students to enter employment in fields related to law enforcement, courts and corrections, victim advocacy and assistance, and also provides a foundation for graduate study. Students gain preparation for careers throughout criminal justice in the private occupational sector as well as with public agencies at the local, state or federal level.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE MAJOR (34 hours)

- CRIM 2510, 2520, 3110
- 4 hours from CRIM 4810 and 3 hours from CRIM 4900
- SOCI 2020, 3700
- POSC 2100
- 6 hours from additional CRIM courses

Students who wish to take additional coursework providing more breadth and depth in the field should consult with their advisor concerning the appropriate courses.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE MINOR (17 hours)

- CRIM 2510, 2520, 3110, 4900
- 3 hours from additional CRIM courses

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS DEGREE (60 hours)

This two-year Associate of Arts degree program is designed for students pursuing careers in criminal justice, as well as for individuals already employed in the criminal justice field. The curriculum provides foundational courses in criminal justice and approximately one-half of the hours required for the four-year Bachelor of Arts degree program. The curriculum assumes proficiency in writing at the ENGL 1100 or 1110 level and in mathematics at the MATH 1000 level.

- LART 1100; BIBL 2000; POSC 2100; SOCI 2020
- CRIM 2510, 2520, 3110
- 6 hours from additional CRIM courses
- 12-14 hours from the liberal arts program (see Liberal Arts Core Curriculum), no more than one course from any one component and no more than 4 hours from courses offered by the department

- Remaining hours from additional courses in any caption; no more than 31 hours from CRIM courses
- Students must also meet other graduation requirements as listed in this catalog

FAMILY SCIENCE

The Family Science program is designed to prepare students for professional careers in a variety of human service areas, including family services and youth programs; family life or parent education programs; business and government agencies; and leadership roles in church, school, and community. Graduates are also prepared for personal roles in marriage and family living. The program offers students a strong foundation for graduate work leading to careers in ministry, marriage and family therapy, counseling, and teaching of family science at the college level. Key content areas include human development, sexuality, interpersonal relationships, internal dynamics of families, parent-child relationships, and family processes such as communication, moral development, decision-making, family resource management, and problem-solving. Anderson University's Family Science program is certified by the National Council on Family Relations. Graduates of the program are eligible to apply for Provisional Certified Family Life Education (CFLE) certification.

FAMILY SCIENCE MAJOR (50-51 hours)

- SOCI 2100, 2120, 3100, 3120, 3140, 3250, 3350, 3700, 4820, 4850, 4910, 4950

FAMILY SCIENCE MINOR (18 hours)

- SOCI 2100, 2120, 3100; 3120 or 3140, 4850
- 3 hours from additional courses required for the major

SOCIOLOGY

The sociology major provides a strong liberal arts preparation for entry-level positions throughout the fields of social service, education, government, and business, as well as for graduate study. Sociology majors who enter human services fields often work with youth at risk, the elderly, or people experiencing problems related to poverty, substance abuse, the justice system, or other social problems. Those who enter careers in business may work in human resources, customer relations, sales, or marketing.

SOCIOLOGY MAJOR (33 hours)

- SOCI 2010, 2020, 2510, 3150, 3400, 3700, 3820, 4020, 4200

SOCIOLOGY MINOR (17 hours)

- SOCI 2010, 3700, 3820
- one course from SOCI 3150, 3220, 3400
- one course from SOCI 3470, 4020, 4200

SOCIAL WORK

The social work major is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) and prepares students to become generalist social work practitioners in entry-level human service positions or to enter graduate study in social work. Graduates are eligible to apply for credentialing as beginning-level social work practitioners in most states.

MISSION

The mission of the Anderson University Social Work Program is to prepare competent, compassionate, and effective entry-level social workers who:

- have acquired knowledge, skills, and values for professional generalist practice
- are committed to do good, seek justice, rebuke and rectify the hearts of oppressors, defend orphans and widows, and help those in need (based on Isaiah 1:17)
- will be servant leaders in their world

ADMISSION TO THE SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

The Anderson University Social Work Program is a carefully constructed baccalaureate degree curriculum accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE).

Students may apply for admission to the program when they have:

- completed SOCI 2010, 2020; SOWK 2000, 2100
- earned a minimum 2.00 cumulative grade point average
- earned a minimum 2.50 grade point average in the major with a grade of C- or better in all courses applicable to the major
- earned a grade of C- or better in ENGL 1120 or its equivalent

The process for applying to the Social Work Program is to:

- submit a completed application form (available in the departmental offices)
- submit two letters of recommendation
- complete an interview with the Social Work Program faculty

The social work faculty makes the final decision on admission of a student to the Social Work Program. For more information, see the Anderson University Social Work Program Student Handbook, available in the departmental offices.

SOCIAL WORK MAJOR (64 hours)

The social work major at Anderson University may be declared in the academic advising office at any time after matriculation. However, continuation in the major is determined by admission to the Social Work Program.

Special Programs

ALPHA PROGRAM

Anderson University believes that all students entering the institution deserve a fair chance to succeed. In turn, success depends on students being adequately prepared to meet the rigors of college-level study. The ALPHA program is designed to support students who have the potential to succeed, but who have not fully developed the skills necessary for collegiate success.

In considering new student applications, the committee for admissions carefully reviews several sources that serve as indicators of collegiate success. Based on these academic records, scholastic aptitude scores, and recommendations, the admissions committee may accept students conditionally for participation in the ALPHA program. As part of the program, students are expected to participate in a pre-collegiate orientation designed to acclimate students to campus before the beginning of classes. During the fall semester, participants are limited to enrolling in a maximum of 12-14 hours. In addition, these students are required to enroll in LART 1010 (Strategies for Academic Success), a three-credit-hour course focusing on academic, study, and life skills necessary for success in college.

ANDERSON UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR MINISTRY EDUCATION

The Anderson University Center for Ministry Education (AUCME) provides an environment of support and guidance to Anderson University students interested in professional ministry while majoring in a variety of undergraduate fields. Operating out of the Department of Religious Studies, the program offers a set of academic, practical, and personal support activities and events. Undergraduate ministerial students receive personal counseling and advising, are introduced to individuals serving in a variety of ministries, and are given opportunities for practical, supervised experience in ministry. The program also works with other college and church agencies in the area of ministerial recruitment and placement. Students interested in associating with this program may apply in the Department of Religious Studies.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT CENTER

The Career Development Center assists students in selecting a major and/or a career path. To prepare for a competitive and rapidly changing job market, students may take advantage of career counseling workshops, résumé and job search workshops, recruitment and job fair opportunities, and the Career and Life Planning class (LART 1200). An extensive resource library allows students to conduct customized job searches or research graduate schools. Additional information is available at www.anderson.edu/career.

CENTER FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

The Center for Public Service (CPS) is an honors program for students preparing for careers in public service. A generous grant from Lilly Endowment, Inc., in 1972 established the center. CPS was founded on the belief that an undergraduate program built around research and study of issues and problems offers distinctive opportunities for students preparing for public service. The cornerstone of the CPS program is personal contact for the Fellows with professionals in their career areas. In addition, CPS Fellows have the opportunity to participate in professional conferences, internships, and other off-campus learning experiences related to their career goals. The center's approach is purposely flexible and individualized. Membership in CPS is highly competitive and based on a comprehensive application process. Students of sophomore standing or above are eligible to apply.

CHICAGO CENTER

Chicago Center semester and summer programs offer the opportunity for students from all majors to live and learn in Chicago while earning credit toward graduation. Three components comprise the program, including an internship in an urban organization, an independent study project that is related to the internship, and a course on urban issues.

Students arrange their individualized program in cooperation with the AU campus liaison and Chicago Center staff. While in Chicago, students live and study with individuals from other small, Midwest, church-affiliated colleges. The campus liaison is a faculty member from the Department of Sociology, Social Work, Criminal Justice, and Family Science.

COUNCIL FOR CHRISTIAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Anderson University is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU), an organization of more than 100 colleges and universities. Through this membership, students are eligible to apply for a semester in one of a number of off-campus programs. These interdisciplinary learning opportunities are available to upper-class students. For more information, contact the university registrar.

HONOR SOCIETIES

Anderson University has chosen to participate in a number of national academic honor societies. Students whose academic achievement is sufficiently meritorious will be invited to join an honor society (or societies) based on overall grade point average and academic major. National academic honor society chapters fostering the pursuit of scholarship at AU are:

- Alpha Chi (top 10 percent of juniors and seniors maintaining a GPA of 3.70 or higher)
- Phi Eta Sigma (freshmen)
- Alpha Mu Gamma (foreign languages)
- Alpha Sigma Lambda (non-traditional students)
- Delta Mu Delta (business)
- Kappa Delta Pi (education)
- Kappa Mu Epsilon (mathematics)
- Phi Alpha (social work)
- Phi Alpha Theta (history)
- Phi Epsilon Kappa (health and physical education)
- Pi Kappa Lambda (music)
- Pi Sigma Alpha (political science)
- Psi Chi (psychology)
- Sigma Tau Delta (English)
- Sigma Theta Tau (nursing)
- Sigma Zeta Upsilon (mathematics and science)

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Anderson University sponsors 16 intercollegiate athletic teams (eight men's and eight women's teams) within the mission of the university and the NCAA Division III philosophy. The athletic program is understood as integral to the academic program with the primary emphasis on the student-athlete. An attempt is made to recruit students who fit the academic standards and ethos of the university. For more information, contact the athletic director.

CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AND INTERCULTURAL STUDIES (CIIS)

The Center for International and Intercultural Studies (CIIS) serves as a resource for students interested in study abroad, international or intercultural internships, or short-term service/learning experiences (TRI-S). CIIS maintains and directs a wide range of programs focused on developing intercultural competence and assists students in integrating an international or intercultural study experience with their degree program at Anderson University. CIIS staff and faculty advise students regarding the Intercultural Studies complementary major and the various aspects of international and intercultural study including program selection, visas and travel documents, financial aid, safety and security issues, and the transfer of academic credit. Students are encouraged to contact the Center of International and Intercultural Studies (CIIS) early in their degree program when considering international or intercultural study opportunities.

INVISION AU

INvision AU is a collaborative program that sponsors internships, fellowships, community team projects, and business plan competitions, all designed to enable AU students to gain practical work experience and build strong relationships with Indiana businesses.

KISSINGER LEARNING CENTER

The Kissinger Learning Center promotes academic success by providing a variety of free services for all Anderson University students. The center has individual and group-oriented resources, including self-directed, audio, audio-visual, and computer-assisted instructional support materials. The center focuses on helping all students achieve their academic goals. This assistance may be related to specific courses; to the improvement of skills, including reading, writing, and specific study skill competencies; and to preparing for special exams, such as the Praxis. From peer tutoring for virtually all courses to general assistance with reading and study skills, the center staff is eager to help students with their academic goals. In addition, Disability Services is located within the center.

PROGRAM FOR STUDENTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

Anderson University offers a full-service program for students with specific learning disabilities to help them achieve their academic goals. The program is designed to create an educational environment that provides the necessary accommodations to facilitate success while helping students develop skills that lead to future independence. The program includes a two-credit-hour college survival skills class which provides an extra layer of support during the transitions of the first semester. It is the philosophy of Anderson University that those students who are qualified and have a sincere motivation to complete a college education should be given every opportunity to work toward that goal. With an appreciation for individual learning styles, the university provides an atmosphere and environment that allows students with learning disabilities to pursue their goals in a non-threatening and supportive environment. Applicants for this inclusive program should contact Teresa Coplin, director of disability services for students, Kissinger Learning Center, Anderson University, Anderson, IN 46012, (765) 641-4223.

Services may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- testing accommodations
- tutoring
- emotional intelligence instruction
- advocacy/liaison
- study skills instruction
- academic counseling
- time management guidance
- scheduling assistance

SOFTWARE RESEARCH CENTER

The Software Research Center creates a setting in which students and faculty collaborate with local companies and enterprises in the development of specialized software applications that meet real-world needs. For more information, contact Professor Sam Blanchard.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The Summer School program offers students the possibility of attaining a full semester's credit by participating throughout the entire summer term in a variety of delivery formats (e.g. face-to-face, blended, or on line). Generally, there are three four-week sessions, followed by a concluding three-week session, running from May to August, for a total of 15 weeks.

Also possible in summer are specially arranged courses such as reading, online, tutorial, and TRI-S programs. These courses are arranged to help students meet educational goals during the summer without being confined to campus.

The Department of Adult Studies also offers a variety of delivery formats (e.g. face-to-face, blended, or online). Generally there are three five-week summer sessions, along with a few seven-week summer sessions. Courses from the Department of Adult Studies listed in the master schedule are open to all students.

The Summer School schedule of classes lists Summer School courses and information about other educational opportunities. Students should read that bulletin and/or contact their academic advisors to determine relationships of such courses to graduation or other requirements. Students planning coursework elsewhere during the summer should consult the registrar's office.

TRI-S

TRI-S (Study, Serve, and Share) seeks to expand the college campus into the world and open challenging and stimulating cross-cultural encounters through international and intercultural learning and service opportunities. Nearly 400 individuals annually volunteer to build, repair, paint, teach, counsel, research, sing, or provide nursing services in Africa, Australia, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Caribbean, and the United States. These experiences are intensified as students work and/or live with individuals of different cultures. Programs are offered in the summer, during the international opportunity between semesters, or during spring break week. Students should contact the Center for International and Intercultural Studies (CIIS) for information about the TRI-S program.

Graduate Programs

School of Theology

Anderson University was established in 1917 as Anderson Bible Training School. Through the years, the university has evolved and expanded to meet the increasing responsibilities and opportunities of Christian higher education. A particularly significant step was establishing a graduate division in 1950 for the advanced preparation of ministerial students. This division is known as Anderson University School of Theology and is recognized as the seminary of the Church of God (Anderson, Ind.).

Developing rapidly, as did the university, the School of Theology achieved full accreditation in 1965 from the Association of Theological Schools. It continues to enjoy this status, along with full accreditation through the doctoral level from the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, and membership in other organizations devoted to educational quality in general and, particularly, excellence in ministerial training.

The School of Theology is a graduate professional school of Anderson University with its mission of forming women and men for the ministry of biblical reconciliation. It is rooted in the heritage of the Church of God (Anderson) and aspires to be biblical in orientation, missional in emphasis, and relational in spirit. The School of Theology is a community dedicated to:

- Scholarship: Encouraging and equipping people in their quest for knowledge of the Bible's content and meaning and of the historical development of the Christian Church and its faith, always seeking in the process to promote academic excellence in the pursuit of truth.
- Spirituality: Stimulating spiritual growth, enabling personal discovery and discipline, and exploring the meaning of individual faith and life together.
- Service: Enabling people to develop competency in the skills and use of resources necessary for fulfilling the call to ministry.
- The Church at Large: Providing for the continuing education of those engaged in ministry, encouraging them in professional growth, serving as a center for research and writing, and providing resources and incentives for creative leadership in the church.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The School of Theology offers five graduate degree programs: Master of Divinity, Master of Theological Studies, Online Master of Arts in Christian Ministry, Master of Arts in Intercultural Service, and Doctor of Ministry.

MASTER OF DIVINITY

The purpose of this 81-hour degree program is to equip ministers of the Gospel — men and women — for ordained service. The Master of Divinity is the basic ministerial leadership degree for those preparing for ministry. This degree provides a broad preparation with a solid core in Bible, history, theology, mission, and pastoral ministry.

MASTER OF THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

The Master of Theological Studies is a 48-hour degree program that provides a basic understanding of theological disciplines for further graduate study or for general educational purposes. The M.T.S. also provides a thesis track for students considering Ph.D. or Th.D. programs. The thesis track option of the M.T.S. is a 48-hour degree program requiring a 3.5 GPA, faculty interview, and writing sample in addition to general admission into the seminary. Neither the general studies nor thesis option provides adequate preparation for pastoral ministry. Students who are preparing for ordained ministry should enroll in the Master of Divinity degree program.

ONLINE MASTER OF ARTS IN CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

This 48-hour degree program is offered primarily via the Internet and is designed for those currently serving in local congregations. Students do most of their coursework on their own schedule. This degree offers specializations in student ministry, pastoral ministry, preaching and chaplaincy.

MASTER OF ARTS IN INTERCULTURAL SERVICE

This 48-hour degree program is designed to prepare individuals to serve the church in specific fields of mission and outreach. The degree is designed for those desiring to engage in intercultural ministries, in the more traditional missionary sense, either in the United States or overseas, with concerns for both urban and rural contexts.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

This 32-hour degree program is designed to enhance the professional competence of already seasoned ministers through research, coursework, interaction, and reflection, including a dissertation project. The focus of the degree is on the ministerial settings in which students are currently serving. Candidates must possess a Master of Divinity degree or equivalent from an accredited theological school.

CENTER FOR CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP

The Center for Christian Leadership is a non-degree certificate program of the School of Theology that focuses on continuing education for both pastors and laity. The center offers independent study courses created by Anderson University and School of Theology faculty. The Center offers a Certification in Christian Ministry as well as a unique Certification in Aging Ministries, designed for those working with senior adults in a congregational setting.

Falls School of Business

MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (M.B.A.) — PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM

Designed for the working professional, this program is fully accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) and is offered in Anderson and at locations in the Indianapolis area. Students are part of a cohort that normally meets one night a week. The program can be completed in less than two years.

MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (M.B.A.) — RESIDENTIAL PROGRAM

Designed for individuals who desire graduate-level studies in a Christian environment immediately following completion of their undergraduate program. The program is experiential in nature, utilizes an intense living-learning approach, and can be completed in 10 months.

DOCTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (D.B.A.)

This 60-hour program (45 hours of coursework plus 15 hours of dissertation) is designed for people who are currently serving or desire to serve as faculty members at higher education institutions and whose primary emphasis is on teaching. The student will do in-depth study in four primary areas: teaching pedagogy, values/faith integration, research methodology, and a specific business major or discipline. The program is designed to allow people currently teaching full time to complete the program requirements in a minimum of four years while continuing to work full time.

School of Music, Theatre, and Dance

MASTER OF MUSIC EDUCATION

This 32-hour degree program is designed for the practicing music educator who has one or more years of experience as a music teacher. The degree program can be completed mostly in summer sessions (six weeks of coursework each summer), though a limited number of evening classes during the academic year may be required. Separate tracks of study are available for instrumental, choral, and general music specialists. Students may also pursue three levels of Orff Schulwerk Certification as part of this degree program. The M.M.E. program is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music.

School of Nursing

Building on the tradition of excellence of the School of Nursing's baccalaureate program, the Master of Science in Nursing programs offer advanced education in the nursing profession. The School of Nursing offers four tracks to meet the needs of individuals desiring to expand their career opportunities. All courses are taught by faculty in their respective disciplines. The MSN program is fully accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). All nursing courses meet the curriculum requirements established by the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN). The program descriptions are as follows:

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (MSN) — NURSING EDUCATION TRACK

The MSN with a focus in nursing education is an innovative program that offers advanced nursing practice knowledge in the areas of teaching, curriculum development, assessment, and evaluation of learning outcomes while providing the opportunity for personal and career growth. Master's-prepared students will be equipped with the tools needed to create and manage effective learning environments, utilize theories of nursing and education to provide student acquisition of knowledge, and evaluate clinical performance. The education track is 42 credit hours of study that can be completed in as few as 26 months. Graduates will be eligible for National League of Nursing (NLN) Certification for Nurse Educators (CNE) exam once work requirements are met.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (MSN) — NURSING ADMINISTRATION TRACK

The MSN with a focus in nursing administration offers advanced nursing practice knowledge, skills, and abilities to be effective nurse administrators while providing the opportunity for personal and career growth. Students will be equipped with the tools needed by nurse administrators to lead and direct departments and programs in health-care organizations. Opportunities for the exploration of international health-care organizations, policy development, and project management are integral components of the curriculum. This 37-credit-hour program can be completed in as few as 26 months. Graduates will be eligible for American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) certification as a Nurse Executive (NE-BC) once work requirements are met.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (MSN) — MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (MBA)

Expanding on the nursing administration track of the master's program, the dual degree program leads to two full degrees — the MSN and MBA degree simultaneously — in a shorter period of time than pursuing each degree independently. The curriculum offers advanced business knowledge, providing students with tools needed to lead and direct complex health-care organizations with multiple departments and disciplines. In addition to learning fiscal and human resource management, students will develop a working knowledge of strategic and competitive business planning toward building and continually improving health-care organizations for the 21st century. This 55-credit-hour program can be completed in as few as 36 months. Graduates will be eligible for American Nurses Credentialing (ANCC) certification as a Nurse Executive (NE-BC) once work requirements are met.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (MSN) — INFORMATICS TRACK

The Master of Science in Nursing with a focus in nursing informatics integrates nursing science, computer science, and information science. This innovative program prepares advanced-practice nurses with knowledge, skills, and abilities to manage and communicate data through the use of information structure, information processes, and information technology. Students will be equipped with the tools to design and implement programs for patient and other health-care providers. This 35-credit-hour program can be completed in as few as 24 months. Graduates will be eligible for the American Nurse Credentialing Center (ANCC) certification as Informatics Nursing (RN-BC) once work requirements are met.
