

Option 1: Direct Payment in Full to Anderson University

In June, Student Financial Services will issue the first student billing for Semester I. It will show the amount due after subtracting financial aid from tuition, room, board, and other charges. You can determine this amount now by completing the worksheet on the reverse side. This amount must be paid by July 25. Electronic payment through your checking, savings, or credit card account is available on the Web at nbspayments.com/signin/4L1GR. Service fees are added for electronic payments by credit card.

Option 2: Enroll in a Payment Plan with Nelnet Campus Commerce

Anderson University has made arrangements through Nelnet Campus Commerce to provide an interest-free monthly payment plan. You may enroll online at mycollegepaymentplan.com/anderson or by calling Nelnet Campus Commerce directly at (800) 609-8056. Nelnet Campus Commerce will forward your payment to Anderson University.

Option 3: Additional Financing Options

You may choose to finance some, or all, of the amount due Anderson University over a longer period of time, especially if the amount due under Option 1 or Option 2 is more than you have budgeted.

Federal Direct PLUS Loan

Credit-worthy parents of dependent students are eligible to borrow funds equal to the cost of education less other financial aid. When determining the amount to borrow please take into account the 4.276 percent loan origination fees that will be deducted. The interest rate is 6.31 percent fixed. The loan is repaid over a 10-year period with payments beginning after the loan has been disbursed, although a deferment while your son or daughter is in college is available upon request by calling the loan servicer.

We would encourage you to consider combining a PLUS loan with a payment plan rather than borrowing the total amount due. This will reduce the amount you borrow while staying within your family budget.

Private Educational Loans

*Credit-based, non-federal loan offered by banks and other lenders

*Usually limited to your educational costs minus financial aid

*Deferral of principle and usually interest while attending school at least half-time. Interest not paid while in school is added (capitalized) to your loan balance

*Variable interest rate and fees based on your credit and that of a co-borrower, if applicable

*Because approval is based on credit, most students will need a credit-worthy co-borrower

*Repayment terms and options, including co-signer release, vary by lender

Purchasing Books and Supplies

You should be prepared to purchase your books and supplies when you arrive on campus using either a personal check or credit card. The estimated average cost of books and supplies per semester is $600. You may charge to your student account the cost of your books and supplies purchased at the university bookstore during the first two weeks of school. Contact the AU Bookstore at bookstore@anderson.edu or (765) 641-4149 for details and rental options.

Now that you have received your financial aid award, you need to know how much you owe and when you owe it. The following worksheet is intended to assist you in determining the amount you will owe Anderson University for the year. On the reverse side you will find information on payment arrangement options. As you have questions, please contact the Office of Student Accounts so that we can assist you.

Step 1: Accept or Decline Financial Aid

*Review the enclosed Financial Aid Award Notification letter. We assume you will accept your scholarships and grants.

*Please Decline or Reduce the amount of your Federal Direct Subsidized and/or Unsubsidized Student loan (s) online at anderson.edu/finaid/loans/form. Anderson University assumes you will accept the loan amounts you were offered for any Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loans unless you indicate otherwise on the request form.

Step 2: Calculate Financial Aid for the Year

Calculate the financial aid you plan to accept. Most of your aid will be applied directly to your student account in payment of your charges. Please note the following exceptions:

*Federal Work Study: Do not include your eligibility for employment. If you work on campus, you will be paid directly. The money you earn will not be credited to your student account. You will be able to use your work-study earnings to assist in making the required payment but not in determining the amount you will owe for the school year.

*Federal Direct Loan: The lender will deduct a fee of 1.069 percent of the amount you borrow. The amount you borrow minus this fee is the amount received by the university and should be listed on this form.

Step 3: Calculate Changes for the Year

*Tuition: Full-time tuition (12-18 hours) is $14,605 per semester; $29,210 for the year. Part-time tuition (1-11 hours) is $1,218 per hour.

*Room: The student room rate is $3,060 per semester; $6,120 for the year. Single and private rooms are charged a higher rate.

*Board: The standard meal plan is $1,810 per semester; $3,620 for the year. Additional plans are available.

*Books: Include the cost of books, estimated at $600 per semester, if you plan to purchase them at the university bookstore and charge them to your student account.

*Other: List here any remaining fees, such as private music, student teaching, or other fees. Student services fee, charged to all students, is $250 per semester, $500 per year.

Step 4: Calculate How Much You Will Owe

*Estimate charges for the year (see Step 3).

*Subtract financial aid for the year (see Step 2).

*Total amount due for the year
